

MEXICAN BANKS ASK FOR MEDIATION

WETS, ANTI-KLAN WIN IN PRIMARIES

TWO UNDER SURVEILLANCE IN PROBE OF HALL-MILLS MURDER

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 4.—Two men have been put under surveillance, subject to arrest upon suspicion and six secret subpoenas have been issued against persons in Jersey City in connection with Prosecutor Simpson's investigation of the Hall-Mills murder.

The subpoenas have been given to Detective Chief Hayes and ordered held in readiness for service should the persons named attempt to leave the jurisdiction.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Simpson believed that his evidence is good. Dr. E. I. Cronk, Jersey City physician was brought to New Brunswick to make a record of his reported conclusions that the murdered bodies of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were placed on the ground after they had been taken from a car where they were killed.

The state believes that the torn love letters, found scattered near the bodies may have been placed there by persons who had taken them from the Hall home.

NEW TAX REDUCTIONS FORECAST BY TREASURY

Reduction Of National Debt Will Make Tax Cuts Possible, Probably Before Presidential Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—New tax reductions, possibly before the presidential election of 1928 and at the latest by 1930, were forecast today by treasury experts as statistics were made public showing the national debt has been reduced to $19,612,527,572.28.

PARTIAL RETURNS SHOW KANSAS VOTED AGAIN FOR WILLIAMS

Oklahoma Giving Lead To Klan Candidates

Incomplete returns from primary elections in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma today pointed to at least a "modified wet" victory in the Missouri senatorial contests defeat of what little Ku Klux Klan influence there was in the Kansas primary and victory for Klan candidates in Oklahoma.

Nomination of Senator George S. Williams, Republican and Rep. Harry B. Wells, in the Missouri senate race over their dry opponents was apparent in view of their leads of approximately 50,000. Williams, incumbent, has stated he is personally opposed to the 18th amendment but favors its enforcement so long as it is a law.

Hawes has taken his stand supporting the 18th amendment. Senator Curtis, Republican has been re-nominated in Kansas, returns indicate and in the state contest, those candidates opposed by Klan elements were leading.

Partial returns in Oklahoma showed Senator J. C. Harrell, Republican incumbent safely re-nominated while in the Democratic contest, J. C. Walton, deposed governor and Klan foe, was trailing 8,000 votes behind Elmer Thomas. In the Democratic gubernatorial race, Henry S. Johnston, reputed Klan candidate was leading the field by nearly 10,000 votes.

"Deb" Leader in New Rome

Every day brings new evidence of the revival of interest in social life in Rome. Hostesses and debutantes are flourishing. Herewith is presented the loveliest of the recent Roman "debs," Donna Mimi Deth. Quite aside from being pictorially charming, she is an enthusiastic sportsman.

OPPOSE RELIGIOUS LAW AS THREATENED WITHDRAWALS COME

Petroleum Companies Will Also Help Mediation

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—Anticipating heavy bank withdrawals by religious bodies, Mexican bankers have called on Secretary of Finance Alberto J. Pano, to mediate in the religious issue.

The United Press understands from a usually reliable source that bank withdrawals yesterday stood at about 17,000,000 pesos. Bankers admitted heavy withdrawals and buying of New York drafts, but did not state the amounts. However, it is known that efforts were being made to prevent a financial crisis.

There are three points in the mediation project which the Mexican Episcopate would be willing to accept if an accord were reached in the present negotiations of the bankers, they are:

- 1—Suspension of the application of the present religious laws.
- 2—Re-entry to churches by the Episcopate.
- 3—A national plebiscite on the question at the end of the year.

No agreement has yet been reached but conferences will continue.

The United Press learned that officials of Petroleum companies here are willing to aid in mediation efforts.

Augustin Le Gorrette, chairman of the board of directors of Mexico's National Bank heads the bankers committee. Well informed persons here said results might be obtained from the mediation effort before the week end.

Meanwhile Pasqual Diaz, bishop of Toluca, categorically denied reports circulated in the United States that mediation proposals have been made by the Church to the government.

He said no proposals would be made until the suspension of the new religious laws and that proposals other than those which might possibly be made by diplomats must come from the government after suspension or reform of the laws.

He admitted, however, that he had mentioned these points in informal conversations with Attorney General Ortega.

The members of the church, he said were law abiding citizens and not rebels as the government had declared.

He again denied that the church had interfered in politics and said it was only guarding the consequences of its people and the rights of religious freedom.

PLEASANT WEATHER GREET'S OPENING OF ANNUAL FAIR HERE

Entries Exceed Past As Exposition Gets Under Way

Clear skies and a warm, smiling sun greeted the opening of the eighty-seventh annual Greene County Fair Wednesday morning with indications pointing to one of the most successful fairs in years.

Secretary J. Robert Bryson announces entries in the various departments have equalled and in some cases exceeded other years and the fair management is making arrangements to care for the expected largest attendance in the history of the yearly event.

Impatient fair-goers wandered over the grounds Tuesday watching final preparations being made at the different halls, booths and exhibits for the grand opening Wednesday.

Xenia took on a festival appearance Wednesday morning and the very atmosphere was permeated with the fair appeal.

The livestock and poultry judging was begun Wednesday and this opened with all the barnyard pomp and ceremony of previous years.

The entire city gave evidence of the holiday and fair lovers set themselves for three days of all manner of entertainment and sight-seeing.

All roads led to the Xenia Fairgrounds and streets and roads began to clog with traffic early in the morning.

HARRY S. DAY WILL BE HERE THURSDAY

Harry S. Day, Fremont, state treasurer, and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primary, will visit Greene County Thursday in the interests of his campaign, it is announced.

Mr. Day will spend the entire day in the county conferring with Republican leaders and will probably visit the Greene County Fair. He will make a tour of the county.

The present state treasurer is waging an active campaign and has met thousands of voters in his tour of the state.

RE-APPRAISAL NEARS COMPLETION HERE

Xenia's general re-appraisal of real estate in the business and residential districts is gradually looking toward completion, according to an announcement from the County Auditor's office.

Two districts have already completed field work of placing revaluations on property and are now engaged in reviewing their work.

These districts are in the southeast part of the fourth ward and the southern portion of the second ward. The district in the fourth ward was the first to finish. Appraisal in every other district is also rapidly nearing an end.

CHILD IS LUCKY
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—Juanita Hughes, aged two, fell from the second story of her home when she rolled from her bed and onto an open door. Neighbors took her to a hospital but doctors could not find a bruise on her.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY WITH G. C. A.

"Real estate in Xenia is all right if you use Classified Advertising in the Gazette as a medium for informing prospects," says S. Engelman, of W. Main St. Mr. Engelman recently sold six houses and attributes every sale to Gazette Classified Advertising.

You may obtain the same results by listing your property with the Gazette. Phone an ad now to 1-11.

Dubonnet's Beautiful Wives

Mrs. Jean Nash, prominent in society in two continents, was reported about to wed Paul Dubonnet. Meanwhile, Mme. Dubonnet was reported engaged to Harry Hays Morgan, brother of Reggy Vanderbilt and Lady Furness.

FESS CRITICIZES FRANCE FOR FAVORING DEBT CANCELLATION

Senator Says Economic Problems Will Force France To Pay Up—Addresses Republican Veterans In Dayton

Attitude of France in leaning toward a cancellation of its debt to the United States was severely criticized by United States Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, in an address at the annual indoor picnic of the Veterans' Republican Club in Dayton Tuesday night.

"France," asserted the senator, "is the most disappointing of any country in Europe in regard to its debts to this country." He continued:

"France had the most to gain by the intervention of America in the World War and now it is leaning toward a cancellation of its debts to this country. But despite the agitations of its politicians, I believe France will make an adjustment of its financial obligations, because it will be forced to do so by the economic problems arising from its failure to pay."

Senator Fess also expressed resentment over European suggestions that the United States transform its loans to those countries to gifts.

"Whether we were in the war a long time or a short time, the fact remains that the United States won the war, and we only ask Europe to pay."

BACK BROKEN BUT WALKS WITH CANE

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 4.—Edward Douglas Howard, of Chicago, junior at Williams College, hobbled about with a cane for more than a week before physicians here learned that he had a broken back. He was strapped to a specially made apparatus and taken to his father's summer home at Chautauqua to recuperate. Physicians today said he would be able to play football in the fall of 1927.

Howard was injured more than a month ago when he dived into a shallow end of a pool at Williams and his head struck the bottom.

A short time later when he leaped from a third story window of the infirmary. He recovered sufficiently to come to Buffalo alone, where an X-ray examination revealed the broken vertebrae.

WEST VIRGINIAN KILLED

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Willis R. Strother, 32 years old, was crushed to death today when a delivery truck he was driving ran over his uncle, Jesse F. Strother, merchant, skidded and rolled 400 feet down an embankment. A widow and three small children survive.

ROTARIANS LISTEN TO TROY JURIST

Young people as an important factor in the correct solution of the social problem, was the subject of Judge L. E. St. John, Troy, O., Miami Co. Juvenile Court who addressed Xenia Rotary Club, Tuesday.

Judge St. John was the principal speaker at the meeting at the Elks' Lodge. He discussed social problems in general and brought out many interesting sidelights gained from his court work.

CORN BORER HITS MANY OHIO COUNTIES

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4.—Thirty-one Ohio counties including 350 townships are infested with the European corn borer according to reports to the Ohio department of agriculture today.

The corn borer first appeared in Ohio in 1921 since then the pest has spread westward toward the Indiana line.

Farmers were urged to combat the corn borer by disposing of the corn fodder in the fall, winter or early spring.

KILLED BY WIFE

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 4.—William Shaffer, 30, farmer was shot to death at his home near West Union yesterday by his wife after he had chastized their daughter for her failure to keep a cow out of the oats field. Mrs. Shaffer was freed after an inquest.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS GATHER AT OXFORD FOR MEETING; EVOLUTION MAY BE DISCUSSED

OXFORD, Eng., Aug. 4.—More than 3,500 delegates, representing every shade of thought in science, gathered here today for the opening session of the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Three hundred papers, ranging in subject from the addresses on "The Effect on African Native Races of Contact with European Civilization" to "The Determination of Sex in Plants" will be presented by members before the final session next Wednesday.

The British Association is undoubtedly the greatest scientific forum and its meetings have long been battle grounds where the blood of conflicting scientific thought is spilled.

At the last meeting of the Association held here in 1894, the Marquis of Salisbury, then president of the association, engaged in the famous controversy with Huxley over the Darwinian theory and again brought the subject to world wide attention. Previously in 1860, at the meeting here, Wilberforce and Hooker became engaged in a violent controversy on the same subject.

BOOTLEGGERS BLAMED FOR MURDER OF EVANGELIST AND WOMAN CHURCH GOER

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 4.—The murder of an evangelist as he preached in his pulpit and a woman member of his congregation was blamed today on bootleggers against whom the preacher had been crusading.

The killings occurred Monday night in a temporary church near here where the Rev. L. Moss of Pittsburgh was holding revival services. The assassins fired through the open window and Moss fell dead from the rostrum. Another bullet hit Mrs. Jerome Robinson, wife of a farmer who was seated in the front row of the choir. She died within an hour.

When the shooting started a panic ensued and no one could tell how many shots were fired.

Cliff Wilson, who lives near the town was being held for questioning today. He denied any connection with the shooting but a 14-year-old girl said she saw him fire through the window and run.

LEAGUE CALLED IN PROBE OF PRIMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The Illinois Anti-Saloon League was called upon by Chairman James A. Reed, of the senate primary investigation committee today to explain its activities in the state's $1,000,000 primary.

A subpoena immediately returnable was issued for Dr. George S. Safford, Monmouth, Ill., state superintendent of the league.

As the league had endorsed both Frank Smith, successful candidate and Senator McKinley, unsuccessful candidate for the re-nomination and made no stiff fight against George Brennan, wet, who received the Democratic senatorial nomination, the committee showed no expectations that any unusual activity might be discerned.

With that evidence and clearance of a few stray but important angles of the primary, Reed intends to close his inquiry Thursday or Friday and adjourn indefinitely.

YELLOW SPRINGS RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Margaret Sizor, 79, passed away at her home in Yellow Springs, Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock. Death was caused by an attack of acute indigestion Mrs. Sizor had been ill a week or ten days.

Her husband preceded her in death twenty-five years. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Jinney, Yellow Springs and Mrs. Robert Oakline, Urbana, Ill., and one brother, Howard Appleton, Yellow Springs.

Funeral services will be held Friday, the hour not being decided on as yet.

HONEYMOON ENDS IN DOUBLE DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Fifty days after they were married, Frederick M. Wells, 65 years old, manufacturer, and his wife, Ida Fletcher Clark Wells, 60, died together six hours apart in a hotel at Atlantic City.

They went to Atlantic City on their honeymoon, and soon after their arrival Mrs. Wells was stricken with heart disease. Later Mr. Wells became ill. It was believed Mrs. Wells had recovered, and plans had been made to move to her home, pending recovery of her husband.

Following a sudden attack today, she died. Her husband died six hours later without knowing of his wife's death.

YOUNG GIRL TRIES SUICIDE IN PARK

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A 14-year-old girl was found unconscious in a Chicago park early today suffering from self-inflicted gun wounds in the abdomen. At a hospital where it was thought she would die, she was revived sufficiently to give her name as "Arline Smith, Chicago."

A note reading: "I am tired of living with such a mother," was found in her purse.

“UNCLE BILLY” CONNER CONTRIBUTED MUCH TO TRADITIONS OF BELLBROOK

(Oliver Watson, Bellbrook, correspondent for this paper, has written several articles about interesting Bellbrook characters of the past. Following is his latest article, which reviews the history of “Uncle Billy” Conner.—Ed.)

By OLIVER WATSON

The subject of our sketch was a native of the “Blue Hen” State, having been born on the banks of the noble river (Delaware) which bears its name (Delaware) which according to the best information obtainable, he was ushered in upon the stage of action on January 1, 1799. Little, however, is known of his early life. Certificates found among his effects disclosed the fact that he followed the calling of a schoolmaster for at least one decade. During his incumbency, it would be safe to assume that he did not “spare the rod and ruin the child.”

That in which our readers probably will be most interested (and the facts of which the writer is in possession with “day and date”) would undoubtedly be the alternate periods of sunshine and advent into the “Buckeye” State. Among the most highly respectable, he was denominated “Uncle Billy” Conner. Those who had lost a percentage of their respectability referred to him as “Old Billy Conner,” and the hoodlums without exception called him “Sockem.”

The first occupation followed by our subject was his entry into the huckster business which he followed without intermission for more than forty years, during which time thousands of turkeys, chickens, geese and ducks together with countless dozens of eggs and pounds of butter were transported by him weekly to Cincinnati. His home was known to all the young folks of the neighborhood as a social center. Once a week they met there and helped “Uncle Billy” to prepare his weekly cargo for the market and then “chase the glowing hours with flying feet.”

The ex-school master was a curious compound of good and evil, the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde predominating in their respective turns, causing his demeanor at times to be serene and sunny and at other times loud and turbulent.

Religiously inclined in theory, he fell far short of the mark in practice. The Bible injunction not to swear was soon forgotten when once his path was crossed, and vent to his aroused feeling predominated to such an extent as to almost cause the sky to turn green. In the discharge of profanity, he was second to none, not even to Huck Finn’s father who “cussed everybody he knew and everybody he didn’t know, cussed them separately and cussed them all over again for fear he had missed some, and in conclusion polished off with a general cuss all around.”

When his better nature prevailed and all God’s creation seemed near and dear to him, he could be found on Sunday morning in the first pew of the local M. P. Church of which he was a member. One of his hobbies when in attendance at religious services was to correct the minister when the “man of God” was noticed by him to have made a miscue in a quotation of “Holy writ.” These intervals of spiritual awakening however, were short compared to the ones under which he was bound by satanic influence. His longest companionship with the “evil one” occurred during a local reconstruction period at which time a section of Bellbrook and Waynesville road which ran on the west and south of his dwelling was abandoned and a new stretch of road which cut through the east side of his place was constructed.

Although the ground on which the new improvement was built consisted of only a small parcel of land, it was, nevertheless, a pretext for an uprising in which men’s “hearts were cut out and hung on fence-stakes to dry” by the thoroughly enraged and unjustly treated property owner. Matters, however, were finally adjusted between the parties concerned, and Uncle Billy again turned back to the pursuits of peace and happiness.

Possessed with a wonderful memory he could at the same time count eggs, quote scripture and give glowing accounts of the glories of the eastern coast of Delaware without missing a count, breaking an egg, or dropping a sentence. Thoroughly superstitious, he believed in all the practices of the craft that had been in use since the days of Salem witchcraft and for hours at a time could recite hair-raising tales of his encounters with headless hogs, legless rabbits and featherless birds that beset his path and how he would become entangled in great masses of pumpkin vines that made their appearance at night, and grew in profusion between the two bridges south of town, but always vanished at day-break.

Throughout life his system was filled with premonitions of coming evil. His deluded mind caused him to see balls of fire and the forms of departed spirits hovering near him, all of which convinced him that the grim reaper was about to gather his harvest. An attribute of his nature was the high opinion he entertained of the great physical structure with which the Creator in His manifold wisdom had endowed him. This mistaken idea of his manhood often led him into fast company, and those whose inclinations were somewhat bent toward the manly art and had become more or less proficient in the profession, found him “easy pickin’.”

Two incidents, in each of which he came out second best, are here related. Once while standing on market in Dayton, he beheld two policemen in a fierce encounter with a colored man whom they were trying to arrest for a robbery which he was suspected of having committed on W. Third St. Our future hero felt that the opportune moment had arrived for him to make history by proving his contention that he was the “best little man” in Southern Ohio.

With his entire being overflowing with confidence, and visions of big lettered headlines in the morning papers announcing that William Conner had subdued and successfully handcuffed a colored miscreant of the most dangerous type after the police force had been shattered, sundered and sent to the hospital, our subject rushed to the scene and in a loud voice shouted: “Stand back blue cloth and brass buttons! and let me take him.” Then his stock fell to the zero point. The negro hit Billy and Billy hit the rough cobblestones on North Market Street.

The other demonstration of his manhood was exhibited at Jacob Haynes’ grocery in Bellbrook when an encounter took place between himself and a man by the name of David Stephens. Mr. Stephens, who was somewhat addicted to the use of the stuff that made Milwaukee famous and put Kentucky on the map, had that day been indulging slightly in the beverage, and being naturally of a jovial disposition with an inclination toward jests, and his mind more or less brightened through repeated indulgence, thought it fitting to poke a little fun at his old friend.

Joke after joke at Uncle Billy’s expense followed until the “straw that broke the camel’s back” was laid on. The climax in the drama was reached when the tormentor pointed at his victim and exclaimed: “Do any of you gentlemen think that ‘it’ ever taught school in Delaware?” Laying hold on a wooden stove-poker, and making use of the customary language on such occasions, our subject dealt the jester a “dirty” blow across the head. Grabbing the poker’s wielder by the throat, but conscious that he himself had been the aggressor, he turned to Mr. Haynes and asked: “Shall I hit him?” “No! No!” replied Mr. Haynes in his mild considerate way, “Don’t strike him.”

Escaping the wrath of the man he had struck, he left the place, crossed the street and anchored his forces in the store of William Hopkins where a number of first settlers were busy cutting the nail kegs from under them. Stretching up to full height and expanding his chest to the limit, and with more dignity than was incorporated in Pompey’s famous dispatch to the senate after he had “plunked up the rebellion by the roots,” exclaimed: “I just now whipped the best man in Sugarcreek Township.”

Probably the most interesting part of “Uncle Billy’s” history was the political faith to which he adhered with unflinching fidelity from James Monroe to Grover Cleveland. His declaration never to vote for a Shoulder Scrapper (a General) was soon forgotten when General U. S. Hancock was nominated for president at Cincinnati in 1880, his Democracy predominating over his resolution by a big majority. The thorn in the flesh was the amendment to the constitution giving the negro equal suffrage.

being thoroughly anti-abolitionist, he was dumbfounded and distracted when it dawned on him that he had unwittingly voted for an ex-slave who had been placed on the Democratic ticket solely for the purpose of capturing the colored vote. The torrent of red hot blasphemy which flowed uninterrupted from his mouth when he was convinced of the blunder, can be easily understood by those who knew him personally, and well imagined by those who knew him by reputation. His motto to put none but Democrats on the ticket was fittingly demonstrated at a Democratic township convention, when he arose from his seat among the delegates and hotly protested against placing on the ticket the name of a highly respected Republican who had been placed in nomination for the office of township treasurer. His contention, “We’ve got enough good timber on our own woods without going over to the brambles of the black abolitionists for a candidate” was of no avail, and a majority in the convention supported the Republican, who, at the ensuing election proved a winning candidate.

Like the Meades and Persians, he never changed in his principles, and stood unflinchingly by his guns through twenty-four years of defeat. The old saying, “The prize lies at the end of the race,” seemed moulded to fit his case exactly. His race was almost run, and there was victory in the air. On the first Tuesday after the election of the telephones and cannons throughout the country proclaimed the election of Grover Cleveland, the first successful democratic candidate since the election of James Buchanan in 1846.

“Uncle Billy’s” joy knew no bounds. He had at last been rewarded for his fidelity. During the jollification which followed, and the triumphant hosts of Democracy were marching up Main Street bearing torches amid a glare of red lights, skyrockets, Roman candles and the sound of exploding anvils, “Uncle Billy” stood on the speaker’s stand and frantically waved a copy of the Cincinnati Enquirer, on the first page of which was displayed a large rooster perched on the dome of the National Capitol.

It is said that he wept for joy when the Bobtown delegation passed the reviewing stand in a boat bearing the political remains of the “Plumed Knight” (James G. Blaine) up Salt River. For those who knew him, it is useless to state that the Cincinnati Enquirer was his Bible. By it, he lived, moved and had his being, drinking in all its sayings without a grain of salt as unreservedly as the most protent Christian would accept the teachings of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

A few lines in conclusion will demonstrate the love he harbored in his heart for his favorite newspaper. On a summer evening while standing on the street corner talking to some friends who were being canvassed to purchase a few pecks of grindstone apples which had just been transferred from his orchard to the village, a cry arose that “Billy Conner’s home was on fire. Forgetting the apples and all else, but his “Democratic Bible,” he rushed across the street where his friend, Squire Henry H. Hale was conducting the postoffice, and cried at the top of his voice, “Hen! Give me my Enquirer! They say my house is on fire!”

REAL ESTATE

John H. Dunn to Louise Dunn, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Jesse S. Jensen to Carrie D. Bagford and Clarence E. Bagford, property in Spring Valley Twp. $1.

Eldon Webster Wilkinson to W. L. Coyle, property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Salvion E. Williams and El-ancre Williams to Harry Gibert, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Harlan W. Badgley to Lena Badgley property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Frank Lucas to George L. Mettrey and Edna Mettrey city property, $1.00.

A. D. Kendig to Mearl Koogler, property in Beavercreek Twp. $1.

The Osborn Removal Co., to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Fairfield, Ohio, property in Fairfield village. $1.00.

George F. Wellett and Angela Wellett to C. L. Armstrong, property in Osborn Village. $1.00.

Charles E. Russell to Ollie M. Livingston, property in Sugarcreek Twp. $1.00.

The W. S. Davis Oil Co., to Geo. Grotendick, city property. $1.00.

Charles E. Hughes, Marion C. Hughes, Raper J. Hughes, F. W. Hughes, John H. Hughes, Minnie Hughes Ball, Elsie Hughes Paxson, Daisy Sutton, Alton Dunevant, Ernest Dunevant, Mabel Schneider to Fred A. Johnston, property in Yellow Springs Village. $1.00.

The Miami Conservancy District to Joseph W. Shortis, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Oscar L. Smith and Blanche E. Smith to W. L. Miller, property in Cedarville Village. $1.00.

Fannie K. Allen to Charles E. Harnish, property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Sister L. Turner and Arthur O. Turner to Paul J. Boyd, property in Xenia Twp. $1.00.

Jacob Diehl and Louisa Diehl to Phillip Diehl and Anna M. Diehl, property in Yellow Springs Village. $1.00.

POSTAL BUSINESS INCREASES IN JULY

Business at the Xenia Post office was on an upward trend during the month of July and a notable increase is reported over the corresponding month in 1925, according to the monthly financial statement prepared by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Postal receipts during July, 1926, amounted to $3,570.58 in comparison with receipts a year ago in July totalling $3,326.93, the report shows. This represents an increase of $243.65.

There You Are!

Dayton Thorobreds

Dayton Thorobred Balloons

FOR TIRE SATISFACTION

XENIA AUTO NECESSITY CO.

“Tom and Dick—The Tire Boys”

BOARD WILL DECIDE ANNUAL BUDGET AND SALE OF OLD SCHOOL

A number of important matters are expected to come to the attention of the City Board of Education at its regular meeting Thursday night.

Of paramount importance is the 1926 budget for operation of the city school system next year. The annual budget has been tentatively prepared by Lewis Clark, clerk of the board and will probably be submitted for approval Thursday night.

It will ultimately be submitted to the County Budget Commission for approval or rejection in its entirety or any modifications or cuts that are deemed necessary. Other business to come before the board includes the question of disposal of the abandoned Central High School building on E. Market St. There were no bidders at the public auction a week ago and the clerk will probably be instructed to re-advertise the structure for sale, under a slightly different method, to allow any successful bidder an extended length of time in which to wreck it.

If no bidders appear on the second date set for sale of the school house, the board may legally dispose of it at private sale.

CLIFTON

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Harris, Mr. Mac Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swaby, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swaby, Doris Swaby and Miss Coe composed a party which left Thursday by automobile for Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., to be gone two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Coe, of Yellow Springs, are staying at the home of Mr. A. E. Swaby in their absence on an Eastern trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Clark left Monday for their home in Pittsburgh, after spending a week here with relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. E. G. McKibben and family, of Rushville, Indiana, spent several days last week as guests of Miss Florence White, en route to their new field of work at Bergholz, Ohio.

Mr. John Young died very suddenly at his home, at the old

Whiteman place, last Wednesday. Burial was made in Clifton Cemetery.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert N. Coleman, Jr., of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corry this week.

The United Presbyterian Church will hold its annual picnic on the church lawn, with a noon dinner, Wednesday, Aug. 4th.

Rev. Paul Ferguson, of Peebles, Ohio, who is visiting his father, will occupy the United Presbyterian pulpit next Sabbath, August 8th.

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Ritchie, of Pittsburgh, Pa., former U. P. pastor here, worshipped with his old congregation last Sabbath.

Mrs. Amanda Botkin died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dolwick, on Water St. She had made her home in Clifton at different times for a number of years. Funeral was from the M. E. Church of Clifton, Tuesday afternoon. Burial at Donnelsville.

Miss Alice McKibben is spending some time as the guest of Miss Florence White.

A picnic, honoring Mrs. R. N. Colman was given at Prestons Grove on Tuesday.

Change of time has been made in the 115th anniversary celebration of the Presbyterian Church, which was announced for the 13th of August.

The dinner and social celebration will be held instead, on Friday Aug. 20th. Great honor is conferred on this church, which is 115 years old, by the consent of Dr. W. O. Thompson, moderator of the General Assembly of 1926, to be with them, and preach the sermon at the Home Coming Communion on August 22nd. It is hoped that all friends and former communicants of the church may be present on this occasion.

On The Air From Cincinnati

Station WSAI:

6—Taylor University, Upland, Ind., ladies’ quartet.

6:45—Robert Badgely—chime concert.

7—U. S. Army Band, Washington, concert.

7:30—New York Sax octet.

8—New York Troubadours.

8:30—Eastern Time announcement.

10-12—New York dance music.

Station WKRC:

6:35—Bedtime talks.

8—Book review, Miss L. Hommedien

8:15—Roehr’s orchestra.

9—String trio—Helen Keating and Helen Nugent.

12—Popular songs.

12:25—Orchestra.

Station WLW:

7—Visconti’s orchestra.

7:30—Farm Bureau address.

7:40—Gibson orchestra.

10—Latonia Melody Boys.

11—Elk Syncopators.

WHERE WERE ALL THE TRAFFIC COPS?

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 4.—Driving across five states without licenses on their automobiles was the experience of two young men, Cecil Croll, Perrysburg, O., and Roy Sauter, Bowling Green, who were brought into court here by a motor cop.

They had driven from Ellsworth, Kansas, to this city before they were halted by the law. After showing an application for a Kansas license, they were allowed to proceed.

Vote for JAMES O. MILLS for Lieutenant Governor

Primaries August 10th

The Name and Sign of Greater Public Service

MILLS

Remember the Sign! Remember the Name!

RESTAURANTS

CLEVELAND COLUMBUS CINCINNATI

for Economical Transportation

Another Chevrolet Achievement

New Low Prices

1-Ton Truck Reduced To $495

One-half Ton Truck Reduced To $375

(Chassis only) f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Engineered to meet the most severe requirements of commercial haulage, Chevrolet trucks have won world-wide acceptance on the basis of low first cost and slow depreciation. This spectacularly growing popularity has made necessary a greatly increased production—the economies of which are now passed on to buyers in the form of a drastic price reduction.

$55 Reduction on 1-Ton Truck

See These Trucks In Our Display At The Greene County Fair

LANG CHEVROLET CO

No idle water!

NO WATER LINE THE MAYTAG TUB CAN BE FILLED TO THE BRIM

THE ALUMINUM TUB CREATES AN UNUSUALLY TURBULENT WATER ACTION

THE scientific design of the Maytag cast-aluminum tub, together with the gyrator action, creates an unusually cleansing, more turbulent water condition in every inch of the tub all of the time. A water action that puts every drop of water—every bit of soap suds at work.

This more cleansing water action, found only in the Maytag, washes clothes clean in half the usual time—washes bigger tubfuls in but 3 to 7 minutes. Does a whole washing—50 pounds of clothes (dry weight) in one short hour. Washes everything without hand-rubbing—even collars, cuffs and wristbands.

The Maytag has no waterline. A few pieces are washed just as effectively in a paiful of water as a big tubful of clothes are washed with the tub filled to the brim with water.

Phone the nearest Maytag dealer! Use a Maytag in your own home without obligation or expense. Test it thoroughly. Compare it with other washers. If the Maytag doesn’t sell itself, don’t keep it.

Maytag Aluminum Washer

WHITE MAYTAG SALES

18 So. Detroit St., Xenia, O.

Phone 638

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette and Republican consider it a courtesy whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70.

GALLOWAY-BOWMAN

NUPTIALS TUESDAY

One of the outstanding weddings of the interesting nuptial season, was that of Miss Margaret K. Galloway, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Galloway to Mr. Wesley Ellsworth Bowman, which was solemnized at the Galloway residence, N. Galloway St., Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The vows were taken in the presence of eighty guests. The Galloway home was elaborately decked with Southern magnolia and summer bloom, with every hue of the rainbow tastefully employed. The "rainbow" idea was carried out in the pastel toned frocks of the bridal party and other appointments of the wedding.

Beginning of the service was marked with the playing of "O Promise Me" and "All For You" by Miss Marie Koehn, Dayton harpist, who brought out the full beauty of the harp tones in her renditions. Miss Koehn then played the wedding march from Lohengrin on the entrance of the bridal party and continued with soft strains during the service. She then blended into the Mendelssohn wedding march and continued to play during the reception.

The bridal procession was led by the two dainty ribbon stretchers, the Misses Rebecca Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Galloway, Cedarville, who wore a frock of light green and Eleanor Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hughes, Cedarville, in light yellow. They drew the streamers from the side of the altar to the center of the living room, forming an aisle for the remainder of the party.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. John Cameron, Wilmette, Ill., walked next. The matron of honor, Mrs. Marshall L. Barker, Hamilton, O., the bride's sister, walked alone. She wore a gown of blue georgette over shell pink and carried a Columbia roses. Her footwear was of light grey.

The little flower girl, Dorothy Rankin, daughter of Mrs. Herman W. Eavey, came next, with little Miss Dorothy Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Galloway, who acted as flower girl. Both little girls wore shell pink georgette. Little Miss Rankin carried the rings in a basket and the flower girl bore a dainty basket of variegated bloom.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white Grosgrain tulle, bouffant style, with tight bodice and full skirt. The bottom of the skirt was scalloped the tiny gathers being caught with orange blossoms. The model was finished with Chantilly lace.

Her cap veil, formed a graceful train. Her shower bouquet was formed of lilies of the valley, roses and orchids. The costume was completed with white satin slippers and a strand of pearls.

The double ring ceremony was followed by felicitations of the guests, and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman left Tuesday night on a short wedding trip and will then go to Evanston, Ill., to reside. Their address will be 2249 Ridge Ave., Evanston.

Mrs. Bowman's traveling costume was an ensemble of midnight blue, with a tulle frock, coat with squirrel collar, close fitting hat, and light tan slippers and other accessories.

Mr. Bowman is a commercial photographer in Chicago. Mrs. Bowman has been employed for the past year as secretary to Dr. Richards, pastor of a large Congregational Church with a community center, at Winnetka, Ill. near Chicago. She is a graduate of Central High School and of Denison University. She took a secretarial course in business university in Chicago and after completing the course, obtained the position she held until her marriage.

The wedding guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Galloway, parents of the bride. Mrs. Galloway wore an attractive model of black and white georgette.

FAMILY REUNION

AT COUNTRY HOME

Thirty-five relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths and son, Ray, of Mount Tabor, enjoyed a reunion at their home Sunday. Everyone enjoyed a bountiful dinner. Those who enjoyed the affair were:

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith and son, James, Waynesburg, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, and family; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Abbott and family, Pike County; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griffith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Griffith and family, Belfast, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Griffith and family, Seaman, O.; Mr. Walter Burba, near Port William, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith and family, Yellow Springs.

Miss Anna Slate and Miss Lillian Glossinger will go to Osborn, O. Wednesday to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Mr. Myron Lees, West Milton, whose foot was seriously crushed when he was injured in an automobile accident on W. Main St., last week is recovering at Peapack Hospital. The injured foot is healing, and doctors have decided not to amputate the member.

Mrs. T. E. Cummings, E. Second St., who has been seriously ill, is recuperating.

EAST END

Mrs. W. M. Browder died Monday evening. Services were held at the residence at 1013 E. Main St., Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. A. J. Wilson, S. Columbus St., has returned home after visiting relatives in Clinton County, near Wilmington, several days.

Mr. Harry Swigart, Trebbers, who was removed to the Soldiers' Home Hospital, Dayton, four weeks ago, with a fracture of the left leg, is in a critical condition, with little hope for his recovery.

WATER PAGEANT AT

KELLY POOL SOON

An aquatic fair tale will be enacted by the Springfield Y. W. C. A. swimming department next Wednesday at the E. S. Kelly pool near Yellow Springs. The pageant will be uniquely presented, the characters to include a king, princess, court attendants, jester, herald, fairy queen and other features.

The part of the young princess of the fairy kingdom will be taken by Mary Margaret Welsh, twelve-year-old Y. W. C. A. swimmer. The story concerns her grievous fear of the water and as the palace is located on the shore of a lake, this in an unhappy situation.

The king, enacted by Marion Becker, sends forth his proclamation to give half of all his kingdom to anyone who can teach his daughter to swim. Thereupon, come the famous swimming instructors of the land who demonstrate their ability in the water. However, they fail in their task and it becomes the privilege of the queen of the water sprites to wave her magic wand, which turns the princess into a beautiful swimmer.

There will be dancing together with swimming in the play, the princess and the water queen both being featured in solo dances, swimming and diving. The part of the water queen will be taken by Martha Timmerman. The court jester, with Marie Jean Best in the role, will add to the comic scenes. A string quartet will furnish music in parts of the program.

About thirty children and girls of the swimming department will take part. Bright-color costumes and balloons will add to the beautiful background of the Kelly pool. Tickets are being sold, proceeds to be used in the medal fund of the Springfield Y. W. C. A.

DINNER PARTY

TUESDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Mendenhall entertained six employees of the Eavey Co., who work with Mr. Mendenhall, at their new home on S. Whiteman St., Tuesday evening. A three course chicken dinner was served. Covers were laid for Messrs. Leon St. John, Frank Rightwell, James Hall, Paul Neff, Walter Watkins, Albert Sparks and Mr. Mendenhall.

XENIANS GUESTS

AT WILMINGTON PARTY

Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Ernest Schmidt and Miss Rose Bauerle, this city, were among the guests who enjoyed the delightful party entertained by Mrs. J. H. Kimbrough, Wilmington, at the Snowhill Country Club, Tuesday afternoon.

The party was given for the pleasure of Mrs. Kimbrough's sister Miss Ethel Walker, Cincinnati. Fourteen tables of bridge were in play. Miss Helen Denver was awarded high score prize.

The affair was handsomely appointed and the artistry of Mrs. Kimbrough was displayed in the decorations.

David, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hurley, Maple St., is confined at the City Hospital, Springfield, for several days, undergoing treatment for his foot, under the care of Dr. Link.

Miss Elizabeth Browning, North Kingman, Miss Marie Bayless, Wilmington and Mr. Len Wood, Port William, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Dumford, Stelton Road. Music and luncheon were enjoyed.

Miss Winifred Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cross, Hill St., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yeager, Columbus, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Abe Hyman and daughter, Miss Mildred, N. King St., who accompanied Dayton relatives on an automobile trip to Detroit, have returned home.

Mrs. Ida Hendrick, who was accidentally shot in the ankle when a bullet fired at a thief, went wild several days ago, is recovering from the shock of the accident, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Anderson, West Market St. The injured ankle is healing nicely.

Mrs. Lawrence Shields has invited a group of Xenia friends to accompany her to Cincinnati, to be the week end houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Dunham. The party will include Mrs. Shields, Miss Florence Chew, Miss Jane Ninde, Miss Mary Caroline Smith, Miss Helen Little, Miss Margaret Kelly, Mrs. Mary M. Meredith, Messrs. Fred Flynn, Henry Flynn, Horace Smith and George Shoup.

Carlton Schroeder, Chicago, arrived Tuesday for a visit with relatives. He will visit his uncle, Mr. Clarence Barnes and his aunt, Mrs. Clyde McCallister, near Cedarville.

Miss Grace Kiernan, W. Second St., attended the social affair given by Mrs. D. E. Young, at her home on Catalpa Drive, Dayton, when she entertained the Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Supper was served in the garden, when the engagement of Miss Grace Willis and Mr. Robert Drury Smith, was announced.

Mr. J. C. Williamson, N. Detroit St., left Monday for Pewaukee, Wis. to spend the remainder of the week on business.

Mrs. John Ary will entertain Xenia W. C. T. U. at her home on S. Monroe St., Friday afternoon, August 6 at 2 o'clock. Members are urged to attend this important meeting and bring their dues.

Dr. G. W. Kuhn has returned after attending several extracting clinics in Columbus and enjoying a few days vacation. He will be in his office Thursday.

"Eddy" Bell and Miss Muriel Ebling have gone to Hagerstown, Ind., to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Neal, Port William, entertained as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Emery and son, John; Mr. and Mrs. Walker Doener and children, Lewis, Robert, John and Louise, all of Dayton; Helen and Lewis Stafford, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Baker and son, Lakeland, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Andrew and daughters, Rose and Dorothy, this city, were entertained at six o'clock dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer and Mrs. Anna Boyd, W. Market St., Tuesday evening.

Calendar of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4:

Jr. O. U. A. M.
Ivanhoe Lodge, K. of P.
Church Prayer Meetings.
Greene County Fair.
THURSDAY, AUGUST 5:
Red Men.
P. of X. D. G. A.
Rebekahs.
Greene County Fair.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6:

Eagles.
Greene County Fair.
SUNDAY, AUGUST 8:
Virginia Reunion at G. C. Fairground.

MONDAY, AUGUST 9:

Xenia S. P. O.
D. of P.
Phi Delta Kappa
Red Men.
Mod. Wood.
I. O. O. F.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 10:

Obedient Council D. of A.
Xenia I. O. O. F.
Rotary.

COMPANY L MEMBERS WILL LEAVE AUGUST 11 FOR CAMP PERRY

Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, will take part in the annual summer field training period of the Seventy-fourth Infantry Brigade at Camp Perry, O., from August 11 to August 25, inclusive, it is announced by Captain Leroy V. John.

The company will entrain on the Pennsylvania line at 8:34 a. m. Wednesday, August 11.

Captain John has issued orders instructing every member of the local guard unit to report at the Armory on E. Main St. not later than 8 p. m. the evening prior to departure, Tuesday, August 10.

During this last meeting all field equipment will be issued to individuals, squad boxes will be packed and final preparations made to leave the following morning. Assembly will be held that evening at 8 p. m. and all members will be required to be present at this formation and remain at the Armory overnight as in previous years the captain announces.

Information with regard to the uniform to be worn enroute to the camp, equipment to be taken in squad boxes or carried in the individual pack will be issued under a memorandum from Captain John.

All members are reminded by the captain that no soldier is excused from attending camp except upon authority secured through the office of the commandant and then only upon rare and exceptional circumstances. The necessary disciplinary action will be taken against any member absent from formation Tuesday evening, August 10, the captain warns.

CANDIDATE FOR OHIO GOVERNOR IN XENIA

William Grant Webster, Athens, O., Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, visited Xenia Wednesday and called on political leaders here.

Mr. Webster is a Harvard graduate and was associated with the Chicago law office of the late Robert T. Lincoln before he organized the Cleveland Law School and became its president and dean.

Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general, Senator Mari Hanna, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick and others were associated with him on the advisory board of the school.

Mr. J. C. Williamson, N. Detroit St., left Monday for Pewaukee, Wis. to spend the remainder of the week on business.

Mrs. John Ary will entertain Xenia W. C. T. U. at her home on S. Monroe St., Friday afternoon, August 6 at 2 o'clock. Members are urged to attend this important meeting and bring their dues.

Dr. G. W. Kuhn has returned after attending several extracting clinics in Columbus and enjoying a few days vacation. He will be in his office Thursday.

Retiring from the school he returned to his home county of Athens. His platform includes planks for strict law enforcement, economy in government, good roads and opposition to the repeal of the primary law. Mr. Webster ran as vice president with Major General Leonard Wood in the presidential preferential primary of 1920, leading his ticket over Wood.

After conferring with leaders here he went to Dayton.

MILLINERY STORE HERE IS CLOSED

Mrs. L. H. Finney, who has closed out her millinery shop in the Steele Building, left Wednesday for Richmond, Ind., where she will be in charge of a millinery department of a large store.

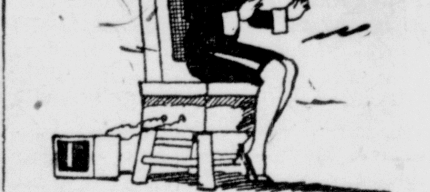

Mrs. Finney has operated the Xenia Store several years, purchasing the business from Miss Ida Sinz, now of Dayton. Miss Julia Lichenfels, who has been associated with Mrs. Finney, in Xenia, will leave Xenia next Monday to join a millinery department store, one of a chain operated in several cities. She does not know as yet in what city she will be located.

IF BEN FRANKLIN COULD ONLY SEE US NOW!

Ben Franklin showed the world that electricity could be harnessed by getting lightning out of a kite's tail and he probably knew he was starting something that has not had the final chapter written in it yet.

The wonders of electricity never cease particularly in the use of electrical appliances in treating diseases and a visit to any modern hospital shows a number of ingenious electrical devices in use there.

Ben little realized the wonders that would come from the force behind his little spark and he would have written at least twelve more proverbs if he had ever dreamed that if he lived long enough, some day electricity would iron his shirts, fill his teeth, sweep his carpets, toast his bread, cut his hair and last but not least, cure his ills.

For physicians are constantly using electrical appliances in increasing numbers as parts of their treatments, and a host of novel appliances are being invented as aids to health. For example there is now on the market a portable rejuvenator that resembles a set of motor-driven rolling pins. There are electrical horses that canter, jog and gallop for their riders, working up circulation and renewing vitality.

Weight may be put on or taken off by electricity. You can automatically exercise individual muscles or give yourself a complete, thorough artificial sun bath, in the same way. If you are troubled with cold feet, you can get electrically heated socks to keep them warm or an electric blanket to wrap them. And if the doctor tells you that you are too cold all over, more proverbs if he had ever dreamed that if he lived long enough, some day electricity would iron his shirts, fill his teeth, sweep his carpets, toast his bread, cut his hair and last but not least, cure his ills.

For physicians are constantly using electrical appliances in increasing numbers as parts of their treatments, and a host of novel appliances are being invented as aids to health. For example there is now on the market a portable rejuvenator that resembles a set of motor-driven rolling pins. There are electrical horses that canter, jog and gallop for their riders, working up circulation and renewing vitality.

Weight may be put on or taken off by electricity. You can automatically exercise individual muscles or give yourself a complete, thorough artificial sun bath, in the same way. If you are troubled with cold feet, you can get electrically heated socks to keep them warm or an electric blanket to wrap them. And if the doctor tells you that you are too cold all over,

GEGNER'S MEAT MARKET

Will make no deliveries on the afternoons of the days of the Greene County Fair. Deliveries as usual after the Fair.

then you can master a high frequency current and inject heat into all your tissues.

Other more complicated devices have been found to be beneficial in the treatment of even such serious maladies as pneumonia, chiefly by the generation of needed heat within the body. Diphtheria is another disease that is being fought with coils and batteries. Besides all these, there are a host of delicate lesions and waterments that aid surgeons in operating and in making their diagnoses.

WATER-BARROW MEN OF PEKING WALK OUT AS CITY LAYS PIPES

PEKING, Aug. 4.—For centuries past the narrow hutings of Peking have rung to the grinding screech of the ungreased barrow which, for a sum equivalent to an American cent and a half per three buckets, brought cool well water to the Chinese household.

But today the lanes are silent, and thirsty would-be customers stand in their scarlet doorways and jingle coppers in their palms without result.

The waterbarrow men are on strike. For months there has been a half-concealed warfare between the barrow men and the layers of waterpipe through Peking streets. It has found expression in occasional quarrels and fights, but there has been no concerted action. Now, following a definite attempt by Water Carriers Guild to prevent a merchant from laying the waterpipes to his shop, open combat has resulted; three water carriers are in jail; several water works employees are in hospitals; and the strike is on.

Simultaneous with declaration of the general water-carriers' strike, the guild laid a series of complaints before the police and the Municipal Council. It was declared that the company should be disfranchised and all water should be taken from wells and brought by barrow. Company water was not good water, it was argued. Also, it was pointed out the company may some day stop supplying water due to the coal shortage caused by civil war around Peking.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point to failure for the barrow-men. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrow-men's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

All indications point

EDITORIAL

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican published daily except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio by the Chew Publishing Company Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3rd, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward, Editor, Foreign Advertising Representative, Chicago Office, No. 6 South Dearborn Avenue, New York Office, 561 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES

	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
Greene County	$.40	$1.00	$1.90	$3.50
Other Counties	$.40	1.15	2.15	4.00
Single Copies	.05	.15	.25	.45
Foreign	.65	1.45	2.65	5.00
Foreign	.60	1.50	2.90	5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy Three Cents.

Business Office—111
Telephone
Advertising and Business Office
Editorial Rooms—111
Editorial Department
Editorial Department

THE WILL TO WIN

Too many men and women believe there is luck in leisure and abide by their faith through abstinence from work. Laziness is good nature gone to seed. Hustling is energy plus persistence. The reputation for being a hustler is the best introduction to success that any man can have. Confidence and a good purpose are the vital elements of success. Hustling is the essential force of business. It is the power to marshal your resources—recruit the slackers among your abilities.

Ambitions are always to be found behind success. They are the stokers who fire the boilers under the will to win. And the difference between the will and the wish is simply a difference in the degree of heat under the will. If you are ambitious it means that you have within you already the beginning of success.

The real power in ambition is in its intensity. But its measure of achievement is a matter of control and tireless effort.

SPECULATION

The scientists are speculating on the possibility of a machine to fly ten or twenty miles above the earth. An Italian mathematician, Dr. G. A. Crocco, has recently published a series of speculative papers on the subject that gives rise to some interesting thought.

The rarer atmosphere, of course, presents the difficulty. But its unadaptability for breathing or use in the engines has already been answered by the use of oxygen tanks.

Its lack of supporting power would be compensated to a certain extent by its equal lack of head-on resistance.

And the possibility of the inability to use propellers might be answered by driving the ship by impulse, as a rocket is driven.

All of which is interesting, and that's about all, for the present.

BOTTLE-FED FIGS

Most of our readers, no doubt, have heard about milk-fed pumpkins, which are produced by cutting off the end of a pumpkin vine and inserting it in a vessel kept filled with milk. It is claimed the vine will drink up the milk and that the pumpkin will not only grow larger but will be of finer flavor and texture than the ordinary kind. This may or may not be true, we have never seen one grow that way nor have we ever had any who had so grown one tell us so.

But this pumpkin experiment seems to have a counterpart in the effort of a Santa Cruz man to grow what he is pleased to call "bottle-fed" figs. This man is exhibiting what he declares that by treating the trees through the base of the trunk with his own preparation, and by transfusion, he is able to produce much larger figs than those grown on the untreated trees. He also claims that flowers are made more brilliant by the use of his treatment.

If this discovery has any merit and can be made to work on the fig tree we see no reason why it should not also be made to function on other fruit trees, not only in California, but elsewhere as well. All things are possible, but in matters like these we do not believe it is very probable that the use of this method of improving the fruit crop will ever become very general.

NEW LIVES IN OLD BODIES

What is perhaps the greatest single piece of educational endeavor ever undertaken has been completed by the government. Approximately 100,000 veterans of the World War have been rehabilitated by vocational training since that service was established six years ago.

President Coolidge has signed a bill extending the work for one year for the benefit of 2,000 men, nearly half of whom are in colleges and universities.

Neither the number of beneficiaries nor the amount expended ($641,501,026) makes the project as noteworthy as does the immeasurable saving to the men themselves and to the country at large. And that economic importance is overshadowed by a realization of the unquenchable spirit of determination that carried these partly wrecked men through to a victory more bitterly won than any they gained at the front.

It would have been easy for these men to have fallen back in dependency upon their government, their counties of their relatives. They could have said, "We ruined our lives in fighting for you—it's your turn now."

But instead: The blind man tunes pianos, canes chairs, makes brooms; the armless man is a teacher, a lawyer, a salesman; the legless man keeps books, makes shoes; another partly paralyzed, mends watches; and so on through a list of 425 professions and trades.

To the nation goes the saving; to the veterans' bureau goes the credit for having made these things possible, and to that valiant hundred thousand goes recognition for still another service to their country.

RED CROSS TENT TO BE FAIR REST ROOM NURSES ANNOUNCE

Greene County Red Cross First Aid tent at the Fair will be fitted as a rest room, it is announced by the Red Cross offices. Red Cross workers will render first aid during the four days. Beautiful hand-painted panels from National Red Cross Headquarters are being used in decorating the tent. State Department of Health workers will put on demonstrations every day, showing proper bathing, feeding and correct care of children. A model

Layette will also be displayed. Miss Tallman, a nurse from the Child Hygiene Division will assist Miss Helen Evers, local Red Cross public health nurse, in demonstrations. Mothers and babies are invited to go to the tent and rest during the day. Nurses will answer all questions and give free advice. All literature from State Department of Health will be there, available free of charge. The tent is located just inside the grounds, on the main walk, Dr. H. E. Kleinschmidt, State Department Head of Chief Division of Child Hygiene will be present Friday.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS

The Taming of the Shrew

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

Postmaster Orr announces rural mail carriers are to be allowed fifteen-day vacations with pay. Papers were filed in the Court of Common Pleas asking appointment of a receiver for the Standard Manufacturing Co. Princess Xenia of the Belmont Farm, lowered her record from 2:15 1/4 to 2:13 1/4 in a race at Streator, Ill. The election board organized by electing R. V. Stewart, Republican, chief, and H. J. Farrell, Democrat, clerk. The total number of horses entered in races at the County Fair is 102.

TOMORROW'S MENU
Breakfast
Apple Sauce
Cereal
Broiled Slices of Ham
Fried Eggs
Coffee
Luncheon
Vegetable Soup
Peanut Butter Sandwiches
Berries with Cream
Cookies
Dinner
Beef Loaf
Creamed Macaroni
Green Beans with Onions
Berry Pie
Coffee
DELICIOUS PRESERVES
Tomato Marmalade: Either the yellow or the red tomatoes may be used in this recipe. With one quart of ripe tomatoes use four cups of granulated sugar, one large lemon and two large oranges. Cut the peel of the oranges and lemon in small strips, and boil in a very little water till tender. Let cook down so that there is very little liquid, and to these tender peels add the orange pulp, the lemon pulp, the sugar and the tomatoes peeled and cut small. Cook all together for two hours, stirring often. It should then be thick and the peel transparent. Seal in small jars.
Yellow Tomato Preserves: Wash yellow tomatoes, plunge them in boiling water, allow to remain in the water an instant, then drain and rub off skins with the fingers. Weigh them and for each pound of them set aside two cups of granulated sugar, two ounces of preserved ginger (chopped), two ounces of crystallized citron peel also chopped, and two thinly-sliced seeded lemons. After peeling and weighing tomatoes, put them in an earthen bowl, add the sugar, cover over, and let stand overnight. In the morning drain off the sirup which has collected, and boil it five minutes, skimming when necessary. Add the tomatoes with the ginger, citron and lemon. Simmer till the tomatoes are well cooked, then seal in sterilized jars.

Pumpkin-Chip Preserves. Peel and halve the pumpkins, removing seeds and cutting into thin chips. For every pound of pumpkin, allow two cups of sugar and one-half cup of lemon juice. Place the chips in a crockery bowl in layers with sugar sprinkled between, and lemon juice poured over all. Let stand 12 hours at least, then boil together, adding one cup of water and one tablespoon of bruised ginger (tied in muslin bags) and the shredded peels of the lemons, for each three pounds of pumpkin. Let simmer till the pumpkin chips become tender, then remove from range and let stand without touching for three or four days. At the end of this time, pour off the sirup, boil it down till thick and rich, and turn it over the cooked pumpkin in sterilized jars. Seal airtight.

Miss Hazel Ralston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Ralston and Mr. Earl Griffiths of Springfield were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday by Rev. Joseph W. Patton, pastor of the church. The couple was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths will reside in Springfield where Mr. Griffiths is employed by the Fulmer Grocery Company.
Miss Agnes Dewine, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dewine of Springfield and Mr. Nathan Burgess of Dayton were married Monday morning at St. Raphael Church by Monsignor D. A. Buckley. After an extended wedding trip to Boston, New York and Philadelphia they will return to Dayton where Mr. Burgess, who is an architect, is employed. Miss Dewine, formerly of this place has a wide circle of friends who will join in wishing her much happiness.

Mrs. David Wead gave a little birthday party Thursday evening from 7 to 9 in honor of her little daughter Martha Jean's second anniversary. The hours were spent out doors playing games. Refreshments of ice-cream, cake and lemonade were served. Those present were Alice Fry, Martha Dell, Mary Louise and Imogene Diehl, Warren Dell, Billy Thompson, Keven O'Brien, Loma Lee O'Brien and Martha Jean Wead.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milligan and little daughter, Margaret Josephine who have been visiting Mrs. Milligan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Johnson left for their home in Garrettsville, Monday. Mrs. Clara Zell accompanied them as far as Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sheridan are the parents of an eight pound boy born Thursday. He has been given the name Roger Earl.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lacey are enjoying an outing at Kawartha Lakes, Peterboro, Ont. They will return home the fifteenth of this month. Their daughter, Helen is with friends in Camp Knolls.

Mrs. James Hoffman and daughters, Mildred and Marie of Texas are visiting her sister, Mrs. Warren Carpenter.

Miss Kathleen Hackett returned Friday from Akron and Cleveland where she has been visiting relatives for the past month.

Mr. Charles Aspinall of St. Marys spent a few days the past week with his friend, H. R. Adams. Miss Elizabeth Littleton is spending a few days at Russell Point with some friends from Xenia.

Mr. D. S. Hanchett and little son Bruce, left by automobile Friday for Chicago where they will spend a few days. Mrs. Hanchett who has been in Chicago on a visit will return with them.

Mrs. Grant Minnich of Springfield, spent Saturday with Mrs. T. W. Neff.

Miss Dessie Sha wof Piqua, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Shaw.

Mrs. Walter Groves of Bellefontaine is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Confer.

Mrs. Parks who has been visiting her brother, Rev. Carl White and family left Monday for her home in Greenville, Tenn., accompanied by Miss Callie Williams, who will spend the summer in Greenville with her brother.

Mrs. Frank Currey returned home Thursday from Ashland where she has been visiting her mother for several weeks.

Mrs. Adeline Bassett and family

YELLOW SPRINGS

Miss Hazel Ralston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Ralston and Mr. Earl Griffiths of Springfield were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday by Rev. Joseph W. Patton, pastor of the church. The couple was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths will reside in Springfield where Mr. Griffiths is employed by the Fulmer Grocery Company.
Miss Agnes Dewine, daughter of

Today's Talk

ON PRETENDING

In one of Dr. Johnson's delightful essays he tells about the people he sees in a stage coach and describes how they all do their best to assume characters other than what they are. But just as soon as the journey is ended they go back to their own selves again and tread on their masks thrown aside and no longer taking advantage of the ignorance of their fellow passengers. There is something so refreshing about the human being who is himself all the day through. Who smiles at the fictitious values in human action and is amused at the pretensions of those seeking to assume what they are unable to hold. If friendship is anything it is being what you are to your friend. And if success is anything, it is showing to the world that which you have made real by your efforts—you a genuine actor upon a real stage.

It is too bad that personality is so throttled in a child that when it becomes of an age in which it should exercise its originality and experience of observation, it really is afraid and immediately assumes a character that is all foreign to its desires. I have listened to my closest acquaintances as they have talked over the telephone and they have almost imported a special voice and manner. And then there is the patronizing attitude that so many take upon themselves when in the presence of those who have earned a little distinction. And this is the most distasteful thing that could be done for such a person, for real distinction wants no patronage. We who walk the common day and do the common tasks of the hour may not amount to much when measured in the light of large things, but we are really very important if we remain ourselves—showing all that we are, good and bad, in the same basket.

returned Sunday from a motor trip spent in Wisconsin.

Rev. Brownlee of Dayton will conduct services in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The pastor Rev. White is enjoying a vacation this month.

Miss Margaret Brewer of Springfield spent Sunday with her brother C. A. Brewer and family.

Miss Genevieve and John Fry of Husted, were the guests of Miss Edith Fry and Mrs. Norah Fry Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sellers of Troy, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beatty.

The Kiwanis Club of Springfield had a picnic at Bryan Park, Wednesday. The ladies of the Methodist Church served the dinner.

SIDELIGHTS

ON Greene County History

EARLY CURRENCY

Little need was found for banks in the first half century of the existence of Greene County.

If the people did not have an abundance of "hard" money, they had a kind of currency which took its place. The paper money of the banks was called "wild cat" currency, while the term "shin-plaster" was also in current use and described the same kind of fluctuating currency.

Merchants frequently issued paper money with their own name on it, in denominations as low as five cents and it circulated on its face value in the immediate community—that is, as long as the merchant's credit was good. The farther the merchant's "shin-plaster" wandered from his place of business the less valuable it became. A "shin-plaster" of a Xenia merchant in Columbus would probably not be accepted at all.

Merchants also issued a species of "hard money," minted from some cheap metal, called "token" money, the pieces being known as "tokens". The redeemable value of the "token" was stamped on it, but it, like the "shin-plaster" was dependent upon the credit of the merchant issuing it. The merchant redeemed his "tokens" at their face value.

Another method of providing a circulating medium of exchange was the issuance of what were known as "due bills," which, in fine, were the same as "tokens" and "shin-plasters." It must not be understood that there was no specie of the government in circulation but it was very limited, so limited in fact that the custom arose of actually cutting up the coins to represent smaller fractional values.

Silver dollars were cut into nine pieces, kind of triangular shaped, with the sharp points tapering toward the center of the coin. The pieces thus cut off were called "sharp-shins." It was also customary to cut the twenty-five cent piece into two pieces, the resultant pieces being known throughout the Western states as "bits," a word which is still in current use.

Frequently even the "bit" was halved, and the early treasurers of Greene County took over many a six-and-a-quarter-cent piece as part payment in taxes.

Local records of the commissioners bear constant witness to the fact that the pioneers of the county cut their money into pieces. Scarcely a tax-payer in the county but found his annual bill to county treasurer with a fractional cent thereon.

The Theatre

The sixth annual edition of George White's "Scandals," will be the attraction at the Victory, Dayton, August 9 and 10. Beautiful damsels and clever entertainers are busy at rehearsals on the Gibbons Hotel Roof.

"The Scandals" will be presented with plenty of jazz, color and diversion, it is announced. The revue will be staged with an effective combination of coloring. The use of drapes and of varying shades lend a distinctive atmosphere to the production and serve to produce a series of pictures which are further enhanced by lovely costumes and beautiful gowns.

Thirty scenes are employed in the staging by Mr. White. The comedy motif has been developed by William K. Wells and Mr. White. Bud De Sylva and Ballard have collaborated on the lyrics and George Gershwin, whose "Rhapsody in Blue" won over America, has made the score. All of the costumes, stage decorations and curtains have been designed by Erte and executed by Max Weldy of Paris. One of the special features is the George White Beauty chorus, approximately sixty in number. Xenia followers of the "Scandals" can vouch for their versatility.

Paris cables report the divorce of Alma Osborne, from Asa Yoelson. It will probably be more enlightening to give the latter's name as Al Jolson, musical comedy star, and America's wealthiest actor. His former spouse, who is known on the stage as Ethel Delmar, is Jolson's second wife. His separation from his first wife took place in 1919. Jolson is the son of a Jewish cantor.

Bruce Barton, author of "The Man Nobody Knows" was engaged by Jesse L. Lasky to write a drama on religion, but after Cecil DeMille laid his plans to film "The King of Kings" Lasky decided not to compete. There has been a friendship between Lasky and DeMille of several years standing.

Prince Divani, Mae Murray's new husband, has begun work in a slapstick comedy, on the Mack Sennett lot. He is leading man and his duties include making love to Madeleine Hurlock, the Sennett bathing beauty.

East Side - West Side

—OF—

New York

By Jack O'Donnell

Strolling around Manhattan one sees many odd signs and announcements.

In the window of a rooming house on the lower East side the other day I saw one announcing "Elegant rooms for rent." A few doors below this address was one in front of a pawn shop which said: "Fickle Forties is a restaurant with 'We lone money.' Up in the fickle Forties is a restaurant with this sign in the window: 'Ladies? Of course!'"

But it remained for an illiterate realtor to coin a new word for the real estate world. He opened ornate offices in a Park Avenue building, called in an equally illiterate sign painter and handed the latter a card bearing the inscription to be placed in gilt letters on the door. This sign, when finished, announced to the reader that Mr. Realtor dealt in apartments, rooming houses, hotel properties and "sub-divisions."

Maybe it's the Milt Gross influence!

Life moves along at such a speedy pace in glady Gotham that the average New Yorker seems bent upon saving time even in his speech. For instance, operators of express elevators which do not stop until they reach the tenth floor, rarely hear requests from persons going to the thirteenth floor, we'll say, for the "thirteenth." Instead, the passenger generally says: "Three."

Families living above One-hundredth street employ the same method of shortening speech. When they speak of Fourteenth Street they mean One-hundred and fourteenth. This habit of contraction or abbreviation is baffling to the greenhorn coming to New York. And it often results in confusion, to put it mildly.

For example: A few years ago when Bernard Bergman, the Fifth Avenue publicity counselor (if his office was on Broadway he'd be just a press agent) came to New York from Chillicothe, Ohio, he was as green as the far-away hills

He went to live with relatives up in the humming "Hundreds" while he looked around for a spot to get a toehold on New York. He had been here about three days when his aunt roused him from sleep one morning and said: "Bernard, will you be a good boy and run down to the chain store on Fourteenth Street and get me some eggs?"

Would he? Why certainly! And hustling into his clothes he left the house, took a subway and ran away down town to Fourteenth Street and Seventh Avenue. Going to the surface he started East on Fourteenth Street, walked all the way to Fifth Avenue but without seeing a single grocery store or any other store where eggs could be purchased. Finally, in desperation, he went to a telephone and called his aunt. "I can't find a chain store or any other place to buy eggs on Fourteenth Street," he complained.

"Where are you now?" she asked. "Way down town—Fourteenth Street and Fifth Avenue!"

There was a moment's silence, broken only by what Bergman believes to be a titter. Then: "All right!" Come on home. We'll get the eggs up around here."

The pride of Chillicothe didn't learn until recently that he had gone 100 blocks out of his way as his aunt lived on One-hundred and fifteenth Street.

COX SAILS FOR EUROPE

New York, Aug. 4.—Former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, and Mrs. Cox sailed tonight on the Aquitania for a six weeks' holiday in Europe. They are going to motor through England and Scotland in a pleasure trip only. The Governor was visited while here by many eastern Democrats, but refused to discuss politics for publication.

Modish Mitzi

THE GOOFER SHOULD HAVE BEEN A DETECTIVE

By Jay V. Jay

The Goofy has missed his calling. He should have been a detective or a newspaper reporter. He didn't know what Mitzi and the rest were stopping at, but he's going to find her!

He has picked out the shop with the smartest clothes in the window and there he waits. The first young woman, although modishly dressed in a white cape costume, was not Mitzi.

Neither was the second although Mitzi would have enjoyed her dress with all the eyelet embroidery. Nor is this young woman Mitzi although the crystal pleated skirt and embroidered blouse—

Ah, he was right! He thinks as he admires her tiny straw hat and the dress that only pretends to have a collar that if he waited in front of any smart shop in the world, Mitzi would appear sometime! Tomorrow—Mitzi Collects Information

NORTHERN BID IS SCHEDULED TO START ON THURSDAY'S RACING

Keen competition and a fast track which makes for record heats is expected to be furnished in the three events on Thursday's card of the three-day short sprint meet at the Greene County Fair.

Twelve good horses have accepted the issue for the 2:14 trot and $400 added purse, which is the feature number of the afternoon's racing.

The 2:15 pace for a purse of $350 and the 2:17 trot for $350 purse are also scheduled for Thursday. The get-away event on the card, the 2:17 trot, has twenty-two entries and the pacing event fourteen nominations.

Entries for the 2:17 trot follow: Northern Bid, Dr. L. C. Addison, Xenia; Mary Ward, George Teare, Cleveland; Great Edward, Clover Blossom and Great Wah, George E. Grant, Signet; Billie Riley, West and Turney, Wauecon; Donna Halraane and Tramp Clear, R. W. Pitkin, Mt. Vernon; Ben Manchester, Clyde Harris, Fredericks and Powell, Urbana; and the George Teare, Cleveland; Miss Gabe Bell, Omer VanKirk, Dayton; Milton Axworthy, Craine; Dorothy Bergen, M. McKim, Marion; Azon, George Campbell, Findlay; Anita The Great, Theo. Rohrs, Fostoria; Judge Leonard.

M'FADDEN BUSY IN FLORIDA BOXING

Glen "Mickey" McFadden, DeLand, Fla., former Xenian will meet Steve Semon, Jacksonville, Fla., in a ten round bout Friday at Benson Springs, Fla., he writes from the far South.

"Mickey" recently fought six fast rounds with "Shorty" Clark of the Detroit Athletic Club and won on points. He has been fighting at 128 pounds and has had work in several important preliminaries.

He reports DeLand's fight crazy and under the direction of the Florida Public Service Commission. "Mickey's" address is Box 444, DeLand, Fla.

WOMAN REMOVED TO MARYSVILLE PRISON

Mrs. Bertha Hamilton Webb, 23, colored, Leach St., sentenced to one year in the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville upon her plea of guilty to an indictment for stabbing with intent to kill, was taken to Marysville by motor to begin her sentence Wednesday morning by Sheriff and Mrs. Morris Sharp.

Mrs. Webb admitted the charge of inflicting serious injuries upon George Rogers, 26, colored, a month ago during a disturbance at her home.

She was taken slightly ill in the County Jail Tuesday night and a physician was called, but she appeared to have entirely recovered Wednesday.

HOW THEY STAND

NATIONAL LEAGUE	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	56	41	.577
CINCINNATI	58	45	.563
St. Louis	53	48	.525
Brooklyn	52	50	.510
Chicago	52	50	.510
New York	51	50	.505
Boston	40	59	.404
Philadelphia	39	58	.402

Yesterday's Results
Cincinnati 1-3, Boston 0-2.
Pittsburgh 14, Philadelphia 2.
New York 5-3, Chicago 4-5.

Games Today
Pittsburgh at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.

AMERICAN LEAGUE	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	68	35	.660
CLEVELAND	59	46	.562
Philadelphia	54	49	.524
Washington	50	49	.505
Chicago	52	50	.510
Detroit	53	52	.505
St. Louis	43	60	.417
Boston	34	69	.330

Yesterday's Results
Boston 8-2, Cleveland 7-0.
New York 7, Chicago 6.
Detroit 4, Philadelphia 3.
St. Louis 7, Washington 6.

Games Today
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Cleveland.
Washington at Detroit.
Boston at Chicago.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Louisville	70	36	.660
Indianapolis	64	43	.598
Milwaukee	66	48	.579
TOLEDO	53	49	.520
Kansas City	53	56	.486
St. Paul	48	59	.449
Minneapolis	44	62	.415
COLUMBUS	25	80	.238

Yesterday's Results
St. Paul 4, Columbus 2.
Toledo 4-3, Minneapolis 8-1.
Indianapolis 9, Milwaukee 4.
Louisville 6, Kansas City 5.

Games Today
St. Paul at Columbus.
Minneapolis at Toledo.
Kansas City at Louisville.
Milwaukee at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Grace Roberts, was the guest of Mrs. Homer Taylor of James town today.

Mrs. Rosa Ware and daughter Rosella, who have been visiting relatives in Washington C. H., Ohio, have returned home.

MERMAIDS COMPETE IN NATIONAL WATER EVENTS WEDNESDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—For the first time in women's swimming history, the 100 yards may be negotiated in less than minute as the world's fastest mermaids gathered here to compete in the National A. U. championships which starts its four-day session in the Sesqui Centennial Lake today.

The present world record for the century distance is sixty and three-fifths seconds, held by Ethel Lackie of the Illinois A. C. She made the mark in the Penn A. C. pool in this city recently.

In the national championships, opposed by other stars, it is predicted Miss Lackie will probably be pushed to a new world's record to stay out in front.

Another record experts say is in jeopardy is the 880-yard free style. Miss Agnes Geraghty, New York Women's Swimming Association, set a new record last July of twelve minutes fifty-seven and four-fifths seconds in the event at Portsmouth, N. H. Miss Martha Norrell has also bettered the existing record and in the present competition the race between the two should result in a new half-mile mark.

The Sesqui Centennial Lake is 350 yards long and 150 yards wide, in which a 100 meter course has been laid out. The diving events, as in the men's championships last week, will be held in a specially constructed diving pool adjacent to the lake.

BILL HUNNEFIELD REAL SHORTSTOP; REDS LET HIM SLIP

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—To pick the star youngster from that vast horde of minor league ball players who cavort in the various circuits over the country is a real job.

It is only natural that scouts who pick the youngsters sometimes err in their judgment. Sometimes they tout a man as a "peach" who finally proves a "lemon." Then again they pick a "lemon" who bobs up sometime later as a real star with some other club.

An error such as the latter enabled the Chicago White Sox to own at present what is probably the best rookie baseball player of the year.

His name is Bill Hunnefield. Bill, a comparative unknown, has slid into the White Sox lineup and practically overnight has become one of the best short stops in either league.

Last year the Cincinnati team of the National League made a first payment of $5,000 to the Portland, Ore., team for Hunnefield. However, before completing the transaction, the club decided to send an emissary to look over the youngsters. This emissary is said to have wired back something about a "lemon."

Then the White Sox got him. Bill believes tremendously in himself. At first, Manager Eddie Collins didn't know whether Bill was just a cocky youngster, or a real ball player who had confidence in himself.

Finally Bill Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman was hurt and Collins, looking around to find someone to fill the hole, finally decided on Hunnefield.

The youngster went into the game and made the fans forget all about Kamm's playing. And he it said that Kamm really can play the so-called hot corner. Hunnefield showed them something both in the field and at the bat.

So when the time came for Kamm to go back in the game, there was nothing to do but move Hunnefield to short. He's been there since and in no apparent danger of being displaced.

"COWES WEEK," END OF LONDON SEASON, STARTS ON MONDAY

COWES, Eng., Aug. 4.—"Cowes week," the climax and end of the brilliant "London season" began at ten o'clock this morning.

At that moment a launch was smartly lowered from the royal steam yacht Victoria and Albert and a yachtman, conspicuous chiefly for a gray, close-trimmed beard, ran down the gangway, stepped aboard the launch and helped a gray-haired lady to negotiate the jump. The esplanade, black with people, set up a cheer. "They" have come, and the famous "week" is now officially begun.

The launch proceeded through the sparkling waters of the roadstead to the venerable weather-beaten pier of the Royal Yacht Squadron where the King of England conducted the Queen of England.

King George has great hopes of lifting some prizes this week with his old-fashioned cutter. She has had a new mast of Oregon pine and a new set of sails which to the fond eyes of her distinguished owner, smarten her up a lot.

With Prince Henry and the Duke of Connaught the King will sail her in all her races. H. M. S. Royal Oak will act as guardship during their Majesties stay here with the destroyer Valorous and the minesweeper Truro in ceremonial attendance.

Tuesday night the King will attend as Admiral, the annual dinner of the Royal Yacht squadron. It is expected that the King and Queen will, as usual, visit the State Apartments of Queen Victoria at Osborne and that they will honor Princess Beatrice with a visit at Carisbrooke Castle.

American tourists leaving Saturday on the Berengaria and the Tuscania sailed through the entire fleet of yachts forming perhaps the most beautiful picture they have seen in England. The Shamrock, the Lulworth, The American-built schooner Westward and the smart 12- and 6-metre yachts have been wearing endless patterns as they have sailed from the East Lepe Buoy to the Warner Light, ship trying out new racing sails in preparation for the severe tests of the week. In addition practically every steam yacht available has arrived with guests while the motorboats and the small yachts are too numerous to count.

NO WOMAN CAN KEEP HOUSE EFFICIENTLY

Without Good Health

MRS. FRANK DINDORE
283 PIERCE AVENUE, LANCASTER, OHIO

Four Walls Can Make a House, but it takes a Woman to Make a Home

To be a successful homemaker, a woman must guard her health. When mother is not well, the home is upset. Women everywhere are learning through their own personal experiences, as these women did, the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lancaster, Ohio.—"For ten years after my marriage, I had poor health.

I was on a visit to my sister in Utica, Michigan, and she had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Her husband got me a bottle and I took it and felt so much better that I got a second one. Now, whenever I feel run-down I take the Vegetable Compound and soon feel all right again. I have had three little girls in the last six years and do all my housework, sewing, washing, and ironing. My time is pretty well taken up, but I will answer any letters I receive."—Mrs. FRANK DINDORE, 283 Pierce Avenue, Lancaster, Ohio.

Sturgis, Michigan.—"I am very thankful for what your medicine has done for me and have recommended it to others. I took it to give me strength before my baby was born. I would have to stop work and lie down sometimes all the afternoon. I felt as if I did not care whether anything was done or not. I got tired out so easily. One day I found a little book on my porch and that night I showed it to my husband and he went down town and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has helped me so much that I was soon able to do my work, and when my baby was born, my nurse, Mrs. Forbes, said it was the easiest birth she had ever attended. I will be more than pleased if I am helping someone else by giving my testimonial."—Mrs. EDWARD PERKINS, 208 Surprise Ave., Sturgis, Michigan.

"CAP" STUBBS—Myrtle's Been Cheated

LIES HERE, CAP STUBBS! WHEN YA GONNA HAVE THAT SHOW!—OH!—WHY, WE HAD IT!

HAD IT!!! SURE! YESTERDAY!—WHY DIDN'T YA COME! WE TOLD EV'RYBODY ABOUT IT!

FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES

WEDNESDAY
WJZ, New York, 454, and WGY, Schenectady, 380—8:20 p. m., EDT.
New York Philharmonic Orchestra.
WSB, Atlanta, 428—7 p. m. Central Standard, Ford and Glenn.
KGW, Portland, 492, 8:20 p. m. PST, Vaudeville Program.
WSAI, Cincinnati, 326, 10:15 p. m. CST, WSAI String Quartette.
WEAF Hook Up, 10:00 p. m. EDT. Old Timers Concert.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK
XENIA LIVESTOCK
(Greene County Livestock Shipping Assn.)

180 down—$13.75@13.50.
180-200—$13@12.50.
200-250—$12@12.50.
250 up—$11.25@11.75.
Packing Sows, $8@9.
Calves, $12.50.
Lambs—$12.25.

DAYTON
Receipts 5 cars; market, steady.
Heavies, 200-250 $13.00
Medium, 140-200 13.35
Extreme Heavies 12.50
Sows 8.00@10.00
Pigs, 140 lbs. down 10.00@13.00
Stags 5.00@8.00

CATTLE
Receipts, 12 cars; market, steady.
Best fat steers 8.50@9.00
Good fat steers 8.00@12.00
Medium butcher steers, 7.00@8.00
Medium butcher heifers 6.00@7.00
Best butcher heifers 7.00@8.50
Best fat cows 5.50@6.50
Bologna cows, 3.00@4.00

Medium cows, 4.00@5.00
SHEEP
Spring Lambs, $10@12
Sheep, 2.00@5.00

GRAIN
DAYTON
Flour and Grain
(By the Durst Milling Co.)
(Prices being paid for grain at mill.)
Wheat, No. 1, New, $1.30.
Rye, No. 2, 80c per bu.
Corn, $1.00 per 100 lbs.
Oats, per bu., 35c.

XENIA
(By the DeWine Milling Co.)
(Buying Price)
No. 2, Rye, 70c.
Flakey wheat bran, $2.00 cwt.
No. 1, Timothy Hay, $17.
No. 1, light and mixed hay, baled $16.
New Yellow corn, 90c per 100.
No. 2 Red Winter Wheat, $1.30.
Middlings, $2.00 cwt.
No. 2, New White Oats, 35c.

PRODUCE
CLEVELAND PRODUCE

POULTRY:
Heavy fowls, 25@27c.
Leghorn fowls, 20@21c.
Leghorn broilers, 25@27c.
Heavy broilers, 25@35c.
Roosters, 1@17-12c.
Ducks, 24@26c.
Young ducks, 30c@33c.
Old ducks, 25c@28c.
Geese, 15@18c.
BUTTER:
Extra in tub lots, 42c.
Extra firsts, 40c@41c.
First, 37-38@38c.
Packing stocks, 28c.
EGGS:
Extra, 35c.
Extra firsts, 32c.
Firsts 29c.
Ordinary firsts 25c.
CHEESE:
Old York State—old 30c@32c;
new 24c@25c.

Limburger, Wisconsin, 34c@35c.
New York, 35c.
Swiss fancy—new, 40c@42c;
brick, 25c@26c; imported, 55c@
POTATOES:
Virginia, $3.80@4.
Carolina Stove, bbl. $3.65@4
Maryland, $3.85@4.
DAYTON PRODUCE
Retail Price
(Corrected by The Joe Frank Co.)
Butter, 45c.
Eggs, 31c dozen.
Roasting chickens, 49c lb.
Stewing chickens, 40c lb.
1926 Fries, 50c.
Spring Ducks, 45c lb.
Live Hens, 30c lb.
Live Roosters, 18c lb.
1925 Broilers, (alive) 40c lb.

Prices Being Paid at Plant for Live Poultry and Eggs
Chickens, 21c lb.
Eggs, 24c dozen.
Leghorn hens, 18c lb.
1926 Leghorn fries, 25c lb.
Colored fries, 2 lbs. or more 28c.
Colored fries, 28c lb.
Turkeys, 35c lb.
Roosters, 10c lb.
Butter

Retail Prices
(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers' Association)
Butter, 43c wholesale.
XENIA
Hens, 20c.
Light Springers, 34c lb.
Eggs, 23c dozen.
Leghorn springers, 22c.
Big Springers, 26c.
Leghorn Hens, 18c.

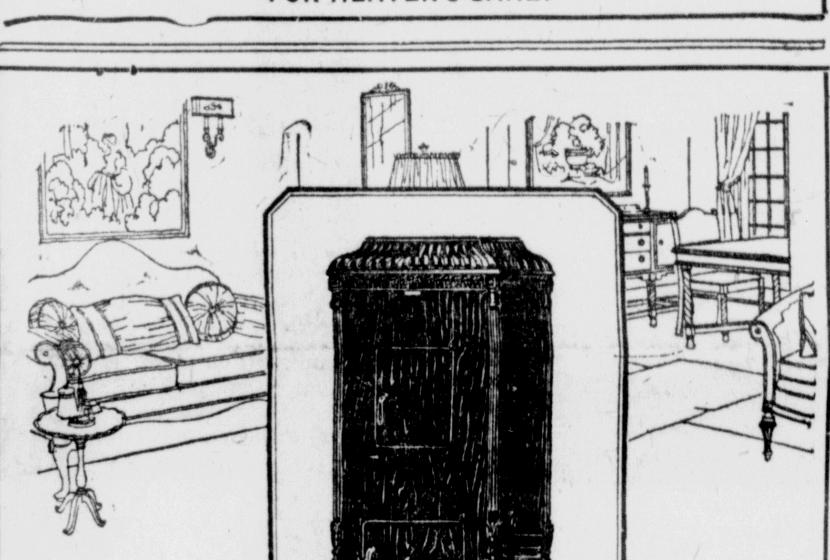

Operation Not Successful

"16 years ago I was operated for appendicitis and later operated again for gall stones. Neither did me any good and I suffered all kinds of torture since. Five years ago I took Mayr's and have felt no symptoms of pain since. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre's Drug Store and druggists everywhere. adv

BIJOU THEATER

TONIGHT
"SOUL MATES"
Adapted from Elinor Glyn's novel
"THE REASON WHY"
With Alleen Pringle and Edmund Lowe
Also
FOX NEWS and FUN FROM THE PRESS

THURSDAY
DOROTHY GISH
In
"NELL GWYN"
The love story of the orange girl who vamped a king.
Also
"BEWARE!"—A Two Reel Comedy.
"FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE!"

MUELLER Furnacette

Wouldn't you rather look after one Furnacette than two or three heating stoves?

The Mueller Furnacette gives more comfortable and more uniform heat than any stove, has a heating capacity equal to two or three ordinary stoves, and yet uses no more fuel than one.

The Furnacette is the most economical of all heaters from the standpoint of heat produced from fuel burned. It heats the whole house comfortably—by air circulation like a warm air furnace—not by radiation, like a stove.

And it's a handsome addition to your living room, at the same time! Convenient Monthly Payments.

On Display In Our Booth At The Fair.

McMILLAN'S
Furniture Dealers Funeral Directors
CEDARVILLE, OHIO

Only Ten Left!! Five of 'em Sold!! Why Lose A $20 Bill!!! (Mack still rarin')

Gentlemen:
Up to last night we sold FIVE of these McD Manure Spreaders! Each man who bought one saved a $20 bill which he at ONCE gave to his wife! !

There are TEN MORE!
Savings are $200!!

An order for one with a small cash payment holds one long enuf for you to rustle about and get the balance of the purchase price.

But they MUST be sold THIS week!
No more reductions.
No use in telling HERE about what they'll DO for you, HOW they've been improved for you and I BOTH know its a heap easier for you to come out to the Fair and SEE for yourself.

Further deponent sayeth NOT.
Yours very truly,
WM. B. McALLISTER, Gen'l Mgr.
Greene County Hardware Company.

up a strong "sales talk" here so I'll DO same. HERE it is:—

There are MANY people who do NOT need a MECHANICAL manure spreader. I will NOT name them HERE.

There are OTHER people who DO need a manure spreader and suffer keenly unless they HAVE one. Such folks as these latter are being given 20 Bucks as a prize for buying one THIS WEEK!!

Further deponent sayeth NOT.

The Greene County Hardware Company

By EDWINA

When You Come To The Fair
HAVE YOUR SHOES REPAIRED —AT—
The Modern Shoe Repair Shop
25 West Main St.

Classified Advertising Page

THE MORNING REPUBLICAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1926.

SOMETHING YOU WANT TO SELL?
USE THE
CLASSIFIED COLUMNS

SOMETHING YOU WANT TO BUY?
READ THE
CLASSIFIED COLUMNS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

Daily Rate Per Line for Consecutive Insertions. Cash Charge.
Six days07
Three days05
One day03
Advertisements are restricted to proper classification, style and type. The right is reserved by the Publishers to edit or reject any advertising.

The Republica Gazette and Republican maintain a staff of clerks ever ready to perform service and render advice on all kinds of advertising.

Advertisements ordered for irregular insertions will be charged for at the one-time rate. No advertisement will be taken for less than three lines. Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.

The Publishers will be responsible only for one incorrect insertion of any advertisement. Classified Ads will be published until 10 a. m. for publication the same day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 1 Card of Thanks.
- 2 In Memoriam.
- 3 Florists, Monuments.
- 4 Taxi Service.
- 5 Notice of Meetings.
- 6 Personal.
- 7 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 8 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 9 Dressmaking, Millinery.
- 10 Beauty Culture.
- 11 Professional Services.
- 12 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 13 Electricians, Wiring.
- 14 Building, Contracting.
- 15 Painting, Papering.
- 16 Repairing, Refinishing.
- 17 Moving, Packing, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 18 Help Wanted—Male.
- 19 Help Wanted—Female.
- 20 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen.
- 22 Situations Wanted.
- 23 Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

- 24 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 25 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
- 26 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 27 Wanted To Buy.
- 28 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 29 Household Goods—Radio.
- 30 Household Goods.
- 31 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 32 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 33 Where To Eat.
- 34 Rooms—With Board.
- 35 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 36 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 37 Houses—Flats—Unfurnished.
- 38 Houses—Flats—Furnished.
- 39 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 40 Miscellaneous For Rent.
- 41 Wanted To Rent.

REAL ESTATE

- 42 Houses For Sale.
- 43 Lots For Sale.
- 44 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 45 Farms For Sale.
- 46 Business Opportunities.
- 47 Wanted—Real Estate.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 48 Automobile Insurance.
- 49 Auto Landings, Painting.
- 50 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 51 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 52 Motorcycles—Bicycles.
- 53 Auto Agencies.
- 54 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

- 55 Auctioneers.
- 56 Auction Sales.

CANDIDATES SUBJECT TO REPUBLICAN PRIMARY AUGUST 10, 1926.

R. D. WILLIAMSON for STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

GEO. H. ECKHART for AUDITOR, GREENE COUNTY.

RALPH O. WEAD for AUDITOR GREENE COUNTY.

R. O. COPSEY for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

FOREST HURLEY for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

B. F. THOMAS for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

JOHN BAUGHN for SHERIFF GREENE COUNTY.

JOS. T. HUTCHISON for TREASURER, GREENE COUNTY.

L. F. CLEVELAND for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

HELEN DODDS for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

MORRIS SHARP for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

FLORIST, MONUMENTS 3

CUT FLOWERS—Gladoli and asters in bloom.—R. O. Dougherty, phone 549W.

NOTICES, MEETINGS 5

NOTICE TO FARMERS—Deliver your cream to Western Ohio Cream Station, Springfield, Ohio.
Highest prices, accurate testing. Next door to Post Office.

LOST AND FOUND 7

LOST—Black patent leather change purse containing paper money.
Call 800, Gazette office. Reward.

LOST KEYS—in leather case.
Finder leave at Gazette office.

LOST—Black and white Beagle pup. Information. Call 1925.
Bake Rite Bakery.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 11

HEMSTITCHING—The Vogue
Embroidery shop, 19 S. Detroit St.

CHIROPODIST—Mrs. R. H. Har-dow, 641 E. Second St., 1175-W.

ROOFING, PLUMBING, HEAT-
ING 12

PLUMBING WORK—of all kinds, guaranteed.—L. W. Coates, Call 999W.

ELECTRICIANS, WIRING 13

STARTER—generator, magneto service.—Xenia Storage Battery Co.

PAINTING, PAPERING 15

BLACKBURN BROS.—Painters and Decorators. Estimates cheerfully given.—Phone 2861.

REPAIRING, REFINISHING 16

FURNITURE REPAIRING—upholstering and refinishing.—Fred Graham, Whittman St.

HELP WANTED—MALE 18

WANTED—A man age 25 to 45 with light car for advertising and sales work for a large nationally advertised company.
Territory established in Greene County. Prefer a married man accustomed to earning $35.00 per week. Apply by letter for interview to G. H. Labren, 1125
U. B. Bldg., Dayton, Ohio.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

VACATION TALK

Some folks have gone to Buckeye Lake and some to Kankakee but I must stay at home and bak, no vacation trip for me.
My days I spend here in my flat with my angel wife and thomas cat, it isn't half so bad as that, but I long for a good spree.

Bob Kingsbury has gone to northern lakes to lead a life of ease, up there he catches toads and snakes and fights the gnats and bees; he has a little tent chateau out where the bathing beauties go, and now and then he sees a show, that life with me agrees.

Now Joe Finney some early morn will start at break of day to tour past fields of oats and corn to some fine northern bay; past sixty he'll be making, the speed laws he'll be breaking, as he sees the farmers raking in fields of new mown hay.

Rev. Thiford now for many weeks has had a great old time he's fished and waded in the creeks and led a life sublime; each day he far does travel on roads of brick and gravel, while I at home unravel the worries of my time.

The preachers all are snoozing, there is no Sunday preaching vacation trips they're choosing, bad lessons they are teaching for I feel I'm slumping, away I would go humping and on a trip go jumping, and for that trip I'm reaching.

But near the day is creeping when to work I'll say "Adieu" my days I'll spend in sleeping, with cares I'll then be through.
Good ralsins I'll be stewing, I'll do my own home brewing, the cat will loud be meowing, for it'll be drinking, too.

So no longer am I weary, no longer am I blue, I dream of old Lake Erie and of 1932, when hard I will endeavor my work from me to sever, and, if I'm mighty clever, I might get a vacation too.

IT'S A FACT

Every worker
In this nation
Should go on
A month's vacation.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE 19

SHOEWORKERS—Experienced
fancy stitchers in fitting room.
—Xenia Shoe Mfg. Co.

LADIES—See mending exhibit,
Art Hall, Fairgrounds.

WOMEN—Experience unnecessary.
Good job for steady women.—
Regal Hotel.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE 20

MEN AND WOMEN OF GREENE
CO.—to take advantage of the special proposition on Delco
Light Plants at the Elchman &
Miller display, Greene County Fair.

SITUATIONS WANTED 22

WASHINGS—to do at home by experienced woman.—Inquire 935
E. 2nd St.

DOGS, CANARIES, PETS 24

LOST—Beagle pup. Bench legged,
Beagle pup, black and white.
Reward.—Phone 264R.

HORSES, CATTLE, HOGS 26

TWO FRESH MILCH COWS—also transparent apples.—S. Arthur
Dean, Phone 4676F-15.

WANTED TO BUY 27

2ND HAND SHARPLESS—cream
separator No. 3.—Phone 4088F-21.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE 28

CARPENTERS FLY SPRAY—in can or bulk.—O. W. Everhart,
115 E. Main St.

12-20 RUMLEY—oil pull tractor.
In fine condition. See it at the Huston-Jackett Hardware Co. display at the Greene County Fair.

3 GENUINE USED—Victor victrolas.—Exchange Dept., Adair's.

BABY BUGGY—in good condition.
Priced very cheap, must sell.
Call 217 E. Market, Phone 432W.

BELTING—second hand. We have a lot of second hands and sizes that we are selling very cheap.
We repair belts of all kinds.
Belts, shoes and fasteners. Electric pumps and washing machine
belts.—The Booklet-Ring Co.,
415 W. Main St., Phone 360.

DON'T MISS—Eichman & Miller's display of Refrigerators at the Greene County Fair.

HAY BALEER—and engine combined.—$100.—John Harbino,
Allen Building.

BUFFETS AND ROUND TABLES—
Fudge's, 115 S. Detroit St.

GET IT AT DONGES

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, RA-DIO 29

PLAYER—pianos, small monthly payments.—John Harbino, Allen Building.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS 30

CHINA CLOSETS—
Fudge's, 115 S. Detroit.

CONSOLE, BUFFET—and wall mirrors.—Fudge's.

OIL STOVES—and gas ranges.—
Fudge's, Phone 921W.

BEDS—tables, bureaus, sideboards,
other furniture, range, computing scales, iron safe, two portographs. Saturday afternoons only.—John Harbino, Allen Bldg.

WARDROBES & CHEFFONERS—
Fudge's, Phone 921W.

HOUSES, FLATS, UNFURNISHED 37

FOR RENT—Upper duplex at 213
W. Church St. Five rooms, two porches, modern equipment, recently refinished.—Apply to Grieve & Harbino.

5 ROOM COTTAGE—1047 W. 2nd
St. Gas, garage, growing garden divided, $15.—M. J. Lebb, 32 E. Market St.

MODERN FIVE ROOM APART-MENT—Centrally located, with bath, electricity, soft water.
Large front and back porch.—
Phone 132R.

WANTED TO RENT 41

WANTED TO RENT—room and board by young man within four squares of Bradstreet's grocery.
—Phone 267.

HOUSES FOR SALE 42

A SPLENDID—all year or summer home, 6 room house and small cottage, barn, poultry house, garage, 1 1/2 acres land with garden truck and shrubbery. Located along river, state highway and traction line.—See Grieve and Harbino.

FARMS FOR SALE 45

MONEY TO LOAN—on FARMS, at
Five per cent interest. Write
W. L. Clemens, Cedarville, Ohio.

TOM LONG—Real Estate man. I will sell your farm and city properties or will loan you money.—See me.—No. W. Main St.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 4

International Radio Programs

ETHERE'S WHITE-CAPS

5:00 P. M. WSAI (328) Cincinnati—Atkinson-Rupp Ladies quartette from Taylor University.

6:30 P. M. WGY (380) Schenectady—
New York Philharmonic Symphony
Orchestra.

8:00 P. M. WHAD (275) Milwaukee—
Milwaukee Park Band Concert.

9:15 P. M. KOA (322) Denver—Eaton
Park (Coke) Chamber of Commerce Program.

SILENT STATIONS

Eastern: CNR, CNR, CNR, WBAI, WBRR, WFL, WGBS, WCCP, WHAR, WIP, WPC, WRC, WREQ. Central:
KFDK, KILS, WCA, WCB, WFAA,
WGST, WMC, WQAV. Western: CNRV, KFAU, KGO, WBAP.

EVENING CONCERTS

8:00 P. M.

KJR (325) Seattle—Pug Sound Trip.

WSAI (328) Cincinnati—Atkinson-Rupp's Ladies quartette, Taylor University.

WLIS (332) Elgin, Ill. Popular.

WEAF (492) N. Y. The Sholola Merry-maids and their band.

WIAW, WWI, WKEI, WOO, ESD, WCAP,
WAGN and WGB.

WENY (375) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

CTW (356) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saxophone Octet, also WOO, WIAW, WAGN, WKEI, WCAP,
WIAW, WWI, WKEI, WOO, ESD, WCAP,
WAGN and WGB.

WTZ (455) N. Y. Philharmonic concert.
WYI (380) Schenectady. N. Y. Philharmonic Orchestra.

7:00 P. M.

FAAM (353) Nashville. Best Beavers.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

KNY (263) Shenandoah. Concert.

WSOE (246) Milwaukee. "Jumpy the Boot-black."

FWX (406) Havana. Military Band Music.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

WCAE (422) Pittsburgh. Concert.

Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs.
James Patterson, of Xenia; Mr.
and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, of Sabina.

Miss Alta Turner had for her guest last week, Miss Eleanor Alexander, of Xenia.

Miss Bernice Harper has returned from Philadelphia, where she visited with her uncle, Dr.
Larimer and family and attended
the Sesqui-Centennial.

Mrs. Laura Bryan, of Springfield, was the guest last week of
Mrs. Nellie Myers and family and
Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bryan.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs.
N. N. Hunter entertained a group of women with a luncheon-bridge
honoring her mother and sister,
Mrs. Albert Wickersham and Miss
Katherine who left on Sunday evening for their home at Denver, after making a delightful visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs.
N. N. Hunter.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Y. Whitehead will leave on the ninth for Bear Lake, Mich., where they will spend a two weeks' vacation. They will be accompanied by a friend, Mr.
Fred Yount, of Warren, O.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner and daughter, Miss Alta, Miss Eleanor Alexander, Mr. Russell Reynolds attended a party, who visited the Ohio Caverns, including the French Castles, and other points
of interest last week.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Henry and two sons left on Sunday by motor for a two weeks' trip to Niagara Falls, Canada and in New York
State. Dr. and Mrs. W. T.
Mathews and two sons of New Vienna accompanied them.

Mrs. Nettie Myers will be the hostess to the members of the W.
P. M. S. of the M. E. Church, on Thursday afternoon. Miss E. May Harper will preside. After the devotional service the program will be led by Mrs. Frazier. The topic for discussion will be "Pioneer and Pioneering." Miss Sarah Short and Mrs. H. D. Buckles will have a part on the program. This meeting will mark the annual opening of the mite boxes, which will be conducted by the treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Titus. A full attendance is desired.

Mrs. Frank Long and Miss Lella
McGuire, of Columbus, were house guests last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnes.

Mrs. Mary T. Waters, of Saratoga, Ind., is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John David and other relatives in Jamestown.

Mrs. J. Q. McClain spent from Friday until Sunday evening in Springfield with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bisher.

Miss E. May Harper with her niece, Miss Bernice Harper visited on Friday with the former's sister, Mrs. J. H. Barnett, near Xenia.

Fol

FOLLOWING THE NEWS WITH THE CAMERA

World's Costliest Picture

For $281,300, the highest price for a picture at auction, Sir Joseph Duveen obtained this portrait of Mrs. Davenport, by George Romney, painted in 1872. It may come to America.

Had Affair with Admiral

Lady Margaret Barbara Cruise was divorced in London by Sir Richard Robert Cruise, King George's oculist. His charge that she was guilty of misconduct with Sir Guy Daunt, retired admiral, was not contested.

Leads in Rebuilding Grandeur of Roman Social Civilization

In rebuilding Rome as the world's center of culture Premier Mussolini is not overlooking his human material. Hostesses of charm and distinction are necessary. One of the leaders of Roman society is presented herewith, the Baroness Scagliola, whose social functions have long been among the most brilliant in the Eternal City.

Indicted

Colonel Ned Green, Prohibition Administrator for the San Francisco District, was indicted for misappropriation of seized liquor.

Prosecutor

Alexander Simpson, State Senator and noted lawyer, was named special prosecutor of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, accused of perpetrating the famous Hall-Mills murder.

Woman Journalist Radios Interviews

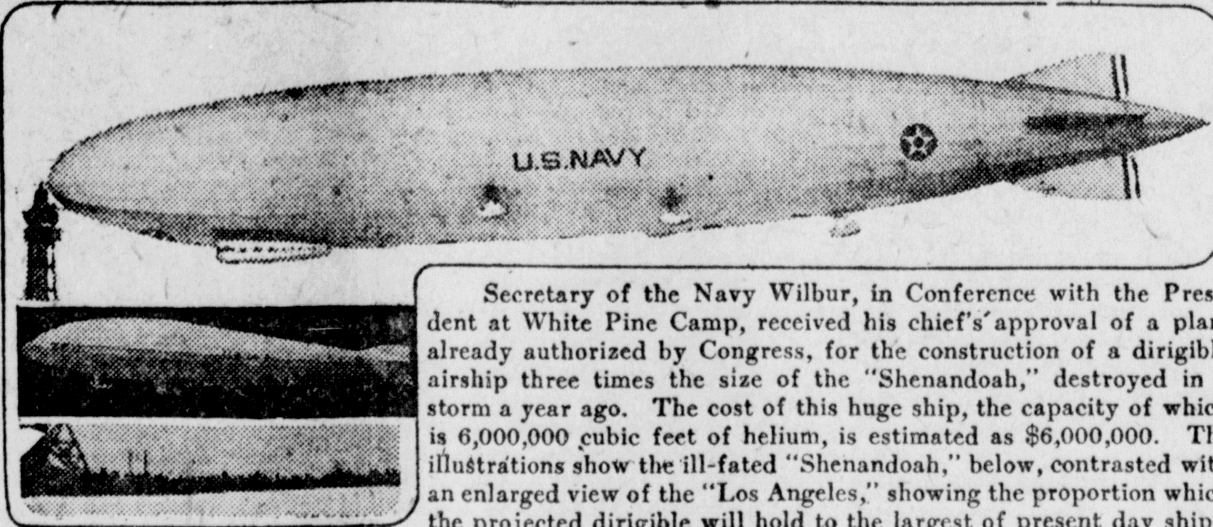

Miss Rose Therese Nagel of New York has interviewed celebrities for her newspaper for ten years. Instead of typewriting them for the printed page she now gives them to the public via radio station WGBS, New York City.

Inquisitive

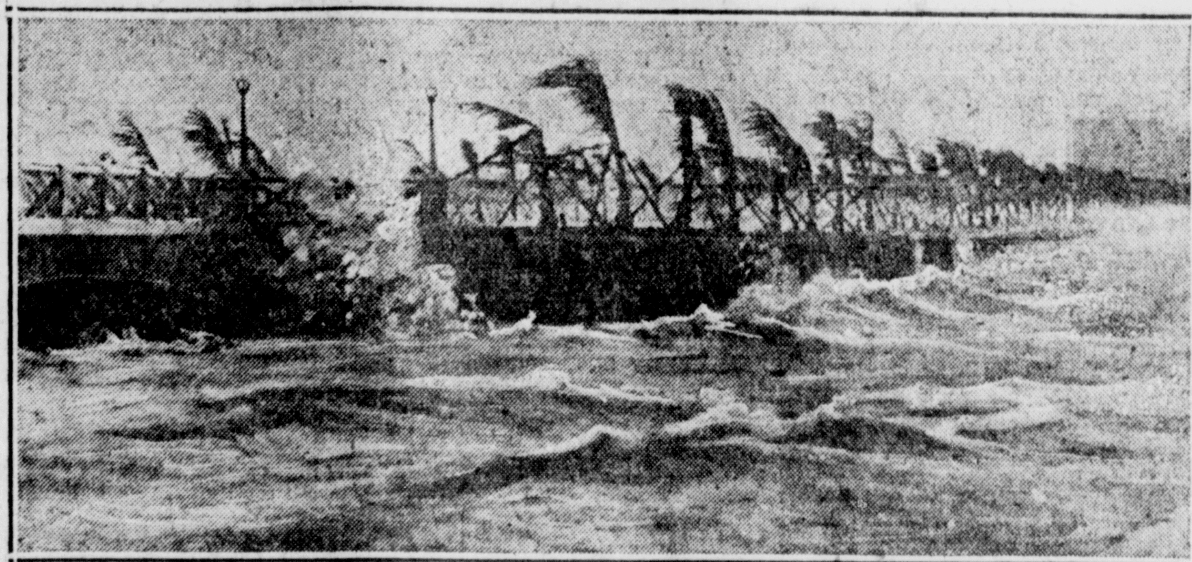

Curious youngsters used this method of obtaining a peep at Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall while she was held in the New Brunswick, N. J., jail for the murder of her husband and a choir singer.

Coolidge Approves Navy's Plan for Giant Dirigible to Be Three Times the Size of the "Shenandoah"

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, in Conference with the President at White Pine Camp, received his chief's approval of a plan, already authorized by Congress, for the construction of a dirigible airship three times the size of the "Shenandoah," destroyed in a storm a year ago. The cost of this huge ship, the capacity of which is 6,000,000 cubic feet of helium, is estimated as $6,000,000. The illustrations show the ill-fated "Shenandoah," below, contrasted with an enlarged view of the "Los Angeles," showing the proportion which the projected dirigible will hold to the largest of present day ships.

In Fury of Florida's Coastal Storm

This picture of the Miami causeway was taken at the height of the storm that swept the coast of Florida. Note the palms bending in the furious gale.

Governors Assemble in Wyoming for Pow-wow

Governors of "these United States" are assembled at Cheyenne, Wyoming, for the regular conference of governors. Above are seen four New England state executives at the convention; left to right:—Governors John G. Winnett, New Hampshire; Ralph C. Brewster, Maine; John H. Trumbull, Conn., and Franklin S. Billings, Vermont.

"Little Gray Home in the West"

Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, was to appear before the Los Angeles Grand Jury to explain evidence unearthed by John Ryan, assistant district attorney. Ryan is shown holding clothes he found in the cottage above, at Carmel, Cal., where a man and woman, identified as Kenneth Ormiston, radio man, and Mrs. McPherson stayed during her disappearance.

(International Newsreel.)

"Shame Suicide" Trial On

Former Police Chief Zenaido Llanos (inset), admitted meeting Audrey and Clyde Peteet in the Oakland bar (above) at Tia Juana, Mexico, but denied he attacked her. He was on trial on charges growing out of the suicide of the girls and their parents.

Hailed as Modern "Mona Lisa"

Beauty experts agree that in this lovely face resides something of the charm, the undefinable quality of Mona Lisa—wistful, mysterious, and utterly feminine. All that's very well, but the beauty happens to be Ramon Hinds, a Davenport, Ia., high school boy, whose feminine impersonations on the amateur stage have won him much gleeful fame.

Pictorial Capsule Newspaper

M. FRANKLIN BOUILLON

LORRAINE GOULD

LADY ASTOR

HARRY HARTZ

FOREIGN: M. Franklin Bouillon, enemy of the French debt settlement, rejected the ambassadorship to Washington. STAGE: Mrs. Lorraine Manville Gould became America's richest actress with the inheritance of her share of the estate of her father, asbestos king. SOCIAL: Lady Astor, American-born member of Parliament, is on her way to the United States, incognito. SPORTS: Harry Hartz held an almost unbeatable lead for the season auto racing championship.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother.

FLORENCE RIDGEWAY, an aristocratic old lady, who saw poverty staring her in the face, and chose the easiest way out. Rosilyn loving her husband, knows that he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

STEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway. She is in Paris when the news reaches her of Landis' marriage and she hastens back to the United States. With her goes Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, who has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and when the two reach New York, she suggests that they ask the young Ridgeways to dinner. She and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby through an apparent misunderstanding Rosilyn and Briscoe will be left alone together, while she will be with her beloved Landis.

Landis, finding himself alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more. Some hours later that evening, Rosilyn who is bewildered to find herself spending the evening in the company of Rupert Briscoe, sees her husband dancing with Lydia—in his eyes a look of rapture. She believes he has seen her but is too rude—or ashamed—to speak. Briscoe asks her to go on to a night club, and in a mood of recklessness she consents.

In Paris Van Vorst, realizing the reason for Lydia's sudden trip to America and hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta, a dancer and sweetheart of Briscoe's in connection with a plan. These two arrange to come to New York where Marietta is to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

CHAPTER 37

"Poles Apart"

After her amazing dip into New York night-life, piloted by Rupert Briscoe, young Mrs. Landis Ridgeway—her mind a turmoil of mixed feelings permeated by a strange excitement—went up by the lift to the hotel floor where Landis doubtless would be awaiting her, and the night-porter, with a jangling of keys and a curious sidelong glance at the girl, unlocked the front door leading to their private suite.

"Anything I can get for you madam?" he inquired obsequiously. (Money talked.)

"Nothing." Then, as an afterthought—"Unless my husband wants anything?"

A tremor had assailed her. How could she face Landis, after the happenings of the night?

"Mr. Ridgeway has not yet returned, madam." The man coughed apologetically.

"Not returned?"

"No, madam. There was a telephone call for him an hour or two ago, and no reply from the rooms. And, since then, I have not seen him."

Rosilyn entered the tiny hallway, groping for the electric switch.

"Let me do that for you madam." The porter went into the sitting room flooding the place with subdued light.

When he had gone, the girl stood hesitating, listening.

Landis not back yet?

The French clock on the mantelpiece pointed to a minute or two beyond half past three!

This the mutual companionship! So this—this was married life! of which she'd fondly dreamed!

A vast silence seemed to enwrap the world. She felt unutterably alone.

Landis—out till all hours with the Harbrook woman!

Landis—to have left her with another man!

He was treating her as no doubt he had always been accustomed to treat girls of her class and breeding.

A wave of anger caught her. Then it passed as suddenly as it had come.

With dragging steps she crossed the apartment to the door leading to her husband's bedroom. It stood ajar.

She switched the light on, to reveal the neat mahogany bedstead empty, and the place unoccupied.

Beyond she could see the bathroom, white, with gleaming, nickel gadgets.

She crossed to her own bedroom, undressed hastily, and then—before getting into bed—boiled the door between her and the sitting-room.

Lying in the cool darkness, her mind reverted to the parting words of Rupert Briscoe.

"Little Lady of My Dreams—goodnight!"

No one had ever talked like that to her before. She had never heard that cadence, vibrant with suppressed feeling, in a man's voice.

At last only Landis spoke to her like that!

The little wave of anger caught her once again. To have given so much, of love, of longing, and of worldly goods—and to get nothing—nothing—in return!

Tired out, she fell asleep at last, and did not hear her husband's step when he returned from his long session with Lydia Harbrook.

It had terminated in a taxi-ride which Lydia had cleverly engineered. She had pretended to be staying over in New Jersey with a friend, and it was only when the car was well out of New York and the first twitters of the dawn breaking over the lovely countryside that she had confessed her little ruse.

"You do get such attacks of the conventions," Landis, that I had to play the timid maiden afraid to go home alone, and so I invented a little story." She had laughed at him, conscious of her potent beauty. "Smatter of fact, I'm putting up for a few days at a hotel in town, quite near your own."

In the pale, soft light he looked at her. That little golden head of hers emerged just like a sunflower from the high fur collar of her evening wrap. Her face was like a moonbeam, pallid and elusive, and so beautiful that his breath caught in his throat as he regarded her. Her lips formed a perfect cupid's bow, deliciously red.

Those lips drew him, lured him on, so that suddenly—his better self defeated by the sheer headiness of the lovely creature at his side—he stooped and kissed her, as often he had kissed her in the days gone by—long—passionately—with a sense of utmost intoxication.

"You aren't angry with me, Landis darling, for having lured you on this heavenly motor-run? Please say you aren't angry?"

"Angry? Oh, Lydia—!" he breathed. Then, to the chauffeur: "Drive on—anywhere—"

The red lips had won.

Tomorrow—Landis Returns.

TAX COLLECTION IN JUNE GREATEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

Tax collection in Greene County for the June installment period amounts to $499,451.74 to date, the largest single collection for June in the history of the county, and when the official total is made up, is expected to exceed the half million mark, County Treasurer Frank A. Jackson announces.

The largest single collection in one day was $33,810, entered on the books July 20, the final day. This amount is about $2,000 under the record set at the last semi-annual collection.

Last December the collection totaled $586,673 but this figure was swelled by various special assessments.

The single day collection record would have been broken this year if the office had been able to handle the accumulation of mail in time, the treasurer says. Delinquents were fewer than expected.

Taxes are still being paid in by taxpayers who neglected or were unable to pay within the restricted period.

The total collection to date this year exceeds the mark set in the corresponding collection in June, 1925 by more than $30,000, as last year's figure was $468,000.

The tax books are to be turned over to the county auditor's office and work will be started soon in making the distributions to the various districts. The actual payment of the tax collectors to the districts will be made about August 28.

PROBATING LEGAL COURT HAS UPHELD

Decision of the Probate Court which held that Ralph McAfee, Cincinnati, had received due and legal notice of the probating of the will of his father, Joseph McAfee, late of Cedarville, has been sustained in Common Pleas Court, and probate of the will upheld.

Ralph McAfee sought to have the probate of the will set aside because of a technical omission in the notice received by him.

GIRLS, WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whiteners, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared. adv.

Quick safe relief CORNS

In one minute your misery from corns is ended. That's what Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads do safely by removing the cause—pressing or rubbing of shoes. You risk no danger of infection. Zino-pads are thin, medicated, antiseptic, protective, healing. At all druggists and shoe dealers—35c.

For Free Sample write The Scholl Mfg. Co., Chicago

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads Put one on—the pain is gone

POLICE GYMKHANA FEATURE OF SESQUI

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—The thrills of a police trooper's life will be exhibited to audiences at the Sesqui Centennial Exposition in the gigantic police Gymkhana which opens its four-day meet at the Municipal Stadium here today.

There will be competitive exhibitions and drills by crack companies of the Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts State Troopers, and in addition, picked squads from the cities of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia were entered.

One of the outstanding features will be a group of the hardy and colorful "Royal Northwest Mounted" here as guests to the Gymkhana from the Canadian border.

CEDARVILLE

The Home Culture Club and husbands held their annual picnic at Antioch Glen, Wednesday afternoon.

The Golden Rule Sunday School Class of the M. E. Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Rosa Smith, Thursday night.

Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Oxley and family are spending a few days with relatives in Licking County.

Mr. Clayton McMillan and family have returned home after a motor trip to Tarkio, Mo., where they have been visiting with Mrs. McMillan's parents for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Watt have for their guests, Rev. W. A. Condon and family of Ulrichsville.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club was entertained this week at the W. J. Tarbox summer camp by Mrs. Tarbox.

Mrs. Mable Randall of Anderson, Ind., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McLean last Sunday.

Rev. LaCleda Markle and wife of Gettysburg, O. visited Mrs. Markle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Davis for a few days last week.

Mr. H. H. Brown and family and Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. W. W. Provant left Sunday for Oakwood, O., where they will spend a week visiting friends.

Mrs. Flora Dobbins returned home this week from Oxford, O., where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wisecup.

Mr. and Mrs. Maine Weimer and son Robert of Upper Sandusky, O.

were guests of Mrs. Rosa Smith for a few days last week. Miss Regina Smith accompanied them home for a short visit.

Miss Donna Burns had for her guests over the week end, Mr. H. F. Moffett of Mt. Vernon, O., Prof. and Mrs. Paul Sloane of Defiance, O., and Miss Margaret Hill of Montpelier, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swaby and daughter, Doris and Miss Olive Coe are on a motor trip to Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Richie of Pittsburgh came Thursday evening and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huey for a few days.

Mr. G. H. Hartman came into possession of the O. S. Smith property last week and moved into it Wednesday.

The Boy Scouts are at Camp Miami this week under the direction of their scout master, Rev. W. P. Harriman.

The First Presbyterian congregation and Sabbath School held their annual picnic at Snyder Park, at Springfield Wednesday and the United Presbyterian congregation and Sabbath School held their picnic Thursday at Snyder Park. One hundred and fifty were present.

Dr. and Mrs. M. I. Marsh attended the funeral of Mr. W. D. Marsh, a half brother of the doctor at Orversville, Saturday Dr. and Mrs. Marsh visited relatives in Milford for a few days the first of the week.

Mrs. Hugh Grindle is in Cincinnati for a couple of weeks.

Jean Patton is much improved after being overcome with the heat last week but he is not able yet to leave his room.

Rev. J. S. McMichael and wife of Connorsville, Ind., are here for a visit at the home of Mr. S. M. Murdoch. Rev. McMichael is superintendent of the Chautauqua which opens at New Carlisle next week.

Miss Frances McChesney who was one of the successful contestants from the county won a trip to Niagara Falls. She returned home Saturday evening after a delightful trip.

Miss Margaret Galloway, sister of Mr. W. W. Galloway of this place will become the bride of Mr. Wesley Ellsworth Bowman of Chicago. The wedding takes place August 3 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Galloway, Xenia, O.

Mrs. Dora Kerr had for her guest over Monday Miss Bertha Jacks of Dayton.

Mr. E. A. Richards and family have for their guests, Mr. Richards parents from Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas of Indianapolis are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nixon of Dayton, were guests of friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas of Indianapolis, Mrs. Ed Hamilton, Mrs. C. E. Masters and Mrs. Edith Blair spent Monday and Tuesday with friends in Columbus.

Quite a number of ladies from here attended the announcement of Miss Marjorie Wright's approaching marriage to Albert Peterson of Frankfort, O., Friday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. C. Wright in Xenia, O. The marriage will take place August 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Elias are receiving a visit from Mrs. Elias' father, Mr. Sullivan of West Virginia, this week.

Take S.S.S. for PIMPLES-BOILS RUN-DOWN-CONDITION LOSS OF APPETITE RHEUMATISM

You can take S. S. S. with confidence—millions testify to its merits. An unbroken record of service for over 100 years is a great testimonial to a great medicine.

Remember S. S. S. is made only from fresh roots and herbs.

Peerless 1927 Models At the Fair

Four Door Sedan	$1750.00
Two Door Sedan	$1700.00
Roadster	$1650.00
Roadster Coupe	$1730.00

Equipped with bumpers, spare tire, snubbers, stop light, moto-meter, rear vision mirror and automatic windshield wiper. Seven main bearings, Lock-Heed Hydraulic four wheel brakes and six inch tires.

THE WICKERSHAM HARDWARE CO

XENIA JAMESTOWN

Phone 973 Phone 8

Peerless Has Always Been a Good Car

GAS BUGGIES or HEM AND AMY—Dividends! Dividends!

HEM'S POPULARITY SOARS SKYWARD WHEN HE ANNOUNCES THE FIRST DIVIDEND BY PETRIFIED GAS, AS HE HAD BEEN REQUESTED TO DO BY SMART-AND-COLDGRIR WHEN HE UNKNOWNLY INTERRUPTED THEIR HASTY PREPARATIONS FOR ABSCONDING WITH THE STOCKHOLDERS' MONEY.

THERE'S NO DENYIN' IT, BATHNIN' HEM IS FINANCIAL WIZARD. THINK OF IT! A FIFTY PER CENT DIVIDEND.

FIFTY PER CENT! FIFTY PER CENT! FIFTY PER CENT!

MR. EBERLE! I WANTCHA TO MEET GUY WITH THE MIDAS WIT. HE'S PAYIN' US A DIVIDEND OF A HUNDRED AND FIFTY PER CENT!

YES, HONEY! A HUNDRED PER CENT!

I GUESS THE CLUB AIN'T PROUD OF HEM, OSCAR!

NO!

YOU DON'T NEED NO COLLEGE DEGREE TO SPOT HIS BRAINS, EBBY.

ABSOLUTELY, BLANCHE! NO QUESTION ABOUT IT. HEM SAW THE DOUGH WITH HIS OWN EYES. SACKS OF IT WERE FIXED FOR LIFE. WE'RE INDEPENDENT! AND BELIEVE ME, I LET THE BOSS KNOW IT WHEN HE TRIED TO STOP ME FROM COMING HOME TO TELL YOU.

OH, ED! I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE IT--DEAR OLD HEM--AND JUST YESTERDAY I GAVE HIM SUCH A DIRTY LOOK WHEN HE PAST. OH DEAR, I MUST RUN RIGHT DOWN TOWN AND GET THAT FUR COAT BEFORE IT'S GONE.

THINKING SHE HADN'T SEEN ME, I NODDED AGAIN, AND SHE KEPT RIGHT ON AS THOUGH I DIDN'T EXIST. I COULD HAVE SLAPPED HER FACE. I MIGHT HAVE GETTING SO STUCK UP. SHE DIDN'T EARN THE MONEY. IT WAS JUST BY DUMB LUCK THAT THEY HAPPENED TO PICK ON PETRIFIED GAS!

OOOH! OO-OOH! OO-OO-OOH! TWO HUNDRED PER CENT!! -- AND YOU SAID NO WHEN I WAS GOING TO BUY IT--- --AND I LISTENED TO YOU.

KENNEDY CUTS THE PRICE

On Shoes For The Entire Family

A Clean New Stock To Select From

KENNEDY'S ECONOMY SHOE STORE

And Now—Ice Cream Every Day!

Cool, refreshing, healthful, . . . what is so good as a big dish of ice cream on a hot day?

If you buy it from the best dealers it will be made and kept electrically—absolutely pure. Frigidaire ice cream cabinets are a part of the equipment of the up-to-date store—your guarantee that this tempting delicacy will reach you as fresh and wholesome as when it is made.

And in your own home, Frigidaire keeps frozen desserts firm and tasty till you are ready to serve them. If you make them yourself, the freezing compartment does the hard work. This automatic way of making frozen dainties is a far cry indeed from the old ice-and-salt nuisance of the ice cream freezer.

—Another advantage of the constant cold of

Frigidaire ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

Have one this summer. Come in and let us show you the new metal cabinet models or the electric units for your present ice box.

The Dayton Power & Light Co Xenia District

Electric Refrigeration means CONSTANT COLD

By BECK

MEXICAN BANKS ASK FOR MEDIATION

WETS, ANTI-KLAN WIN IN PRIMARIES

TWO UNDER SURVEILLANCE IN PROBE OF HALL-MILLS MURDER

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 4.—Two men have been put under surveillance, subject to arrest upon suspicion and six secret subpoenas have been issued against persons in Jersey City in connection with the Hall-Mills murder.

The subpoenas have been given to Detective Chief Hayes and ordered held in readiness for service should the persons named attempt to leave the jurisdiction.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Simpson believed that his evidence is good. Dr. E. I. Cronk, Jersey City physician was brought to New Brunswick to make a record of his reported conclusions that the murdered bodies of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were placed on the ground after they had been taken from a car where they were killed.

The state believes that the torn love letters, found scattered near the bodies may have been placed there by persons who had taken them from the Hall home.

PLEASANT WEATHER GREETING OPENING OF ANNUAL FAIR HERE

Entries Exceed Past As Exposition Gets Under Way

Clear skies and a warm, smiling sun greeted the opening of the eighty-seventh annual Greene County Fair Wednesday morning with indications pointing to one of the most successful fairs in years.

Secretary J. Robert Bryson announces entries in the various departments have equalled and in some cases exceeded other years and the fair management is making arrangements to care for the expected largest attendance in the history of the yearly event.

Impatient fair-goers wandered over the grounds Tuesday watching final preparations being made at the different halls, booths and exhibits for the grand opening Wednesday.

Xenia took on a festive appearance Wednesday morning and the very atmosphere was permeated with the fair appeal.

The livestock and poultry judging was begun Wednesday and this opened with all the barnyard pomp and ceremony of previous years.

The entire city gave evidence of the holiday and fair lovers set themselves for three days of all manner of entertainment and sight-seeing.

All roads led to the Xenia Fairgrounds and streets and roads began to clog with traffic early in the morning.

HARRY S. DAY WILL BE HERE THURSDAY

Harry S. Day, Fremont, state treasurer, and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primary, will visit Greene County Thursday in the interests of his campaign, it is announced.

Mr. Day will spend the entire day in the county conferring with Republican leaders and will probably visit the Greene County Fair. He will make a tour of the county.

The present state treasurer is waging an active campaign and has met thousands of voters in his tour of the state.

RE-APPRAISAL NEARS COMPLETION HERE

Xenia's general re-appraisal of real estate in the business and residential districts is gradually looking toward completion, according to an announcement from the County Auditor's office.

Two districts have already completed field work of placing revaluations on property and are now engaged in reviewing their work.

These districts are in the southeast part of the fourth ward and the southern portion of the second ward. The district in the fourth ward was the first to finish. Appraisal in every other district is also rapidly nearing an end.

CHILD IS LUCKY

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—Juanita Hughes, aged two, fell from the second story of her home when she rolled from her bed and out an open door. Neighbors took her to a hospital but doctors could not find a bruise on her.

LIST YOUR PROPERTY WITH G. C. A.

"Real estate in Xenia is all right if you use Classified Advertising in the Gazette as a medium for informing prospective buyers."

S. Engelman, of W. Main St. Mr. Engelman recently sold six houses and attributes every sale to Gazette Classified Advertising.

You may obtain the same results by listing your property with the Gazette. Phone an ad now to 1-1-1.

NEW TAX REDUCTIONS FORECAST BY TREASURY

Reduction Of National Debt Will Make Tax Cuts Possible, Probably Before Presidential Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—New tax reductions, possibly before the presidential election of 1928 and at the latest by 1930, were forecast today by treasury experts as statistics were made public showing the national debt has been reduced to $19,612,527,228.

The government will be financially clear of all obligations to its citizens by 1944 if the administration policy of reducing the public debt as rapidly as possible and applying money received from foreign nations for war debts to the fund is continued.

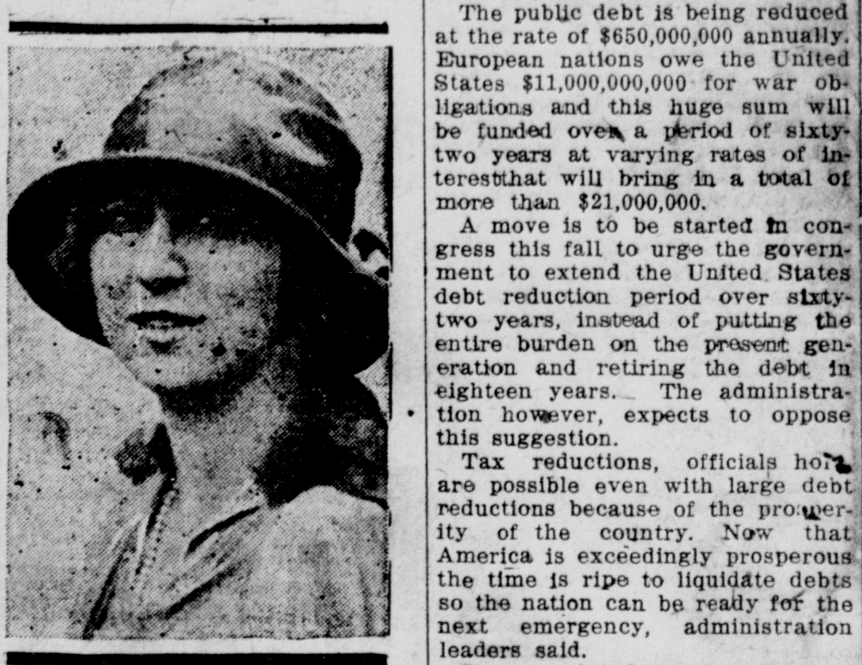

The public debt is being reduced at the rate of $650,000,000 annually. European nations owe the United States $11,000,000,000 for war obligations and this huge sum will be funded over a period of sixty-two years at varying rates of interest that will bring in a total of more than $21,000,000,000.

A move is to be started in congress this fall to urge the government to extend the United States debt reduction period over sixty-two years, instead of putting the entire burden on the present generation and retiring the debt in eighteen years. The administration, however, expects to oppose this suggestion.

Tax reductions, officials hope, are possible even with large debt reductions because of the prosperity of the country. Now that America is exceedingly prosperous the time is ripe to liquidate debts so the nation can be ready for the next emergency, administration leaders said.

It was pointed out that the government so far this fiscal year has a surplus of $13,924,000 in the treasury, whereas last year at the same time the nation faced a deficit of $50,647,000.

Dubonnet's Beautiful Wives

Mrs. Jean Nash, prominent in society in two continents, was reported about to wed Paul Dubonnet. Meanwhile, Mme. Dubonnet was reported engaged to Harry Hays Morgan, brother of Reggy Vanderbilt and Lady Furness.

FESS CRITICIZES FRANCE FOR FAVORING DEBT CANCELLATION

Senator Says Economic Problems Will Force France To Pay Up—Addresses Republican Veterans In Dayton

Attitude of France in leaning toward a cancellation of its debt to the United States was severely criticized by United States Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, in an address at the annual indoor picnic of the Veterans' Republican Club in Dayton Tuesday night.

"France," asserted the senator, "is the most disappointing of any country in Europe in regard to its debts to this country." He continued:

"France had the most to gain by the intervention of America in the World War and now it is leaning toward a cancellation of its debts to this country. But despite the agitations of its politicians, I believe France will make an adjustment of its financial obligations, because it will be forced to do so by the economic problems arising from its failure to pay."

Senator Fess also expressed resentment over European suggestions that the United States transform its loans to those countries to gifts.

"Whether we were in the war a long time or a short time, the fact remains that the United States won the war, and we only ask Europe to pay."

He pointed out that England, owing a principal of $4,600,000,000 will pay a total of more than $11,000,000,000 because of the interest by the end of the sixty-two years paying period.

Preceding the picnic, the senator, upon his arrival in Dayton, was entertained at dinner at the Miami Hotel.

HUSKY COP LOSES BATTLE TO WOMAN

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Patrolman James Russell, six feet tall and one of the strongest and heaviest men on the Chester police force, was stabbed, chased two blocks off his beat, and shot at twice with his own revolver today, police allege, by Mrs. Agnes Tulley, Chester, Mrs. Tulley, who is twenty-seven years old, was arrested.

According to witnesses, Russell was standing on a corner when a taxicab stopped near him. Mrs. Tulley, it is said, stepped from the machine with a knife in her hand and made for the policeman, striking wildly at him with the knife. One lunge ripped Russell's coat and wounded him.

Mrs. Tulley was arrested a few minutes later. She is a small, frail woman, weighing 105 pounds. She refused to talk.

BOB DONAHEY WILL MARRY IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4.—Robert V. Donahey, eldest son of Gov. and Mrs. Donahey and Miss Doris Weber, daughter of J. A. Weber, superintendent of the Roosevelt Game Preserve, Portsmouth, will be married here this afternoon.

The ceremony will be informal and only a few friends of the couple will be present. Gov. Donahey will attend but Mrs. Donahey and other members of the family may not be there.

Following the ceremony the couple will leave on a combined business and pleasure trip to Cuba. Donahey is employed by a Cleveland Insurance Company.

WEST VIRGINIAN KILLED

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Willis R. Strother, 32 years old, was crushed to death today when a delivery truck he was driving for his uncle, Jesse F. Strother, merchant, skidded and rolled 400 feet down an embankment. A widow and three small children survive.

PARTIAL RETURNS SHOW KANSAS VOTED AGAIN FOR WILLIAMS

Oklahoma Giving Lead To Klan Candidates

Incomplete returns from primary elections in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma today pointed to at least a "modified wet" victory in the Missouri senatorial contests defeat of what little Ku Klux Klan influence there was in the Kansas primary and victory for Klan candidates in Oklahoma.

Nomination of Senator George S. Williams, Republican and Rep. Harry B. Wells, in the Missouri senate race over their dry opponents was apparent in view of their leads of approximately 50,000. Williams, incumbent, has stated he is personally opposed to the 18th amendment but favors its enforcement so long as it is a law.

Hawes has taken his stand supporting the 18th amendment.

Senator Curtis, Republican, has been re-nominated in Kansas, returns indicate and in the state contest, those candidates opposed by Klan elements were leading.

Partial returns in Oklahoma showed Senator J. C. Harrell, Republican incumbent safely re-nominated while in the Democratic contest, J. C. Walton, deposed governor and Klan foe, was trailing 8,000 votes behind Elmer Thomas. In the Democratic gubernatorial race, Henry S. Johnston, reputed Klan candidate was leading the field by nearly 10,000 votes.

ROTARIANS LISTEN TO TROY JURIST

Young people as an important factor in the correct solution of the social problem, was the subject of Judge L. E. St. John, Troy, O., Miami Co. Juvenile Court who addressed Xenia Rotary Club, Tuesday.

Judge St. John was the principal speaker at the meeting at the Elks Lodge. He discussed social problems in general and brought out many interesting sidelights gained from his court work.

CORN BORER HITS MANY OHIO COUNTIES

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4.—Thirty-one Ohio counties including 350 townships are infested with the European corn borer according to reports to the Ohio department of agriculture today.

The corn borer first appeared in Ohio in 1921 since then the pest has spread westward toward the Indiana line.

Farmers were urged to combat the corn borer by disposing of the corn fodder in the fall, winter or early spring.

KILLED BY WIFE

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 4.—William Shaffer, 30, farmer was shot to death at his home near West Union yesterday by his wife after he had chastized their daughter for her failure to keep a cow out of the oats field. Mrs. Shaffer was freed after an inquest.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS GATHER AT OXFORD FOR MEETING: EVOLUTION MAY BE DISCUSSED

OXFORD, Eng., Aug. 4.—More than 3,500 delegates, representing every shade of thought in science, gathered here today for the opening session of the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Three hundred papers, ranging in subject from the addresses on "The Effect on African Native Races of Contact with European Civilization" to "The Determination of Sex in Plants" will be presented by members before the final session next Wednesday.

The British Association is undoubtedly the greatest scientific forum and its meetings have long been battle grounds where the blood of conflicting scientific thought is spilled.

At the last meeting of the Association held here in 1894, the Marquis of Salisbury, then president of the association, engaged in the famous controversy with Huxley over the Darwinian theory and again brought the subject to world wide attention. Previously in 1860, at the meeting here, Wilberforce and Hooker became engaged in a violent controversy on the same subject.

It is possible that the discussion on "The Evolution of Human Races: A Review of the Modern Position," scheduled for next Monday, may again open the subject to a general debate.

Any member of the association may present an approved paper on any subject for the consideration of his fellows. Approval of proposed papers is readily available.

The principal addresses by members of the association at the present meeting include: "The Scope of Organic Chemistry," by Prof. J. F. Thorpe, F.R.S.; "Progress in the Study of the British Lower Carboniferous Rocks," by Prof. S. H. Reynolds; "Inheritance as an Economic Factor," by Sir Josiah Stamp, K.B.E., the annual Botany address by Prof. F. O. Bower, F.R.S.; "The Economic Development of British Tropical Africa," by Hon. W. Ormsby-Gore, M.P.; "Function and Design," by Prof. J. B. Leathes, F.R.S.; "Electricity Supply: Its

"Deb" Leader in New Rome

Every day brings new evidence of the revival of interest in social life in Rome. Hostesses and debutantes are flourishing. Herewith is presented the loveliest of the recent Roman "debs," Donna Mimi Deth. Quite aside from being pictorially charming, she is an enthusiastic sportswoman.

ENGINEER RECOMMENDS FISH HATCHERY FOR BRYAN FARM

Site Fulfills Qualifications Agriculture Director Told—Action May Be Expected Soon.

Recommendation that a fish hatchery be located on the celebrated 500-acre Riversdale Farm of the late John Bryan, near Yellow Springs, by the state, was contained in a report filed with State Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax, by F. A. Farley, Columbus, engineer of the Ohio Division of Fish and Game, who inspected the land a month ago to ascertain what advantages it presented.

According to a copy of the report sent to Representative R. D. Williamson, the engineer said he was "agreeably surprised at the marvelous scenery of the entire surroundings," and that there is "no doubt in my mind this site will prove to be one of the best locations in Ohio."

Mr. Farley also advised Director Truax to give orders, if it meets with his approval, to have the land cleared, all the necessary borings and surveys and a finished plan made at once.

"The committee of gentlemen who talked to you on the project made no misrepresentations to you as to the merits of this site, and as you are fully aware the three essential points in the construction of a pool hatchery are: the purity and volume of water, location and drainage," the letter read. "I earnestly believe these conditions exist," the engineer concluded.

The favorable report of the state engineer bridges the last obstacle remaining in the path of the conversion of the fine park into a game preserve and fish hatchery site, in the opinion of local sportsmen who are sponsoring the project.

The park is in a fair state of preservation and is conceded to be one of the finest natural parks in the state. Sportsmen say it is one of nature's beautiful creations 500 acres of mingled woodland and meadows, hills and vales, springs and cascades, rivers and streams. The tract was willed to the state by the eccentric millionaire with the stipulation no religious services should be held within its boundaries and this clause prevented Ohio's claim to a clear title to the land for several years.

Members of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association and other similar organizations in this section of the state are back of the move to have it utilized as a site for a fish hatchery and game preserve.

Director Truax is expected to take steps immediately to have the land developed and a site for the hatchery cleared.

BOOTLEGGERS BLAMED FOR MURDER OF EVANGELIST AND WOMAN CHURCH GOER

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 4.—The murder of an evangelist as he preached in his pulpit and a woman member of his congregation was blamed today on bootleggers against whom the preacher had been crusading.

The killings occurred Monday night in a temporary church near where the Rev. L. Moss of Pittsburgh was holding revival services. The assassins fired through the open window and Moss fell dead from the rostrum. Another bullet hit Mrs. Jerome Robinson, wife of a farmer who was seated in the front row of the choir. She died within an hour.

When the shooting started a panic ensued and no one could tell how many shots were fired.

Cliff Wilson, who lives near the town was being held for questioning today. He denied any connection with the shooting but a 14-year old girl said she saw him fire through the window and run.

LEAGUE CALLED IN PROBE OF PRIMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The Illinois Anti-Saloon League was called upon by Chairman James A. Reed, of the senate primary investigation committee today to explain its activities in the state's $1,000,000 primary.

A subpoena immediately returnable was issued for Dr. George S. Safford, Monmouth, Ill., state superintendent of the league.

As the league had endorsed both Frank Smith, successful candidate and Senator McKinley, unsuccessful candidate for the re-nomination and made no stiff fight against George Brennan, wet, who received the Democratic senatorial nomination, the committee showed no expectations that any unusual activity might be discerned.

With that evidence and clearance of a few stray but important angles of the primary, Reed intends to close his inquiry Thursday or Friday and adjourn indefinitely.

OPPOSE RELIGIOUS LAW AS THREATENED WITHDRAWALS COME

Petroleum Companies Will Also Help Mediation

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—Anticipating heavy bank withdrawals by religious bodies, Mexican bankers have called on Secretary of Finance Alberto J. Pano, to mediate in the religious issue.

The United Press understands from a usually reliable source that bank withdrawals yesterday stood at about 17,000,000 pesos. Bankers admitted heavy withdrawals and buying of New York drafts, but did not state the amounts. However, it is known that efforts were being made to prevent a financial crisis.

There are three points in the mediation project which the Mexican Episcopate would be willing to accept if an accord were reached in the present negotiations of the bankers, they are:

- 1—Suspension of the application of the present religious laws.
- 2—Re-entry to churches by the Episcopate.
- 3—A national plebiscite on the question at the end of the year.

No agreement has yet been reached but conferences will continue.

The United Press learned that officials of Petroleum companies here are willing to aid in mediation efforts.

Augustin Le Gorrette, chairman of the board of directors of Mexico's National Bank heads the bankers committee. Well informed persons here said results might be obtained from the mediation effort before the week end.

Meanwhile Pascual Diaz, bishop of Tobasco, categorically denied reports circulated in the United States that mediation proposals have been made by the Church to the government.

He said no proposals would be made until the suspension of the new religious laws and that proposals other than those which might possibly be made by diplomats must come from the government after suspension or reform of the laws.

He said, however, that he had mentioned these points in informal conversations with Attorney General Ortega.

The members of the church, he said were law abiding citizens and not rebels as the government had declared.

He again denied that the church had interfered in politics and said it was only guarding the consciences of its people and the rights of religious freedom.

YELLOW SPRINGS RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Margaret Sizor, 79, passed away at her home in Yellow Springs, Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock. Death was caused by an attack of acute indigestion. Mrs. Sizor had been ill a week or ten days.

Her husband preceded her in death twenty-five years. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Jinney, Yellow Springs and Mrs. Robert Olenine, Urbana, Ill., and one brother, Howard Appleton, Yellow Springs.

Funeral services will be held Friday, the hour not being decided on as yet.

HONEYMOON ENDS IN DOUBLE DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Fifty days after they were married, Frederick M. Wells, 65 years old, manufacturer, and his wife, Ida Fletcher Clark Wells, 60, died today six hours apart in a hotel at Atlantic City.

They went to Atlantic City on their honeymoon, and soon after their arrival Mrs. Wells was stricken with heart disease. Later Mr. Wells became ill. It was believed Mrs. Wells had recovered, and plans had been made to move to her home, pending recovery of her husband.

Following a sudden attack today, she died. Her husband died six hours later without knowing of his wife's death.

YOUNG GIRL TRIES SUICIDE IN PARK

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A 14-year old girl was found unconscious in a Chicago park early today suffering from self-inflicted gun wounds in the abdomen. At a hospital where it was thought she would die, she was revived sufficiently to give her name as "Arlene Smith, Chicago."

A note reading: "I am tired of living with such a mother," was found in her purse.

“UNCLE BILLY” CONNER CONTRIBUTED MUCH TO TRADITIONS OF BELLBROOK

(Oliver Watson, Bellbrook, correspondent for this paper, has written several articles about interesting Bellbrook characters of the past. Following is his latest article, which reviews the history of “Uncle Billy” Conner.—Ed.)

By OLIVER WATSON

The subject of our sketch was a native of the “Blue Hen” State, having been born on the banks of the noble river (Delaware) which bears his name.

According to the best information obtainable, he was ushered in upon the stage of action on January 1, 1799. Little, however, is known of his early life. Certificates found among his effects disclosed the fact that he followed the calling of a schoolmaster for at least one decade during his infancy, hence, it would be safe to assume that he did not “spare the rod and ruin the child.”

That in which our readers probably will be most interested (and the facts of which the writer is in possession with “day and date”) would undoubtedly be the alternate periods of sunshine and shadow in his life, following his advent into the Buckeye State. Among the most highly respectable, he was denominated “Uncle Billy” Conner. Those who had no reference to their respectability referred to him as “Old Billy Conner,” and the hoodlums without exception called him “Sockeye.”

The first occupation followed by our subject was his entry into the huckster business which he followed without intermission for more than forty years, during which time thousands of turkeys, chickens, geese and ducks together with countless dozens of eggs and pounds of butter were transported by him weekly to Cincinnati. His home was known to all the young folks of the neighborhood as a social center. Once a week they met there and helped “Uncle Billy” to prepare his weekly cargo for the market and then “chase the glowing hours with flying feet.”

The ex-school master was a curious compound of good and evil, the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde predominating in their respective turns, causing his demeanor at times to be serene and sunny and at other times loud and turbulent.

Religiously inclined in theory, he fell far short of the mark in practice. The Bible injunction not to swear was soon forgotten when, once his path was crossed, and vent to his aroused feeling predominated to such an extent as to almost cause the sky to turn green. In the discharge of profanity, he was second to none, not even to Huck Finn’s father who “cussed everybody he knew and everybody he didn’t know, cussed them separately, then cussed them all over again for fear he had missed some, and in conclusion polished off with a general cuss all around.”

When his better nature prevailed and all God’s creation seemed near and dear to him, he could be found on Sunday morning in the first pew of the local M. P. Church of which he was a member. One of his hobbies when in attendance at religious services was to correct the minister when the “man of God” was noticed by him to have made a misuse in a quotation of “Holy writ.” These intervals of spiritual awakening however, were short compared to the ones under which he was bound by satanic influence. His longest companionship with the “evil one,” occurred during a local reconstruction period at which time a section of Bellbrook and Waynesville road which ran on the west and south of his dwelling was abandoned and a new stretch of road which cut through the east side of his place was constructed.

Although the ground on which the new improvement was built consisted of only a small parcel of land, it was nevertheless a pretext for an uprising in which men’s “hearts were cut out and hung on fence-stakes to dry” by the thoroughly enraged and unjustly treated property owner. Matters, however, were finally adjusted between the parties concerned, and Uncle Billy again turned back to the pursuits of peace and happiness.

Possessed with a wonderful memory he could at the same time count eggs, quote scripture and give glowing accounts of the glories of the eastern coast of Delaware without missing a count, breaking an egg, or dropping a sentence. Thoroughly superstitious, he believed in all the practices of the craft that had been in use since the days of Salem witchcraft and for hours at a time could recite hair-raising tales of his encounters with headless hogs, legless rabbits and featherless birds that beset his path and how he would become entangled in great masses of pumpkin vines that made their appearance at night, and grew in profusion between the two bridges south of town, but always vanished at daybreak.

Throughout life, his system was filled with premonitions of coming evil. His deluded mind caused him to see balls of fire and the forms of departed spirits hovering near him, all of which convinced him that the grim reaper was about to gather his harvest. An attribute of his nature was the high opinion he entertained of the great physical structure with which the Creator in His manifold wisdom had endowed him. This mistaken idea of his manhood often led him into fast company, and those whose inclinations were somewhat bent toward the manly art and had become more or less proficient in the profession, found him “easy pickin’.”

Two incidents, in each of which he came out second best, are here related. Once while standing on market in Dayton, he beheld two policemen in a fierce encounter with a colored man whom they were trying to arrest for a robbery which he was suspected of having committed on W. Third St. Our future hero felt that the opportune moment had arrived for him to make history by proving his contention that he was the “best little man” in Southern Ohio.

With his entire being overflowing with confidence, and visions of big lettered headlines in the morning papers announcing that William Conner had subdued and successfully handcuffed a colored miscreant of the most dangerous type after the police force had been shattered, sundered and sent to the hospital, our subject rushed to the scene and in a loud voice shouted: “Stand back blue cloth and brass buttons! and let me take him.” Then his stock fell to the zero point. The negro hit Billy and Billy hit the rough cobblestones on North Market Street.

The other demonstration of his manhood was exhibited Jacob Haynes’ grocery in Bellbrook when an encounter took place between himself and a man by the name of David Stephens. Mr. Stephens, who was somewhat addicted to the use of the stuff that made Milwaukee famous and put Kentucky on the map, had that day been indulging slightly in the beverage, and being naturally of a jovial disposition with an inclination toward jests, and his mind more or less brightened through repeated indulgence, thought it fitting to poke a little fun at his old friend.

Joke after joke at Uncle Billy’s expense followed until the “straw that broke the camel’s back” was laid on. The climax in the drama was reached when the tormentor pointed at his victim and exclaimed: “Do any of you gentlemen think that ‘it’ ever taught school in Delaware?” Laying hold on a wooden stove-poker, and making use of the customary language on such occasions, our subject dealt the jester a “dirty” blow across the head. Grabbing the poker-wielder by the throat, but conscious that he himself had been the aggressor, he turned to Mr. Haynes and asked: “Shall I hit him?” “No! No!” replied Mr. Haynes in his mild considerate way, “Don’t strike him.”

Escaping the wrath of the man he had struck, he left the place, crossed the street and anchored his forces in the store of William Hopkins where a number of first settlers were busy cutting the nail kegs from under them. Stretching up to full height and expanding his chest to the limit, and with more dignity than was incorporated in Pompey’s famous dispatch to the senate after he had plunked up the rebellion by the roots,” exclaimed: “I just now whipped the best man in Sugarcreek Township.”

Probably the most interesting part of “Uncle Billy’s” history was the political faith to which he adhered with unflinching fidelity from James Monroe to Grover Cleveland. His declaration never to vote for a “Shoulder Scraper” (a General) was soon forgotten when General U. S. Hancock was nominated for president at Cincinnati in 1880, his Democracy predominating over his resolution by a big majority. The thorn in the flesh was the amendment to the constitution giving the negro equal suffrage.

Being thoroughly anti-abolitionist, he was dumfounded and distracted when it dawned on him that he had unwittingly voted for an ex-slave who had been placed in the Democratic ticket solely for the purpose of capturing the colored vote. The torrent of red-hot blasphemy which flowed unintermitted from his mouth when he was convinced of the blunder, can be easily understood by those who knew him personally, and well imagined by those who knew him by reputation. His motto to put none but Democrats on the ticket was fittingly demonstrated at a Democratic township convention, when he arose from his seat among the delegates and holy protested against placing on the ticket the name of a highly respected Republican who had been placed in nomination for the office of township treasurer. His contention, “We’ve got enough good timber in our own woods without going over to the brambles of the black abolitionists for a candidate” was of no avail, and a majority in the convention supported the Republican, who, at the ensuing election proved a winning candidate.

Like the Meades and Persians, he never changed in his principles, and stood unflinchingly by his guns through twenty-four years of defeat. The old saying, “The prize lies at the end of the race,” seemed moulded to fit his case exactly. His race was almost run, and there was victory in the air. On the first Tuesday after the election the country proclaimed the election of Grover Cleveland, the first successful democratic candidate since the election of James Buchanan in 1860.

“Uncle Billy’s” joy knew no bounds. He had at last been rewarded for his fidelity. During the jollification which followed, and the triumphant hosts of Democracy were marching up Main Street bearing torches amid a glare of redlights, skyrockets, Roman candles and the sound of exploding anvils, “Uncle Billy” stood on the speaker’s stand and frantically waved a copy of the Cincinnati Enquirer, on the first page of which was displayed a large rooster perched on the dome of the National Capitol.

It is said that he wept for joy when the Bobtown delegation passed the reviewing stand in a boat bearing the political remains of the “Plumed Knight” (James G. Blaine) up Salt River. For those who knew him, it is useless to state that the Cincinnati Enquirer was his Bible. By it, he lived, moved and had his being, drinking in all its sayings without a grain of salt as unreservedly as the most potent Christian would accept the teachings of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

A few lines in conclusion will demonstrate the love he harbored in his heart for his favorite newspaper. On a summer evening while standing on the street corner talking to some friends who were being canvassed to purchase a few pecks of grindstone apples which had just been transferred from his orchard to the village, a cry arose that “Billy Conner’s home was on fire. Forgetting the apples and all else, but his “Democratic Bible,” he rushed across the street where his friend, Squire Henry H. Hale was conducting the postoffice, and cried at the top of his voice, “Hen! Give me my Enquirer! They say my house is on fire!”

ancore Williams to Harry Gibert, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Harlan W. Badgley to Lena Badgley property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Frank Lucas to George L. Mettey and Edna Mettey city property, $1.00.

A. D. Kendig to Mearl Koogler, property in Beavercreek Twp. $1.

The Osborn Removal Co., to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Fairfield, Ohio, property in Fairfield village. $1.00.

George F. Wellett and Angela Wellett to C. L. Armstrong, property in Osborn Village. $1.00.

Charles E. Russell to Ollie M. Livingston, property in Sugarcreek Twp. $1.00.

The W. S. Davis Oil Co., to Geo. Grottenick, city property. $1.00.

Charles E. Hughes, Marion C. Hughes, Raper J. Hughes, F. W. Hughes, John H. Hughes, Minnie Hughes Ball, Elsie Hughes Paxson, Ernest Dunevant, Mabel Schneider to Fred A. Johnston, property in Yellow Springs Village. $1.00.

The Miami Conservancy District to Joseph W. Shorts, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Oscar L. Smith and Blanche E. Smith to W. L. Miller, property in Cedarville Village. $1.00.

Fannie K. Allen to Charles E. Harnish, property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Susie L. Turner and Arthur O. Turner to Paul J. Boyd, property in Xenia Twp. $1.00.

Jacob Diehl and Louisa Diehl, property in Yellow Springs Village. $1.00.

BOARD WILL DECIDE ANNUAL BUDGET AND SALE OF OLD SCHOOL

A number of important matters are expected to come to the attention of the City Board of Education at its regular meeting Thursday night.

Of paramount importance is the 1926 budget for operation of the city school system next year. The annual budget has been tentatively prepared by Lewis Clark, clerk of the board and will probably be submitted for approval Thursday night.

It will ultimately be submitted to the County Budget Commission for approval or rejection in its entirety or any modifications or cuts that are deemed necessary.

Other business to come before the board includes the question of disposal of the abandoned Central High School building on E. Market St. There were no bidders at the public auction a week ago and the clerk will probably be instructed to re-advertise the structure for sale, under a slightly different method, to allow any successful bidder an extended length of time in which to wreck it.

If no bidders appear on the second date set for sale of the school house, the board may legally dispose of it at private sale.

Whiteman place, last Wednesday. Burial was made in Clifton Cemetery.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert N. Coleman, Jr., of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corry this week.

The United Presbyterian Church will hold its annual picnic on the church lawn, with a noon dinner, Wednesday, Aug. 4th.

Rev. Paul Ferguson, of Peebles, Ohio, who is visiting his father, will occupy the United Presbyterian pulpit next Sabbath, August 8th.

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Ritchie, of Pittsburgh, Pa., former U. P. pastor here, worshipped with his old congregation last Sabbath.

Mrs. Amanda Botkin died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dolwick, on Water St. She had made her home in Clifton at different times for a number of years. Funeral was from the M. E. Church of Clifton, Tuesday afternoon. Burial at Donnelsville.

Miss Alice McKibben is spending some time as the guest of Miss Florence White.

A picnic, honoring Mrs. R. N. Colman was given at Prestons Grove on Tuesday.

Change of time has been made in the 115th anniversary celebration of the Presbyterian Church, which was announced for the 13th of August.

The dinner and social celebration will be held instead, on Friday Aug. 20th. Great honor is conferred on this church, which is 115 years old, by the consent of Dr. W. O. Thompson, moderator of the General Assembly of 1924, to be with them, and preach the sermon at the Home Coming Communion on August 22nd. It is hoped that all friends and former communicants of the church may be present on this occasion.

On The Air From Cincinnati

Station WSAI:

6—Taylor University, Upland, Ind., ladies’ quartet.

6:45—Robert Badgely—chime concert.

7—U. S. Army Band, Washington, concert.

7:30—New York Sax octet.

8—New York Troubadours.

8:30—Eastern Time announcement.

10-12—New York dance music.

Station WKRC:

6:25—Bedtime talks.

8—Book review, Miss L. Homedien

8:15—Roehr’s orchestra.

9—String trio—Helen Kessing and Helen Nugent.

12—Popular songs.

12:25—Orchestra.

Station WLW:

7—Visconti’s orchestra.

7:30—Farm Bureau address.

7:40—Gibson orchestra.

10—Latoria Melody Boys.

11—Elk Syncopators.

WHERE WERE ALL THE TRAFFIC COPS?

FINDLAY, O., Aug. 4.—Driving across five states without licenses on their automobiles was the experience of two young men, Cecil Croll, Perrysburg, O., and Roy Sauter, Bowling Green, who were brought into court here by a motor cop.

They had driven from Ellsworth, Kansas, to this city before they were halted by the law. After showing an application for a Kansas license, they were allowed to proceed.

POSTAL BUSINESS INCREASES IN JULY

Business at the Xenia Post office was on an upward trend during the month of July and a notable increase is reported over the corresponding month in 1925, according to the monthly financial statement prepared by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Postal receipts during July, 1926, amounted to $3,570.58 in comparison with receipts a year ago in July totalling $3,326.93, the report shows. This represents an increase of $243.65.

CLIFTON

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Harris, Mr. Mac Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swaby, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swaby, Doris Swaby and Miss Coe composed a party which left Thursday by automobile for Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., to be gone two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Coe, of Yellow Springs, are staying at the home of Mr. A. E. Swaby in their absence on an Eastern trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Clark left Monday for their home in Pittsburgh, after spending a week here with relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. E. G. McKibben and family, of Rushville, Indiana, spent several days last week as guests of Miss Florence White, enroute to their new field of work at Bergholz, Ohio.

Mr. John Young died very suddenly at his home, at the old

There You Are!

Dayton Thorobreds

Dayton Thorobred Balloons

FOR TIRE SATISFACTION

XENIA AUTO NECESSITY CO.

“Tom and Dick—The Tire Boys”

REAL ESTATE

John H. Daun to Louise Daun, property in Bath Twp. $1.00.

Jesse S. Jensen to Carrie D. Bagford and Clarence E. Bagford, property in Spring Valley Twp. $1.

Eldon Webster Wilkinson to W. L. Coyle, property in Spring Valley Village. $1.00.

Salvion E. Williams and Elle-

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Another Chevrolet Achievement

New Low Prices

1-Ton Truck Reduced To $495

One-half Ton Truck Reduced To $375

(Chassis only) f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Engineered to meet the most severe requirements of commercial haulage, Chevrolet trucks have won world-wide acceptance on the basis of low first cost and slow depreciation. This spectacularly growing popularity has made necessary a greatly increased production—the economies of which are now passed on to buyers in the form of a drastic price reduction.

See These Trucks In Our Display At The Greene County Fair

LANG CHEVROLET CO

No idle water!

THE ALUMINUM GRYPATOR CREATES AN UNUSUALLY TURBULENT WATER ACTION

NO WATER LINE THE MAYTAG TUB CAN BE FILLED TO THE BRIM

THE scientific design of the Maytag cast-aluminum tub, together with the gyrator action, creates an unusually cleansing, more turbulent water condition in every inch of the tub all of the time. A water action that puts every drop of water—every bit of soap suds at work.

This more cleansing water action, found only in the Maytag, washes clothes clean in half the usual time—washes bigger tubfuls in but 3 to 7 minutes. Does a whole washing—50 pounds of clothes (dry weight) in one short hour. Washes everything without hand-rubbing—even collars, cuffs and wristbands.

The Maytag has no waterline. A few pieces are washed just as effectively in a pailful of water as a big tubful of clothes are washed with the tub filled to the brim with water.

Phone the nearest Maytag dealer! Use a Maytag in your own home without obligation or expense. Test it thoroughly. Compare it with other washers. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Maytag

Aluminum Washer

WHITE MAYTAG SALES

18 So. Detroit St., Xenia, O.

Phone 638

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette and Republican consider it a courtesy whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70.

GALLOWAY-BOWMAN

NUPTIALS WEDNESDAY

One of the outstanding weddings of the interesting nuptial season, was that of Miss Margaret K. Galloway, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Galloway to Mr. Wesley Ellsworth Bowman, which was solemnized at the Galloway residence, N. Galloway St., Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The vows were taken in the presence of eight guests. The Galloway home was elaborately decked with Southern smilax and Summer bloom, with every hue of the rainbow tastefully employed. The "rainbow" idea was carried out in the pastel toned frocks of the bridal party and other appointments of the wedding.

Beginning of the service was marked with the playing of "O Promise Me" and "All For You" by Miss Marie Koehnen, Dayton harpist, who brought out the full beauty of the harp tones in her renditions. Miss Koehnen played the wedding march from Lohengrin on the entrance of the bridal party and continued with soft strains during the service. She then blended into the Mendelssohn wedding march and continued to play during the reception.

The bridal procession was led by the two dainty ribbon stretchers, the Misses Rebecca Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Galloway, Cedarville, who wore a frock of light green and Eleanor Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hughes, Cedarville, in light yellow. They drew the streamers from the side of the altar to the center of the living room, forming an aisle for the remainder of the party.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. John Cameron, Wilmette, Ill., walked next. The matron of honor, Mrs. Marshall L. Barker, Hamilton, O., the bride's sister, walked alone. She wore a gown of blue georgette over shell pink and carried Columbia roses. Her footwear was of light grey.

The little flower girl, Dorothy Rankin, daughter of Mrs. Herman W. Eavey, came next, with little Miss Dorothy Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Galloway, who acted as flower girl. Both little girls wore shell pink georgette. Little Miss Rankin carried the rings in a basket and the flower girl bore a dainty basket of variegated bloom.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white Grosedondre taffeta, bouffant style, with tight bodice and full skirt. The bottom of the skirt was scalloped the tiny gathers being caught with orange blossoms. The model was finished with Chantilla lace.

Her cap veil, formed a graceful train. Her shower bouquet was formed of lilies of the valley, roses and orchids. The costume was completed with white satin slippers and a strand of pearls.

The double ring ceremony was followed by solicitations of the guests, and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman left Tuesday night on a short wedding trip and will then go to Evanston, Ill., to reside. Their address will be 2249 Ridge Ave., Evanston.

Mrs. Bowman's traveling costume was an ensemble of midnight blue, with a taffeta frock, coat with squirrel collar, close fitting hat, and light tan slippers and other accessories.

Mr. Bowman is a commercial photographer in Chicago. Mrs. Bowman has been employed for the past year as secretary to Dr. Richards, pastor of a large Congregational Church with a community center, 101 W. Wacker, near Chicago. She is a graduate of Central High School and of Denison University. She took a secretarial course in a business university in Chicago and after completing the course, obtained the position she held until her marriage.

The wedding guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Galloway. Guests of the bride, Miss Galloway were an attractive model of black and white georgette.

FAMILY REUNION

AT COUNTRY HOME

Thirty-five relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths and son, Ray, of Mount Tabor, enjoyed a reunion at their home Sunday. Everyone enjoyed a bountiful dinner. Those who enjoyed the affair were:

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith and son, James, Waverly, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Abbott and family, Pike County; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griffith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Griffith and family, Belfast, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Griffith and family, Seaman, O.; Mr. Walter Burba, near Port William, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith and family, Yellow Springs.

Miss Anna Slate and Miss Lillian Glossinger will go to Osborn, O., Wednesday to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Mr. Myron Lees, West Milton, whose foot was seriously crushed when he was injured in an automobile accident on W. Main St., last week is recovering at Espey Hospital. The injured foot is healing, and doctors have decided not to amputate the member.

Mrs. T. E. Cummings, E. Second St., who has been seriously ill, is recuperating.

EAST END

Mrs. W. M. Browder died Monday evening. Services were held at the residence at 1013 E. Main St., Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. A. J. Wilson, S. Columbus St., has returned home after visiting relatives in Clinton County, near Wilmington, several days.

Mr. Harry Swigart, Trebeins, who was removed to the Soldiers' Home Hospital, Dayton, four weeks ago, with a fracture of the left leg, is in a critical condition, with little hope for his recovery.

"Buddy" Boll and Miss Muriel Ebling have gone to Hagerstown, Ind., to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Neal, Port William, entertained at their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Emery and son, John; Mr. and Mrs. Walker Doener and children, Lewis, Robert, John and Louise, all of Dayton; Helen and Lewis Stafford, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Baker and son, Lakeland, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Andrew and daughters, Rose and Dorothy, this city, were entertained at six o'clock dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer and Mrs. Anna Boyd, W. Market St., Tuesday evening.

Calendar of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4:

Jr. O. U. A. M.

Ivanhoe Lodge, K. of P.

Church Prayer Meetings.

Greene County Fair.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5:

Red Men.

P. of X. D. & A.

Rebekahs.

Greene County Fair.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6:

Eagles.

Greene County Fair.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8:

Virginia Reunion at G. C. Fairground.

MONDAY, AUGUST 9:

Xenia S. P. O.

D. of P.

Phi Delta Kappa

Red Men.

Mod. Wood.

I. O. O. F.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 10:

Obedient Council D. of A.

Xenia I. O. O. F.

Rotary.

COMPANY L MEMBERS

WILL LEAVE AUGUST

11 FOR CAMP PERRY

Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, will take part in the annual summer field training period of the Twenty-fourth Infantry Brigade at Camp Perry, O., from August 11 to August 25, inclusive, it is announced by Captain Leroy V. John.

The company will entrain on the Pennsylvania line at 8:34 a. m. Wednesday, August 11.

Captain John has issued orders instructing every member of the local guard unit to report at the Armory on E. Main St. not later than 8 p. m. the evening prior to departure, Tuesday, August 10.

During this last meeting all field equipment will be issued to individuals, squad boxes will be packed and final preparations made to leave the following morning.

Assembly will be held that evening at 8 p. m. and all members will be required to be present at this formation and remain at the Armory overnight as in previous years the captain announces.

Information with regard to the uniform to be worn enroute to the camp, equipment to be taken in squad boxes or carried in the individual pack will be issued under a memorandum from Captain John.

All members are reminded by the captain that no soldier is excused from attending camp except upon authority secured through the office of the commandant and then only upon rare and exceptional circumstances. The necessary disciplinary action will be taken against any member absent from formation Tuesday evening, August 10, the captain warns.

CANDIDATE FOR OHIO

GOVERNOR IN XENIA

William Grant Webster, Athens, O., Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, visited Xenia Wednesday and called on political leaders here.

Mr. Webster is a Harvard graduate and was associated with the Chicago law office of the late Robert T. Lincoln before he organized the Cleveland Law School and became its president and dean.

Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general, Senator Mari Hanna, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick and others were associated with him on the advisory board of the school.

THE GUMPS—PROTECT THE CONSTITUTION

I HAVEN'T BEEN OUT THIS WAY

FOR YEARS—THIS CITY IS SPREADING LIKE A FOREST FIRE—I COULD HAVE BOUGHT PROPERTY OUT HERE FOR A LONG BUT I DIDN'T HAVE SENSE ENOUGH TO START SINGING—NOW, IT WOULD TAKE PLENTY "NOTES" TO BUY A CORNER LOT—

MY LAND IS ONLY TWO MILES FROM HERE—

IT'S RIGHT ON THE EDGE OF TOWN—I'VE ALWAYS SAID THE CITY WOULD HAVE TO EXPAND IN THIS DIRECTION—I COULD SEE BANK BUILDINGS WHERE SOME PEOPLE SAW BUSHES AND BOULEVARDS GROWING OUT OF THE COW PATHS—

EXPAND YOUR LUNGS—GET SOME OF THAT AIR—IT'S JUST LIKE WINE—WHY DOES ANYONE STAY IN THE CITY INHALING A MIXTURE OF COAL DUST, SMOKE, SECOND-HAND GAS AND CINDER'S WHEN THEY CAN COME OUT HERE AND BREAK THE EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT BY FILLING THEIR LUNGS WITH THIS INTOXICATING ATMOSPHERE—

SIDNEY SMITH

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Rep. U. S. A. Copyright, 1926, by The Chicago Tribune.

Retiring from the school he returned to his home county of Athens. His platform includes planks for strict law enforcement, economy in government, good roads and opposition to the repeal of the primary law. Mr. Webster ran as vice president with Major General Leonard Wood in the presidential preferential primary of 1920, leading his ticket over Wood.

After conferring with leaders here he went to Dayton.

MILLINERY STORE

HERE IS CLOSED

Mrs. L. H. Finney, who has closed out her millinery shop in the Steele Building, left Wednesday for Richmond, Ind., where she will be in charge of a millinery department of a large store.

Mrs. Finney has operated the Xenia Store several years, purchasing the business from Miss Ida Sinz, now of Dayton. Miss Julia Lichenfels, who has been associated with Mrs. Finney, in Xenia, will leave Xenia next Monday to join a millinery department store, one of a chain operated in several cities. She does not know as yet in what city she will be located.

IF BEN FRANKLIN

COULD ONLY SEE

US NOW!

Ben Franklin showed the world that electricity could be harnessed by getting lightning out of a kite's tail and he probably knew he was starting something that has not had the final chapter written in it yet.

The wonders of electricity never cease particularly in the use of electrical appliances in treating diseases and a visit to any modern hospital shows a number of ingenious electrical devices in use there.

Ben little realized the wonders that would come from the force behind his little spark and he would have written at least twelve more proverbs if he had ever dreamed that if he lived long enough, some day electricity would iron his shirts, toast his bread, cut his hair and last but not least, cure his ills.

For physicians are constantly using electrical appliances in increasing numbers as parts of their treatments, and a host of novel appliances are being invented as aids to health. For example, there is now on the market a portable restimulator that resembles a set of motor-driven rolling pins. There are electrical horses that canter, jog and gallop for their riders, working up circulation and renewing vitality.

Weight may be put on or taken off by electricity. You can automatically exercise individual muscles or give yourself a complete, thorough artificial sun bath, in the same way. If you are troubled with cold feet, you can get electrically heated socks to keep them warm or an electric blanket to wrap them. And if the doctor tells you that you are too cold all over, then you can master a high frequency current and inject heat into all your tissues.

Other more complicated devices have been found to be beneficial in the treatment of even such serious maladies as pneumonia, chiefly by the generation of needed heat within the body. Diphtheria is another disease that is being fought with coils and batteries.

Besides all these, there are a host of delicate lamps and instruments that aid surgeons in operating and in making their diagnoses.

PEKING, Aug. 4.—For centuries past the narrow hutings of Peking have rung to the grinding screech of the ungreased barrow which, for a sum equivalent to an American cent and a half per three buckets, brought cool well water to the Chinese householder.

But today the lanes are silent, and thirsty would-be customers stand in their scarlet doorways and jingle coppers in their palms without result.

The waterbarrow men are on strike. For months there has been a half-concealed warfare between the barrow men and the layers of waterpipe through Peking streets. It has found expression in occasional quarrels and fights, but there has been no concerted action. Now, following a definite attempt by Water Carriers Guild to prevent a merchant from laying the hated waterpipes to his shop, open combat has resulted; three water carriers are in jail; several waterworks employees are in hospitals; and the strike is on.

Simultaneous with declaration of the general water-carriers' strike, the guild laid a series of complaints before the police and the Municipal Council. It was declared that the company should be disenfranchised and all water should be taken from wells and brought by barrow. Company water was not good water, it was argued. Also, it was pointed out the company may some day stop supplying water due to the coal shortage caused by civil war around Peking.

All indications point to failure for the barrowmen. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrowmen's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

DRYS FOR BURKE

LORAIN, O., Aug. 4.—Officers of the dry federation of Lorain County

today announced they have completed a survey of the state and found the sentiment among the drys in favor of former Senator J. F. Burke, Elyria, for the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor.

County offices in the Court House will observe two half-holidays and one full day holiday during the three days of the Greene County Fair following an annual custom, according to an announcement made by County Commissioners.

The Court House will remain closed Wednesday afternoon, all day Thursday and on Friday afternoon, commissioners announce.

Offices, however, were open Wednesday morning and will also be open Friday morning.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Charleston's two daily newspapers, the Gazette and the Daily Mail, resumed publication on an open-shop basis today after being suspended since Saturday, when union printers went on strike at the expiration of the yearly wage agreement.

Composing rooms of both newspapers were said by the publishers to be manned fully with crews of printers gathered from all parts of the country. The Gazette, a morning paper, contained twenty-four pages, and the Daily Mail prepared an afternoon edition of regular size.

The printers' union called the strike when publishers and the union failed to negotiate a new wage contract. The union sought an increase and a 44-hour week. The publishers offered a renewal of the old contract, which was based on a 48-hour week.

OFFICIALS ENJOY

HOLIDAYS FOR FAIR

WATER-BARROW MEN

OF PEKING WALK OUT

AS CITY LAYS PIPES

County offices in the Court House will observe two half-holidays and one full day holiday during the three days of the Greene County Fair following an annual custom, according to an announcement made by County Commissioners.

The Court House will remain closed Wednesday afternoon, all day Thursday and on Friday afternoon, commissioners announce.

Offices, however, were open Wednesday morning and will also be open Friday morning.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Charleston's two daily newspapers, the Gazette and the Daily Mail, resumed publication on an open-shop basis today after being suspended since Saturday, when union printers went on strike at the expiration of the yearly wage agreement.

Composing rooms of both newspapers were said by the publishers to be manned fully with crews of printers gathered from all parts of the country. The Gazette, a morning paper, contained twenty-four pages, and the Daily Mail prepared an afternoon edition of regular size.

The printers' union called the strike when publishers and the union failed to negotiate a new wage contract. The union sought an increase and a 44-hour week. The publishers offered a renewal of the old contract, which was based on a 48-hour week.

PEKING, Aug. 4.—For centuries past the narrow hutings of Peking have rung to the grinding screech of the ungreased barrow which, for a sum equivalent to an American cent and a half per three buckets, brought cool well water to the Chinese householder.

But today the lanes are silent, and thirsty would-be customers stand in their scarlet doorways and jingle coppers in their palms without result.

The waterbarrow men are on strike. For months there has been a half-concealed warfare between the barrow men and the layers of waterpipe through Peking streets. It has found expression in occasional quarrels and fights, but there has been no concerted action. Now, following a definite attempt by Water Carriers Guild to prevent a merchant from laying the hated waterpipes to his shop, open combat has resulted; three water carriers are in jail; several waterworks employees are in hospitals; and the strike is on.

Simultaneous with declaration of the general water-carriers' strike, the guild laid a series of complaints before the police and the Municipal Council. It was declared that the company should be disenfranchised and all water should be taken from wells and brought by barrow. Company water was not good water, it was argued. Also, it was pointed out the company may some day stop supplying water due to the coal shortage caused by civil war around Peking.

All indications point to failure for the barrowmen. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrowmen's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

DRYS FOR BURKE

LORAIN, O., Aug. 4.—Officers of the dry federation of Lorain County

today announced they have completed a survey of the state and found the sentiment among the drys in favor of former Senator J. F. Burke, Elyria, for the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor.

County offices in the Court House will observe two half-holidays and one full day holiday during the three days of the Greene County Fair following an annual custom, according to an announcement made by County Commissioners.

The Court House will remain closed Wednesday afternoon, all day Thursday and on Friday afternoon, commissioners announce.

Offices, however, were open Wednesday morning and will also be open Friday morning.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Charleston's two daily newspapers, the Gazette and the Daily Mail, resumed publication on an open-shop basis today after being suspended since Saturday, when union printers went on strike at the expiration of the yearly wage agreement.

Composing rooms of both newspapers were said by the publishers to be manned fully with crews of printers gathered from all parts of the country. The Gazette, a morning paper, contained twenty-four pages, and the Daily Mail prepared an afternoon edition of regular size.

The printers' union called the strike when publishers and the union failed to negotiate a new wage contract. The union sought an increase and a 44-hour week. The publishers offered a renewal of the old contract, which was based on a 48-hour week.

PEKING, Aug. 4.—For centuries past the narrow hutings of Peking have rung to the grinding screech of the ungreased barrow which, for a sum equivalent to an American cent and a half per three buckets, brought cool well water to the Chinese householder.

But today the lanes are silent, and thirsty would-be customers stand in their scarlet doorways and jingle coppers in their palms without result.

The waterbarrow men are on strike. For months there has been a half-concealed warfare between the barrow men and the layers of waterpipe through Peking streets. It has found expression in occasional quarrels and fights, but there has been no concerted action. Now, following a definite attempt by Water Carriers Guild to prevent a merchant from laying the hated waterpipes to his shop, open combat has resulted; three water carriers are in jail; several waterworks employees are in hospitals; and the strike is on.

Simultaneous with declaration of the general water-carriers' strike, the guild laid a series of complaints before the police and the Municipal Council. It was declared that the company should be disenfranchised and all water should be taken from wells and brought by barrow. Company water was not good water, it was argued. Also, it was pointed out the company may some day stop supplying water due to the coal shortage caused by civil war around Peking.

All indications point to failure for the barrowmen. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumptuous barrowmen's action in daring to strike, and police have been ordered to compel the water barrows to squeak their rounds as of yore to serve such old-fashioned folk as prefer not to patronize the company's new pipelines.

DRYS FOR BURKE

LORAIN, O., Aug. 4.—Officers of the dry federation of Lorain County

today announced they have completed a survey of the state and found the sentiment among the drys in favor of former Senator J. F. Burke, Elyria, for the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor.

County offices in the Court House will observe two half-holidays and one full day holiday during the three days of the Greene County Fair following an annual custom, according to an announcement made by County Commissioners.

The Court House will remain closed Wednesday afternoon, all day Thursday and on Friday afternoon, commissioners announce.

Offices, however, were open Wednesday morning and will also be open Friday morning.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Charleston's two daily newspapers, the Gazette and the Daily Mail, resumed publication on an open-shop basis today after being suspended since Saturday, when union printers went on strike at the expiration of the yearly wage agreement.

Composing rooms of both newspapers were said by the publishers to be manned fully with crews of printers gathered from all parts of the country. The Gazette, a morning paper, contained twenty-four pages, and the Daily Mail prepared an afternoon edition of regular size.

The printers' union called the strike when publishers and the union failed to negotiate a new wage contract. The union sought an increase and a 44-hour week. The publishers offered a renewal of the old contract, which was based on a 48-hour week.

PEKING, Aug. 4.—For centuries past the narrow hutings of Peking have rung to the grinding screech of the ungreased barrow which, for a sum equivalent to an American cent and a half per three buckets, brought cool well water to the Chinese householder.

But today the lanes are silent, and thirsty would-be customers stand in their scarlet doorways and jingle coppers in their palms without result.

The waterbarrow men are on strike. For months there has been a half-concealed warfare between the barrow men and the layers of waterpipe through Peking streets. It has found expression in occasional quarrels and fights, but there has been no concerted action. Now, following a definite attempt by Water Carriers Guild to prevent a merchant from laying the hated waterpipes to his shop, open combat has resulted; three water carriers are in jail; several waterworks employees are in hospitals; and the strike is on.

Simultaneous with declaration of the general water-carriers' strike, the guild laid a series of complaints before the police and the Municipal Council. It was declared that the company should be disenfranchised and all water should be taken from wells and brought by barrow. Company water was not good water, it was argued. Also, it was pointed out the company may some day stop supplying water due to the coal shortage caused by civil war around Peking.

All indications point to failure for the barrowmen. The authorities have ordered a medical examination of the company's water, but they have likewise voiced high indignation at the presumpt

EDITORIAL

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican published daily except Sunday at the Gazette Building, 100 South Main Street, Xenia, Ohio by the Chew Publishing Company Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3rd, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward, Foreign Advertising Representative, Chicago Office, No. 6 South Wabash Avenue, New York Office, 161 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
Greene County	$1.00	$2.80	$5.00	$9.50
Other parts of Ohio	.40	1.15	2.15	4.00
Other parts of U.S.	.60	1.70	3.00	5.50
Foreign	.80	2.40	4.50	8.00

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy Three Cents.

Business Office—111
Advertising and Business Office—111
Editorial Department—111
Telephone Department—111

THE WILL TO WIN

Too many men and women believe there is luck in leisure and abide by their faith through abstinence from work. Laziness is good nature gone to seed. Hustling is energy plus persistence. The reputation for being a hustler is the best introduction to success that any man can have. Confidence and a good purpose are the vital elements of success. Hustling is the essential force of business. It is the power to marshal your resources—recruit the slackers among your abilities.

Ambitions are always to be found behind success. They are the stokers who fire the boilers under the will to win. And the difference between the will and the wish is simply a difference in the degree of heat under the will. If you are ambitious it means that you have within you already the beginning of success.

The real power in ambition is in its intensity. But its measure of achievement is a matter of control and tireless effort.

SPECULATION

The scientists are speculating on the possibility of a machine to fly ten or twenty miles above the earth. An Italian mathematician, Dr. G. A. Crocco, has recently published a series of speculative papers on the subject that gives rise to some interesting thought.

The rarer atmosphere, of course, presents the difficulty. But its unadaptability for breathing or use in the engines has already been answered by the use of oxygen tanks.

Its lack of supporting power would be compensated to a certain extent by its equal lack of head-on resistance.

And the possibility of the inability to use propellers might be answered by driving the ship by impulse, as a rocket is driven.

All of which is interesting, and that's about all, for the present.

BOTTLE-FED FIGS

Most of our readers, no doubt, have heard about milk-fed pumpkins, which are produced by cutting off the end of a pumpkin vine and inserting it in a vessel kept filled with milk. It is claimed the vine will drink up the milk and that the pumpkin will not only grow larger but will be of finer flavor and texture than the ordinary kind. This may or may not be true, we have never seen one grow that way nor have we ever had any who had so grown one tell us so.

But this pumpkin experiment seems to have a counterpart in the effort of a Santa Cruz man to grow what he is pleased to call "bottle-fed" figs. This man is exhibiting what he declares that by treating the trees through the base of the trunk with his own preparation, and by transfusion, he is able to produce much larger figs than those grown on the untreated trees. He also claims that flowers are made more brilliant by the use of his treatment.

If this discovery has any merit and can be made to work on the fig tree we see no reason why it should not also be made to function on other fruit trees, not only in California, but elsewhere as well. All things are possible, but in matters like these we do not believe it is very probable that the use of this method of improving the fruit crop will ever become very general.

NEW LIVES IN OLD BODIES

What is perhaps the greatest single piece of educational endeavor ever undertaken has been completed by the government. Approximately 100,000 veterans of the World War have been rehabilitated by vocational training since that service was established six years ago.

President Coolidge has signed a bill extending the work for one year for the benefit of 2,000 men, nearly half of whom are in colleges and universities.

Neither the number of beneficiaries nor the amount expended ($641,501,026) makes the project as noteworthy as does the immeasurable saving to the men themselves and to the country at large. And that economic importance is overshadowed by a realization of the unquenchable spirit of determination that carried these partly wrecked men through to a victory more bitterly won than any they gained at the front.

It would have been easy for these men to have fallen back in dependency upon their government, their counties or their relatives. They could have said, "We ruined our lives in fighting for you—it's your turn now."

But instead: The blind man tunes pianos, canes chairs, makes brooms; the armless man is a teacher, a lawyer, a salesman; the legless man keeps books, makes shoes; another partly paralyzed, mends watches; and so on through a list of 425 professions and trades.

To the nation goes the saving; to the veterans' bureau goes the credit for having made these things possible, and to that valiant hundred thousand goes recognition for still another service to their country.

RED CROSS TENT TO BE FAIR REST ROOM NURSES ANNOUNCE

Greene County Red Cross First Aid tent at the Fair will be fitted up as a rest room. It is announced that the Red Cross offices. Red Cross workers will render first aid during the four days.

Beautiful hand-painted panels from National Red Cross Headquarters are being used in decorating the tent. State Department of Health workers will put on demonstrations every day, showing proper bathing, feeding and correct care of children. A model layette will also be displayed. Miss Tallman, a nurse from the Child Hygiene Division will assist Miss Helen Evers, local Red Cross public health nurse, in demonstrations.

Mothers and babies are invited to go to the tent and rest during the day. Nurses will answer all questions and give free advice. All literature from State Department of Health will be there, available free of charge.

The tent is located just inside the grounds, on the main walk. Dr. H. E. Kleinschmidt, State Department Head of Chief Division of Child Hygiene will be present Friday.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS

The Taming of the Shrew

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

Postmaster Orr announces rural mail carriers are to be allowed fifteen-day vacations with pay.

Papers were filed in the Court of Common Pleas asking appointment of a receiver for the Standard Manufacturing Co.

Princess Xenia of the Belmont Farm, lowered her record from 2:15 1-4 to 2:13 1-4 in a race at Streator, Ill.

The election board organized by electing R. V. Stewart, Republican, chief, and H. J. Farrell, Democrat, clerk.

The total number of horses entered in races at the County Fair is 102.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast
Apple Sauce
Cereal
Broiled Slice of Ham
Fried Eggs
Coffee
Luncheon
Vegetable Soup
Peanut Butter Sandwiches
Berries with Cream
Cookies
Dinner
Beef Loaf
Creamed Macaroni
Green Beans with Onions
Berry Pie
Coffee

DELICIOUS PRESERVES

Tomato Marmalade: Either the yellow or the red tomatoes may be used in this recipe. With one quart of ripe tomatoes use four cups of granulated sugar, one large lemon and two large oranges. Cut the peel of the oranges and lemon in small strips, and boil in a very little water till tender. Let cook down so that there is very little liquid, and to these tender peels add the orange pulp, the lemon pulp, the sugar and the tomatoes peeled and cut small. Cook all together for two hours, stirring often. It should then be thick and the peel transparent. Seal in small jars.

Yellow Tomato Preserves: Wash yellow tomatoes, plunge them in boiling water, allow to remain in the water an instant, then drain and rub off skins with the fingers. Weigh them and for each pound of them set aside two cups of granulated sugar, two ounces of preserved ginger (chopped), two ounces of crystallized citron peel also chopped, and two thinly-sliced seeded lemons. After peeling and weighing tomatoes, put them in an earthen bowl, add the sugar, cover over, and let stand overnight. In the morning drain off the sirup which has collected, and boil it five minutes, skimming when necessary. Add the tomatoes with the ginger, citron and lemon. Simmer till the tomatoes are well cooked, then seal in sterilized jars.

Pumpkin-Chip Preserves. Peel and halve the pumpkins, removing seeds and cutting into thin chips. For every pound of pumpkin, allow two cups of sugar and one-half cupful of lemon juice. Place the chips in a crockery bowl in layers with sugar sprinkled between, and lemon juice poured over all. Let stand 12 hours at least, then boil together, adding one cup of water and one tablespoon of bruised ginger (tied in muslin bags) and the shredded peels of the lemons, for each three pounds of pumpkin. Let simmer till the pumpkin chips become tender, then remove from range and let stand without touching for three or four days. At the end of this time, pour off the sirup, boil it down till thick and rich, and turn it over the cooked pumpkin in sterilized jars. Seal airtight.

Tomorrow—Some New Aprons

YELLOW SPRINGS

Miss Hazel Ralston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Ralston and Mr. Earl Griffiths of Springfield were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday by Rev. Joseph W. Patton, pastor of the church. The couple was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths will reside in Springfield where Mr. Griffiths is employed by the Fulmer Grocery Company.

Miss Agnes Dewine, daughter of

Just Folks

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY YEARS AGO

One hundred fifty years ago
This land we love was born.
Then did the happy bugles blow
On such a lovely morn'
And were the skies as fair to see
As those which bend o'er you and me?

I wonder did our fathers dream
That we should meet today
With eyes that fairly dance and gleam
To sing glad hymns and pray?
I wonder did they guess that we
The happiest race on earth should be?

Our wise forefathers, brave and bold,
Knew one fact to be true:
That God will prosper men who hold
To justice, through and through.
That nothing vile, however strong
Can flourish and endure for long.

And knowing that, I think they knew
That if the faith we kept,
Our flag would smile in Heaven's blue
Though in the dust they slept;
That in the march of sober time
We should achieve the heights sublime.

God grant that we may justify
The faith our fathers had,
May hold the torch of freedom high,
That countless ages glad
As yet unborn, with hearts elate
Our country's birth may celebrate.

Today's Talk

ON PRETENDING

In one of Dr. Johnson's delightful essays he tells about the people he sees in a stage coach and describes how they all do their best to assume characters other than what they are.

But just as soon as the journey is ended they go back to their own selves again and tread on their masks thrown aside and no longer taking advantage of the ignorance of their fellow passengers.

There is something so refreshing about the human being who is himself all the day through. Who smiles at the fictitious values in human action and is amused at the pretensions of those seeking to assume what they are unable to hold.

If friendship is anything it is being what you are to your friend. And if success is anything, it is showing to the world that which you have made real by your efforts—a genuine actor upon a real stage.

It is too bad that personality is so throttled in the child that when it becomes of an age in which it should exercise its originality and experience of observation, it really is afraid and immediately assumes a character that is all foreign to its desires.

I have listened to my closest acquaintances as they have talked over the telephone and they have almost imported a special voice and manner. And then there is the patronizing attitude that so many take upon themselves when in the presence of those who have earned a little distinction. And this is the most distasteful thing that could be done for such a person, for real distinction wants no patronage.

We who walk the common day and do the common tasks of the hour may not amount to much when measured in the light of large things, but we are really very important if we remain ourselves—showing all that we are, good and bad, in the same basket.

returned Sunday from a motor trip spent in Wisconsin.

Rev. Brownlee of Dayton will conduct services in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The pastor Rev. White is enjoying a vacation this month.

Miss Margaret Brewer of Springfield spent Sunday with her brother C. A. Brewer and family.

Miss Genevieve and John Fry of Husted, were the guests of Miss Edith Fry and Mrs. Nora Fry Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sellers of Troy, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beatty.

The Kiwanis Club of Springfield had a picnic at Bryan Park, Wednesday. The ladies of the Methodist Church served the dinner.

SIDELIGHTS

ON Greene County History

EARLY CURRENCY

Little need was found for banks in the first half century of the existence of Greene County.

If the people did not have an abundance of "hard" money, they had a kind of currency which took its place. The paper money of the banks was called "wild cat" currency, while the term "shin-plaster" was also in current use and described the same kind of fluctuating currency.

Merchants frequently issued paper money with their own name on it, in denominations as low as five cents and it circulated on its face value in the immediate community—that is, as long as the merchant's credit was good. The farther the merchant's "shin-plaster" wandered from his place of business the less valuable it became. A "shin-plaster" of a Xenia merchant in Columbus would probably not be accepted at all.

Merchants also issued a species of "hard money," minted from some cheap metal, called "token" money, the pieces being known as "tokens." The redeemable value of the "token" was stamped on it, but it, like the "shin-plaster" was dependent upon the credit of the merchant issuing it. The merchant redeemed his "tokens" at their face value.

Another method of providing a circulating medium of exchange was the issuance of what were known as "due bills," which, in fine, were the same as "tokens" and "shin-plasters." It must not be understood that there was no specie of the government in circulation but it was very limited, so limited in fact that the custom arose of actually cutting up the coins to represent smaller fractional values.

Silver dollars were cut into nine pieces, kind of triangular shaped, with the sharp points tapering toward the center of the coin. The pieces thus cut off were called "shin-plasters." It was also customary to cut the twenty-five cent piece into two pieces, the resultant pieces being known throughout the Western states as "bits," a word which is still in current use.

Frequently even the "bit" was halved, and the early treasurers of Greene County took over many a six-and-a-quarter-cent piece as part payment in taxes.

Local records of the commissioners bear constant witness to the fact that the pioneers of the county cut their money into pieces.

Scarcely a taxpayer in the county but found his annual bill to county treasurer with a fractional cent thereon.

The Theatre

The sixth annual edition of George White's "Scandals," will be the attraction at the Victory, Dayton, August 9 and 10. Beautiful damsels and clever entertainers are busy at rehearsals on the Gibbons Hotel Roof.

"The Scandals" will be presented with plenty of jazz, color and diversion, it is announced. The revue will be staged with an effective combination of coloring. The use of drapes and of varying shades lend a distinctive atmosphere to the production and serve to produce a series of pictures which are further enhanced by lovely costumes and beautiful girls.

Thirty scenes are employed in the staging by Mr. White. The comedy motif has been developed by William K. Wells and Mr. White. Bud De Sylva and Ballard have collaborated on the lyrics and George Gershwin, whose "Rhapsody in Blue" won over America, has made the score. All of the costumes, stage decorations and curtains have been designed by Erte and executed by Max Weldy of Paris. One of the special features is the George White Beauty chorus, approximately sixty in number. Xenia followers of the "Scandals" can vouch for their versatility.

Paris cables report the divorce of Alma Osborne, from Asa Yoelson. It will probably be more enlightening to give the latter's name as Al Jolson, musical comedy star, and America's wealthiest actor. His former spouse, who is known on the stage as Ethel Delmar, is Jolson's second wife. His separation from his first wife took place in 1919. Jolson is the son of a Jewish cantor.

Bruce Barton, author of "The Man Nobody Knows" was engaged by Jesse L. Lasky to write a drama on religion, but after Cecil DeMille laid his plans to film "The King of Kings" Lasky decided not to compete. There has been a friendship between Lasky and DeMille of several years standing.

Prince Divani, Mae Murray's new husband, has begun work in a slapstick comedy, on the Mack Sennett lot. He is leading man and his duties include making love to Madeleine Hurlock, the Sennett bathing beauty.

East Side - West Side

—OF—

New York

By Jack O'Donnell

Strolling around Manhattan one sees many old signs and announcements.

In the window of a rooming house on the lower East side the other day I saw one announcing "light rooms for rent." A few doors below this address was one in front of a pawn shop which said: "fickle Forties is a restaurant with 'We lone money.' Up in the fickle Forties is a restaurant with this sign in the window: "Ladies? Of course!"

But it remained for an illiterate reader to coin a new word for the real estate world. He opened orate offices in a Park Avenue building, called in an equally illiterate sign painter and handed the latter a card bearing the inscription to be placed in gilt letters on the door. This sign, when finished, announced to the reader that Mr. Realtor dealt in apartments, rooming houses, hotel properties and "sub-divisions."

Maybe it's the Milt Gross influence!

Life moves along at such a speedy pace in glady Gotham that the average New Yorker seems bent upon saving time even in his speech. For instance, operators of express elevators which do not stop until they reach the tenth floor, rarely hear requests from persons going to the thirteenth floor, we'll say, for the "thirteenth" instead, the passenger generally says: "Three."

Families living above One-hundredth street employ the same method of shortening speech. When they speak of Fourteenth Street they mean One-hundred and fourteenth. This habit of contraction or abbreviation is baffling to the greenhorn coming to New York. And it often results in confusion, to put it mildly.

For example: A few years ago when Bernard Bergman, the Fifth Avenue publicity counselor (if his office was on Broadway he'd be just a press agent) came to New York from Chillicothe, Ohio, he was as green as the far-away hills

He went to live with relatives up in the humming 'Hundred while he looked around for a spot to get a toothed on New York. He had been here about three days when his aunt roused him from sleep one morning and said: "Bernard, will you be a good boy and run down to the chain store on Fourteenth Street and get me some eggs?"

Would he? Why certainly! And hustling into his clothes he left the house, took a subway and went away down town to Fourteenth Street and Seventh Avenue. Going to the surface he started East on Fourteenth Street, walked all the way to Fifth Avenue but without seeing a single grocery store or any other store where eggs could be purchased. Finally, in desperation, he went to a telephone and called his aunt. "I can't find a chain store or any other place to buy eggs on Fourteenth Street," he complained.

"Where are you now?" she asked. "Way down town—Fourteenth Street and Fifth Avenue!"

There was a moment's silence, broken only by what Bergman believes was a titter. Then: "All right!" Come on home. We'll get the eggs up around here."

The pride of Chillicothe didn't learn until recently that he had gone 100 blocks out of his way as his aunt lived on One-hundred and fifteenth Street.

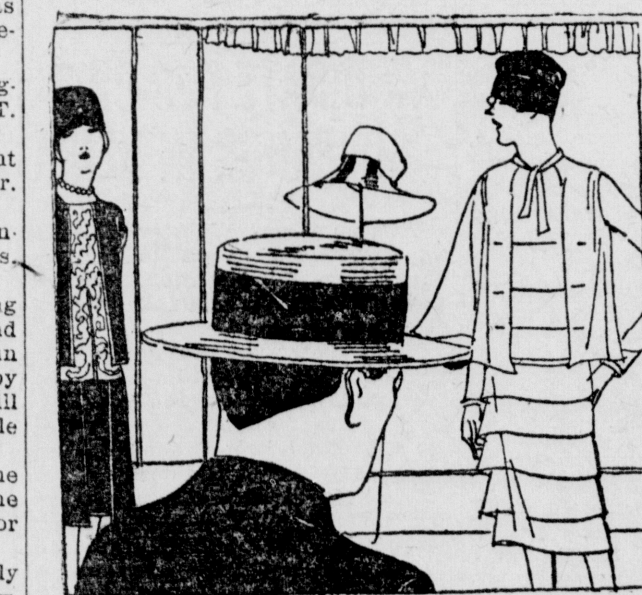

COX SAILS FOR EUROPE

New York, Aug. 4.—Former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, and Mrs. Cox sailed tonight on the Aquitania for a six weeks' holiday in Europe. They are going to motor through England and Scotland in a pleasure trip only. The Governor was visited while here by many eastern Democrats, but refused to discuss politics for publication.

Modish Mitzi

THE GOOFER SHOULD HAVE BEEN A DETECTIVE

By Jay V. Jay

The Goofy has missed his calling. He should have been a detective or a newspaper reporter. He didn't know what hotel Mitzi and the rest were stopping at, but he's going to find her!

He has picked out the shop with the smartest clothes in the window and there he waits. The first young woman, although modishly dressed in a white cape costume, was not Mitzi.

Neither was the second although Mitzi would have enjoyed her dress with all the eyelet embroidery. Nor is this young woman Mitzi although the crystal pleated skirt and embroidered blouse—

Ah, he was right! He thinks as he admires her tiny straw hat and the dress that only pretends to have a collar that if he waited in front of any smart shop in the world, Mitzi would appear sometime! Tomorrow—Mitzi Collects Information

NORTHERN BID IS SCHEDULED TO START ON THURSDAY'S RACING

Keen competition and a fast track which makes for record heats is expected to be furnished in the three events on Thursday's card of the three-day short circuit meet at the Greene County Fair.

Twelve good horses have accepted the issue for the 2:14 trot and $400 added purse, which is the feature number of the afternoon's racing.

The 2:15 pace for a purse of $350 and the 2:17 trot for $350 purse are also scheduled for Thursday. The get-away event on the card, the 2:17 trot, has twenty-two entries and the pacing event fourteen nominations.

Entries for the 2:17 trot follow: Northern Bid, Dr. L. C. Addison, Xenia; Mary Ward, George Teare, Cleveland; Great Edward, Clover Blossom and Great Wah, George E. Grant, Signet; Billie Riley, West and Turney, Wauseon; Donna Halrane and Tramp Clear, R. W. Pitkins, Mt. Vernon; Ben Manchester, Clyde Harris, Fredericks and Powell, Urbana; The Worthing, George Teare, Cleveland; Miss Ollie Bell, Omer VanKirk, Dayton; Milton Axworthy, Craine; Dorothy Bergen, M. McKim, Marion; Azon, George Campbell, Findlay; Anita The Great, Theo. Rohrs, Postoria; Judge Leonard.

M'FADDEN BUSY IN FLORIDA BOXING

Glen "Mickey" McFadden, DeLand, Fla., former Xenian will meet Steve Seman, Jacksonville, Fla., in a ten round bout Friday at Benson Springs, Fla., he writes from the far South.

"Mickey" recently fought six fast rounds with "Shorty" Clark of the Detroit Athletic Club and won on points. He has been fighting at 128 pounds and has had work in several important preliminaries.

He reports DeLand a fight crazy and bouts are getting a good play there under the direction of the Florida Public Service Commission. "Mickey's" address is Box 444, DeLand, Fla.

WOMAN REMOVED TO MARYSVILLE PRISON

Mrs. Bertha Hamilton Webb, 23, colored, Leach St., sentenced to one from one to twenty years in the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville upon her plea of guilty to an indictment for stabbing with intent to kill, was taken to Marysville by motor to begin her sentence Wednesday morning by Sheriff and Mrs. Morris Sharp.

Mrs. Webb admitted the charge of inflicting serious injuries upon George Rogers, 26, colored, a month ago during a disturbance at her home.

She was taken slightly ill in the County Jail Tuesday night and a physician was called, but she appeared to have entirely recovered Wednesday.

HOW THEY STAND

NATIONAL LEAGUE
	Won.	Lost.
Pittsburgh	56	41
CINCINNATI	58	45
St. Louis	53	48
Brooklyn	52	50
Chicago	52	50
New York	51	50
Boston	40	59
Philadelphia	39	58

Yesterday's Results
Cincinnati 1-3, Boston 0-2.
Pittsburgh 14, Philadelphia 2.
New York 5-3, Chicago 4-5.

Games Today
Pittsburgh at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
	Won.	Lost.
New York	58	35
CLEVELAND	59	46
Philadelphia	54	49
Washington	50	49
Chicago	52	50
Detroit	53	52
St. Louis	43	60
Boston	34	69

Yesterday's Results
Boston 8-2, Cleveland 7-0.
New York 7, Chicago 6.
Detroit 4, Philadelphia 3.
St. Louis 7, Washington 6.

Games Today
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Cleveland.
Washington at Detroit.
Boston at Chicago.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
	Won.	Lost.
Louisville	70	36
Indianapolis	64	43
Milwaukee	66	48
TOLEDO	53	49
Kansas City	53	56
St. Paul	48	59
Minneapolis	44	62
COLUMBUS	25	80

Yesterday's Results
St. Paul 4, Columbus 2.
Toledo 4-3, Minneapolis 8-1.
Indianapolis 9, Milwaukee 4.
Louisville 6, Kansas City 5.

Games Today
St. Paul at Columbus.
Minneapolis at Toledo.
Kansas City at Louisville.
Milwaukee at Indianapolis.

Goddard and Taylor, Lexington, Ky.; Dalsey Darveter, John Cavannah, Dayton; Annette, Bryson and Cornwell, Findlay; Ramona Jay Douglas, Oxford; Lottie M. Charles F. Kern, Hamilton; Bill Burrell, Frank Burrell, Croton; Guy Worthing, Guy Roach, Sidney Entries in the 2:15 pace follow: Melville Cochato, J. D. Hensley, Daleville, Ind.; Blanche K. M. G. Knobloch, Massillon; Helen Worthly, M. McKim, Marion; Billy Brown, R. W. Pitkins, Mt. Vernon; Harry Forbes, Harry Wood, Mechanicsburg; Bud Earl F. Conover, Kenton; Homer McKinney, J. W. Cox, Wilmington; Hal McElroy, M. G. Knobloch, Massillon; Daisy W. Jesse Lagarde, Compton, Ind.; Charley C. Jay Douglas, Oxford; Walter Frisco, Charles F. Kern, Hamilton; Prince, Mr. Lahay, Troy; Belle Lamont, Frank A. Cares, Fremont. Entries in the 2:14 trot follow: Blanche J. S. George Teare, Cleveland; Missing Wonder, W. H. Irwin, Lebanon; Otto Axworthy, J. L. Taylor, Dayton; Peter Mills, George F. Peters, Jackson; Betsy Tregantle, Jay Douglas, Oxford; Little Azoof, W. S. Druley, Anderson, Ind.; Donna Halrane, R. W. Pitkins, Mt. Vernon; Mary Milburn, S. K. Smoot, Springfield; Milton Axworthy, Craine and Powell, Urbana; Boss S. W. T. Harrison, Columbus; New Hope, S. A. Brown, Lynchburg; Stellarine, C. Be Cartnell.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Acidity of the stomach is characterized by an abnormal secretion of acid in the gastric juice. Among the causes are irritating foods, highly seasoned foods, alcoholic drinks, worry, grief and mental overtaxation; disease of the gall-bladder and ducts, chronic appendicitis and other chronic inflammations of the abdominal viscera. The symptoms are uneasiness of the epigastrium one or two hours after meals, and later pain, which seems to have a definite time as regards to time and meals. There is belching of gas and sour fluid, headache and dizziness, with melancholia as a common result. The epigastrium one or two hours after meals, and later pain, which seems to have a definite time as regards to time and meals. There is belching of gas and sour fluid, headache and dizziness, with melancholia as a common result.

As a rule all persons with an acid stomach are good milk drinkers, although some have some trouble in taking milk at first. This is because the large amount of acid in the stomach forms hard curds when combined with the proteins of the milk, and often these will be vomited. We would therefore prescribe the skimmed milk diet in this condition to be preceded by a short fast. It has been found by physiological experiments that cold water increases the amount of acid secreted in the stomach, therefore during this fast warm water should be taken freely.

The patient should begin with a glass of milk every half hour on the very first day. If taken in this way the acid will soon be neutralized and great relief be had very quickly. Should the first milk be vomited, the diet must be immediately resumed according to schedule before there is time for a large secretion of acid. The milk diet must be continued for many weeks and in some severe cases for several months. This is the best remedy I have found for this condition. When the stomach seems to be in better condition the milk may be taken for half a day, and an evening meal consisting of easily digested and non-irritating foods may be tried. If there is very little discomfort the meals may be continued and the milk gradually discontinued. At the first sign of the return of the old symptoms the milk should be taken up again. A general vitality-building regime should at the same time be taken up.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook and Mrs. Streets of Lancaster, O., who have been visiting Mrs. Mildred Simms, and daughter of E. Church St., have returned home.

Mr. William Lawrence of Zion City, is the guest of relatives and friends.

Miss Ray Roberts of New York City, who is visiting her mother,

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Soon after that irritations, Pimples, Blackheads, Eczema, Blisters, Ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. It is a non-greasy, disappearing liquid that may be applied during the day. Ask your druggist for a small size 60c or large bottle $1.00.

Mrs. Grace Roberts, was the guest of Mrs. Homer Taylor of James town today.

Mrs. Rose Ware and daughter Rosella, who have been visiting relatives in Washington C. H., Ohio, have returned home.

MERMAIDS COMPETE IN NATIONAL WATER EVENTS WEDNESDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—For the first time in women's swimming history, the 100 yards may be negotiated in less than minute as the world's fastest mermaids gathered here to compete in the National A. A. U. championships which starts its four-day session in the Sesqui Centennial Lake today.

The present world record for the century distance is sixty and three-fifths seconds, held by Ethel Lackie of the Illinois A. C. She made the mark in the Penn A. C. pool in this city recently.

In the national championships, opposed by other stars, it is predicted Miss Lackie will probably be pushed to a new world's record to stay out in front.

Another record experts say is in jeopardy is the 880-yard free style, Miss Agnes Gersaghty, New York Women's Swimming Association, set a new record last July of twelve minutes fifty-seven and four-fifths seconds in the event at Portsmouth, N. H. Miss Martha Norelius has also bettered the existing record and in the present competition the race between the two should result in a new half-mile mark.

The Sesqui Centennial Lake is 250 yards long and 150 yards wide, in which a 100 meter course has been laid out. The diving events, as in the men's championships last week, will be held in a specially constructed diving pool adjacent to the lake.

BILL HUNNEFIELD REAL SHORTSTOP; REDS LET HIM SLIP

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—To pick the star youngster from that vast horde of minor league ball players who cavort in the various circuits over the country is a real job.

It is only natural that scouts who pick the youngsters sometimes err in their judgment. Sometimes they tout a man as a "peach" who finally proves a "lemon." Then again they pick a "lemon" who bobs up sometime later as a real star with some other club.

An error such as the latter entailed the Chicago White Sox to own at present what is probably the best rookie baseball player of the year.

His name is Bill Hunnefield. Bill, a comparative unknown, has slid into the White Stockings and practically overnight has become one of the best short stops in either league.

Last year the Cincinnati team of the National League made a first payment of $5,000 to the Portland, Ore., team for Hunnefield. However, before completing the transaction, the club decided to send an emissary to look over the youngsters. This emissary is said to have wired back something about a "lemon."

Bill, however, tremendously in himself. At first, Manager Eddie Collins didn't know whether Bill was just a cocky youngster, or a real ball player who had confidence in himself.

Finally Bill Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman was hurt and Collins, looking around to find some one to fill the hole, finally decided on Hunnefield.

The youngster went into the game and made the fans forget all about Kamm's playing. And he it said that Kamm really can play the so-called hot corner. Hunnefield showed them something both in the field and at the bat.

So when the time came for Kamm to go back in the game, there was nothing to do but move Hunnefield to short. He's been there since and in no apparent danger of being displaced.

"COWES WEEK," END OF LONDON SEASON, STARTS ON MONDAY

COWES, Eng., Aug. 4.—"Cowes week," the climax and end of the brilliant "London season" began at ten o'clock this morning.

At that moment a launch was smartly lowered from the royal steam yacht Victoria and Albert and a yachtsman, conspicuous chiefly for a gray, close-trimmed beard, ran down the gangway, stepped aboard the launch and helped a gray-haired lady to negotiate the jump. The esplanade, black with people, set up a cheer. "They" have come, and the famous "week" is now officially begun.

The launch proceeded through the sparkling waters of the roadstead to the venerable weather-beaten pier of the Royal Yacht Squadron where the King of England conducted the Queen of England.

King George has great hopes of lifting some prizes this week with his old-fashioned cutter. She has had a new mast—of Oregon pine and a new set of sails which to the fond eyes of her distinguished owner, smarten her up a lot.

With Prince Henry and the Duke of Connaught the King will sail in all her races. H. M. S. Royal Oak will act as guardship during their Majesties stay here with the destroyer Valorous and the minesweeper Truro in ceremonial attendance.

Tuesday night the King will attend as Admiral, the annual dinner of the Royal Yacht Squadron. It is expected that the King and Queen will, as usual, visit the State Apartments of Queen Victoria at Osborne and that they will honor Princess Beatrice with a visit at Carisbrooke Castle.

American tourists leaving Saturday on the Berengaria and the Tuscania sailed through the entire fleet of yachts forming perhaps the most beautiful picture they have seen in England. The Shamrock, the Lulworth, The American-built schooner Westward and the smart 12—and 6-metre yachts have been weaving endless patterns as they have sailed from the East Lepe Buoy to the Warner Lisle.

Ship trying out new racing sails in preparation for the severe tests of the week. In addition practically every steam yacht available has arrived with guests while the motorboats and the small yachts are too numerous to count.

NO WOMAN CAN KEEP HOUSE EFFICIENTLY Without Good Health

MRS. FRANK DINDORE

625 PIERCE AVENUE, LANCASTER, OHIO

Four Walls Can Make a House, but it takes a Woman to Make a Home

To be a successful homemaker, a woman must guard her health. When mother is not well, the home is upset. Women everywhere are learning through their own personal experiences, as these women did, the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lancaster, Ohio.—"For ten years after my marriage, I had poor health.

I was on a visit to my sister in Utica, Michigan, and she had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Her husband got me a bottle and I took it and felt so much better that I got a second one. Now, whenever I feel run-down I take the Vegetable Compound and soon feel all right again. I have had three little girls in the last six years and do all my housework, sewing, washing, and ironing. My time is pretty well taken up, but I will answer any letters I receive."—Mrs. Frank Dindore, 625 Pierce Avenue, Lancaster, Ohio.

Sturgis, Michigan.—"I am very thankful for what your medicine has done for me and have recommended it to others. I took it to give me strength before my baby was born. I would have to stop work and lie down sometimes all the afternoon. I felt as if I did not care anything was done or not. I got tired out so easily. One day I found a little book on my porch and that night I showed it to my husband and he went down town and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has helped me so much that I was soon able to do my work, and when my baby was born, my nurse, Mrs. Forbes, said it was the easiest birth she had ever attended. I will be more than pleased if I am helping someone else by giving my testimonial."—Mrs. EDWARD PERKINS, 208 Surprise Ave., Sturgis, Michigan.

"CAP" STUBBS—Myrtle's Been Cheated

FIVE BEST RADIO FEATURES

WEDNESDAY
WJZ, New York, 454, and WGY, Schenectady, 350—8:20 p. m., EDT.
New York Philharmonic Orchestra.
WSB, Atlanta, 423—7 p. m., Central Standard, Ford and Glenn.
KGW, Portland, 492, 8:20 p. m.
PCST, Vaudeville Program.
WSAI, Cincinnati, 326, 10:15 p. m.
CST, WSAI String Quartette.
WEAF, Hook Up, 10:00 p. m.
EDT, Old Timers Concert.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK
XENIA LIVESTOCK
(Greene County Livestock Shipping Assn.)

180 down—$13.75@13.50.
180-250—$13@12.50.
200-250—$12@12.50.
250 up—$11.25@11.75.
Packing Sows, $8.99.
Calves, $12.50.
Lams—$12.25.

DAYTON
Receipts 5 cars; market, steady.
Heavies, 200-250 $13.00
Medium, 140-200 13.35
Extreme Heavies 12.50
Sows 8.00@10.00
Pigs, 140 lbs. down 10.00@13.00
Stags 5.00@ 8.00

CATTLE
Receipts, 12 cars; market, steady.
Best fat steers $5.00@9.00
Veal calves 8.00@12.00
Medium butcher steers, 7.00@8.00
Medium butcher 6.00@7.00
Best fat cows 7.00@8.50
Best fat cows 5.50@6.50
Bologna cows, 3.00@4.00

Medium cows, 4.00@5.00
SHEEP
Spring Lambs, $10@12
Sheep 2.00@5.00

GRAIN DAYTON

(By the Durrill Milling Co.)
(Prices being paid for grain at mill.)
Wheat, No. 1, New, $1.30.
Rye, No. 2, 80c per bu.
Corn, $1.00 per 100 lbs.
Oats, per bu., 36c.

XENIA

(By the DeWine Milling Co.)
(Buying Price)
No. 2, Rye, 70c.
Flakey wheat bran, $2.00 cwt.
No. 1, Timothy Hay, $17.
No. 1, light and mixed hay, baled $16.
New Yellow corn, 80c per 100.
No. 2 Red Winter Wheat, $1.30.
Middlings, $2.00 cwt.
No. 2, New White Oats, 35c.

PRODUCE CLEVELAND PRODUCE

POULTRY:
Heavy fowls, 25@27c.
Leghorn fowls, 20@21c.
Leghorn broilers, 25@27c.
Heavy broilers, 25@36c.
Roosters, 15@17 1-2c.
Ducks, 24@26c.
Young ducks, 30c@33c.
Old ducks, 25c@28c.
Geeses, 15@18c.
BUTTER:
Extra in tub lots, 42c.
Extra firsts, 40c@41c.
First, 37 3-8@38c.
Packing stocks, 28c.
EGGS:
Extra, 35c.
Extra firsts, 32c.
Firsts 29c.
Ordinary firsts 25c.
CHEESE:
Old York State—old 30c@32c; new 24c@25c.

Limbarger, Wisconsin, 34c@35c.
New York, 35c.
Swiss fancy—new, 40c@42c; brick, 25c@26c; imported, 55c@ POTATOES:
Virginia, $2.80@4.
Carolina Stove, bbl. $3.65@4 Maryland, $3.85@4.

DAYTON PRODUCE

(Corrected by The Joe Frank Co.)
Butter, 48c.
Eggs, 31c dozen.
Roasting chickens, 40c lb.
Stewing chickens, 40c lb.
1926 Pies, 50c.
Spring Ducks, 45c lb.
Live Hens, 30c lb.
Live Roosters, 18c lb.
1925 Broilers, (alive) 40c lb.

Prices Being Paid at Plant for Live Poultry and Eggs

Chickens, 21c lb.
Eggs, 24c dozen.
Leghorn hens, 18c lb.
1926 Leghorn fries, 25c lb.
Colored fries, 2 lbs. or more 28c.
Colored fries, 28c lb.
Turkeys, 35c lb.
Roosters, 10c lb.
Butter

Retail Prices
(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers' Association)
Butter, 43c wholesale.
XENIA
Hens, 20c.
Light Springers, 34c lb.
Eggs, 25c dozen.
Leghorn springers, 22c.
Big Springers, 26c.
Leghorn Hens, 15c.

Operation Not Successful

"16 years ago I was operated for appendicitis and later operated again for gall stones. Neither did me any good and I suffered all kinds of torture since. Five years ago I took Mayr's and have felt no symptoms of pain since. All stomach sufferers should take it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all ailments, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre's Drug Store and druggists everywhere. adv.

Only Ten Left!! Five of 'em Sold!! Why Lose A $20 Bill!!! (Mack still rarin')

Gentlemen:

Up to last night we sold FIVE of these McD Manure Spreaders! Each man who bought one saved a $20 bill which he at ONCE gave to his wife!!

There are TEN MORE!

Savings are $200!!

An order for one with a small cash payment holds one long enuf for you to rustle about and get the balance of the purchase price.

But they MUST be sold THIS week!

No more reductions

No use in telling HERE about what they'll DO for you, HOW they've been improved for you and I BOTH know its a heap easier for you to come out to the Fair and SEE for yourself.

Further deponent sayeth NOT.

Yours very truly,

WM. B. McCALLISTER, Gen'l Mgr.

Greene County Hardware Company.

up a strong "sales talk" here so I'll DO same. HERE it is:—

There are MANY people who do NOT need a MECHANICAL manure spreader. I will NOT name them HERE.

There are OTHER people who DO need a manure spreader and suffer keenly unless they HAVE one. Such folks as these latter are being given 20 Bucks as a prize for buying one THIS WEEK!!

Further deponent sayeth NOT.

The

Greene County Hardware

Company

By EDWINA

When You Come To The Fair HAVE YOUR SHOES REPAIRED —AT— The Modern Shoe Repair Shop 25 West Main St.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

Daily Rate Per Line for Consecutive Insertions. Cash Charge.
Six days07
Three days05
One day03
Advertisements are restricted to proper classification, style and type. The right is reserved by the Publishers to edit or reject any advertising.
The Xenia Gazette and Republican maintain a staff of clerks ever ready to perform service and render advice on all kinds of advertising.
Advertisements ordered for irregular insertions will be charged for at the one-time rate. No advertisement will be taken for less than the cost of three lines. Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.
The Publishers will be responsible only for one incorrect insertion. Classified Ads will be received until 6 a. m. for publication the same day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 1 Card of Thanks.
- 2 In Memoriam.
- 3 Eulogies, Monuments.
- 4 Tax Service.
- 5 Notices, Meetings.
- 6 Personal Notes.
- 7 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 8 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 9 Dressmaking, Tailoring.
- 10 Beauty Culture.
- 11 Professional Services.
- 12 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 13 Electricians, Wiring.
- 14 Building, Contracting.
- 15 Painting, Papering.
- 16 Repairing, Refinishing.
- 17 Moving, Packing, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 18 Help Wanted—Male.
- 19 Help Wanted—Female.
- 20 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen.
- 22 Situations Wanted.
- 23 Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

- 24 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 25 Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
- 26 Horses—Cattle—Hens.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 27 Wanted To Buy.
- 28 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 29 Musical Instruments—Radio.
- 30 Household Goods.
- 31 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 32 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 33 Where To Eat.
- 34 Rooms—With Board.
- 35 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 36 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 37 Houses—Furnished—Unfurnished.
- 38 Houses—Furnished—Unfurnished.
- 39 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 40 Miscellaneous For Rent.
- 41 Wanted To Rent.

REAL ESTATE

- 42 Houses For Sale.
- 43 Lots For Sale.
- 44 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 45 Farms For Sale.
- 46 Business Opportunities.
- 47 Wanted To Rent.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 48 Automobile Insurance.
- 49 Auto Landings, Painting.
- 50 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 51 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 52 Motorcycles—Bicycles.
- 53 Auto Agencies.
- 54 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

- 55 Auctioneers.
- 56 Auction Sales.

CANDIDATES SUBJECT TO REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

AUGUST 10, 1926.

R. D. WILLIAMSON for STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

GEO. H. ECKLER for AUDITOR, GREENE COUNTY.

RALPH O. WEAD for AUDITOR GREENE COUNTY.

R. O. COFFEY for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

FOREST HURLEY for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

E. F. THOMAS for RECORDER GREENE COUNTY.

JOHN BAUGHN for SHERIFF GREENE COUNTY.

JOS. T. HUTCHISON for TREASURER, GREENE COUNTY.

L. F. CLEVELAND for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

HELEN DODDS for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

MORRIS SHARP for TREASURER GREENE COUNTY.

FLORIST, MONUMENTS 3

CUT FLOWERS—Gladion and asters in bloom—41 O. Loughran, Phone 549W.

NOTICES, MEETINGS 5

NOTICE TO FARMERS—Deliver your cream to Western Ohio Cream Station, Springfield, Ohio. Highest prices, accurate testing. Next door to Post Office.

LOST AND FOUND 7

LOST—black patent leather change purse containing paper money—Call 800, Gazette office. Reward.

LOST KEYS—in leather case. Finder leave at Gazette office.

LOST—Black and white Beagle pup. Information Call 1333, Bake Rite Bakery.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 11

HEMSTITCHING—The Vogue Embroidery Shop, 24 S. Detroit St.

CHIROPDIST—Mrs. R. H. Harwood, 611 E. Second St., 1179-W.

ROOFING, PLUMBING, HEATING 12

PLUMBING WORK—of all kinds, guaranteed—L. W. Coates, Call 999W.

ELECTRICIANS, WIRING 13

STARTER—generator, magneto service—Xenia Storage Battery Co.

PAINTING, PAPERING 15

BLACKBURN BROS.—Painters and Decorators. Estimates cheerfully given—Phone 268L.

REPAIRING, REFINISHING 16

FURNITURE REPAIRING—upholstering and refinishing—Fred Graham, Whitman St.

HELP WANTED—MALE 18

WANTED—A man age 25 to 45 with light car for advertising and sales work for a large nationally advertised company. Territory—Pennsylvania, in Greene County. Prefer a married man accustomed to earning $35.00 per week. Apply by letter for interview to G. H. Lohman, 1126 U. B. Bldg., Dayton, Ohio.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

VACATION TALK

Some folks have gone to Buckeye Lake and some to Kankakee but I must stay at home and bak, no vacation trip for me. My days I spend here in my flat with my angel wife and thomas cat, it isn't half so bad as that, but I long for a good spree.

Bob Kingsbury has gone to northern lakes to lead a life of ease, up there he catches toads and snakes and fights the gnats and bees; he has a little tent chateau out where the bathing beauties go, and now and then he sees a show, that life with me agrees.

Now Joe Finney some early morn will start at break of day to tour past fields of oats and corn to some fine northern bay; past sixty he'll be making, the speed laws he'll be breaking, as he sees the farmers raking in fields of new mown hay.

Rev. Tilford now for many weeks has had a great old time he's fished and waded in the creeks and led a life sublime; each day he far does travel on roads of brick and gravel, while I at home unravel the worries of my time.

The preachers all are snoozing, there is no Sunday preaching vacation trips they're choosing, bad lessons they are teaching for I feel I'm slumping, away I would go humping and on a trip go jumping, and for that trip I'm reaching.

But near the day is creeping when to work I'll say "Adieu" my days I'll spend in sleeping, with cares I'll then be through. Good ralsins I'll be stewing, I'll do my own home brewing, the cat will loud be meowing, for it'll be drinking, too.

So no longer am I weary, no longer am I blue, I dream of old Lake Erie and of 1932, when hard I will endeavor my work from me to sever, and if I'm mighty clever, I might get a vacation too.

IT'S A FACT

Every worker
In this nation
Should go on
A month's vacation.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE 19

SHOEWORKERS—Experienced
fancy stitching, fitting room.
—Xenia Shoe Mfg. Co.

LADIES—See mending exhibit,
Art Hall, Fairgrounds.

WOMEN—Experience unnecessary.
Good job for steady women—
Regal Hotel.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE 20

MEN AND WOMEN OF GREENE
CO.—to take advantage of the special proposition on Delco
Light Plants at the Richman &
Miller display, Greene County Fair.

SITUATIONS WANTED 22

WASHINGS—to do at home by experienced woman—Inquire 935
E. 2nd St.

DOGS, CANARIES, PETS 24

LOST—Beagle pup, Bench legged,
Beagle pup, black and white.
Reward—Phone 264R.

HORSES, CATTLE, HOGS 26

TWO FRESH MILCH COWS—also transparent apples—S. Arthur
Dean, Phone 4076F-15.

WANTED TO BUY 27

2ND HAND SHARPLESS—cream
separator No. 3—Phone 4088F-21.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE 28

CARPENTER'S FLY SPRAY—in
can or bulk—O. W. Everhart,
115 E. Main St.

12-20 RUMLEY—oil pull tractor,
in fine condition. See it at the Huston-Jackett Hardware Co. display at the Greene County Fair.

3 GENUINE USED—Victor victorols—Exchange Dept., Adams

PAID BUGGY—in good condition.
Best price. Best terms. Call 217 E. Market, Phone 132W.

BELTING—second hand. We have a lot of different kinds and sizes
that we are selling very cheap.
We repair belts of all kinds. Electric pumps and washing machine
belts. The stock-taking Co.,
415 W. Main St., Phone 360.

DON'T MISS—Eichman & Miller's display of Frigidaires at the Greene County Fair.

HAY BALER—and engine combined, $100.00—John Harbino,
Allen Building.

BUFFETS AND ROUND TABLES—
Fudge's, 118 S. Detroit St.

GET IT AT DONGES

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, RADIO 29

FLAYER—pianos, small monthly payments—John Harbino, Allen Building.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS 30

CHINA CLOSETS—
Fudge's, 118 S. Detroit.

CONSOLE, BUFFET—and wall mirrors—Fudge's.

OIL STOVES—and gas ranges—
Fudge's, Phone 594W.

BEDS—tables, bureaus, sideboards,
other furniture, range, computing scales, iron safe, two phonographs. Saturday afternoons only—John Harbino, Allen Bldg.

WARDROBES & CHIFFONERS—
Fudge's, Phone 591V.

HOUSES, FLATS, UNFURNISH-
ED 37

FOR RENT—Upper duplex at 213
W. Church St. Five rooms, two porches, modern equipment, recently refurnished. Apply to Grieve & Harness.

6 ROOM COTTAGE—1047 W. 2nd
St. Gas, garage, growing garden divided, $16—M. J. Bebb,
32 E. Market St.

MODERN FIVE ROOM APART-MENT—Centrally located, with bath, electricity, soft water.
Large front and back porch—
Phone 132R.

WANTED TO RENT 41

WANTED TO RENT—room and board by young man within four squares of Bradstreet's grocery.
—Phone 267.

HOUSES FOR SALE 42

A SPLENDID—all year or summer home, 6 room house and small cottage, bath, poultry house, garage, 1 1/2 acres land with garden truck, and shrubbery. Located along river, state highway and traction line—See Grieve and Harness.

FARMS FOR SALE 45

MONEY TO LOAN—on FARMS, at
Five per cent interest. Write
W. L. Clemens, Cedarville, Ohio.

TOM LONG—Real Estate man. I will sell your farm and city properties or will loan you money. See me—No. 9 W. Main St.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 4

International Radio Programs

ETHER'S WHITE-CAPS

5:00 P. M. WSAI (326) Cinc.—Atkinson-Rupp Ladies Quartet from Taylor University.

6:30 P. M. WGY (380) Schenectady—
New York Philharmonic Symphony
Orchestra.

8:00 P. M. WHAD (275) Milwaukee—
Milwaukee Park Band Concert.

9:15 P. M. KOA (322) Denver—Eaton
Park (Colo.) Chamber of Commerce Program.

SILENT STATIONS

Eastern: CNRA, CNRE, CNRR, WBAL, WBFR, WFL, WGBS, WGPC, WHAR, WIP, WPC, WRUC, WRUC Central,
KFDL, KIDS, WCAI, WCB, WFAA,
WGST, WGC, WOA, W. Western: CNRV, KFAU, KGO, WBAF.

EVENING CONCERTS

KJR (385) Seattle. Pops and Trio.

WSAI (326) Cinc. Atkinson Rupp's Ladies quartet, Taylor University.

WLIB (323) Elgin, Ill. Popular.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

WTW (234) Chicago. Family Hour.

WEAF (492) N. Y. Davis Saphrona Octet,
also WGO, WJAR, WTAG, WEEL, WCAE,
WSAI, WCAI, WGB.

WYAT (238) N. Y. Vocal numbers.

were Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs.
James Patterson, of Xenia; Mr.
and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, of Sa-
bina.

Miss Alta Turner had for her guest last week, Miss Eleanor Alexander, of Xenia.

Miss Bernice Harper has returned from Philadelphia, where she visited with her niece, Dr.
Larimer and family and attended
the Sesqui-Centennial.

Mrs. Laura Bryan, of Springfield, was the guest last week of
Mrs. Nellie Myers and family and
Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bryan.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs.
N. N. Hunter entertained a group of women with a luncheon-bridge
honoring her mother and sister,
Mrs. Albert Wickersham and Miss
Katherine who left on Sunday evening for their home at Denver,
after making a delightful visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs.
N. N. Hunter.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Y. Whitehead will leave on the fifth for Bear Lake, Mich., where they will spend a two-week vacation. They will be accompanied by a friend, Mr.
Fred Yount, of Warren, O.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner and daughter, Miss Alta, Miss Eleanor
Alexander, Mr. Russell Reynolds composed a party, who visited the Ohio Caverns, including the French Castles, and other points
of interest last week.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Henry and two sons left on Sunday by motor
for a two-weeks' trip to Niagara
Falls, Canada and in New York
State. Dr. and Mrs. W. T.
Mathews and two sons of New Vienna accompanied them.

Mrs. Nettie Myers will be the hostess to the members of the W.
F

FOLLOWING THE NEWS WITH THE CAMERA

World's Costliest Picture

For $281,300, the highest price for a picture at auction, Sir Joseph Duveen obtained this portrait of Mrs. Davenport, by George Romney, painted in 1872. It may come to America.

Had Affair with Admiral

Lady Margaret Barbara Cruise was divorced in London by Sir Richard Robert Cruise, King George's oculist. His charge that she was guilty of misconduct with Sir Guy Daunt, retired admiral, was not contested.

Leads in Rebuilding Grandeur of Roman Social Civilization

In rebuilding Rome as the world's center of culture Premier Mussolini is not overlooking his human material. Hostesses of charm and distinction are necessary. One of the leaders of Roman society is presented herewith, the Baroness Scaviglia, whose social functions have long been among the most brilliant in the Eternal City.

Indicted

Colonel Ned Green, Prohibition Administrator for the San Francisco District, was indicted for misappropriation of seized liquor.

Prosecutor

Alexander Simpson, State Senator and noted lawyer, was named special prosecutor of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, accused of perpetrating the famous Hall-Mills murder.

Woman Journalist Radios Interviews

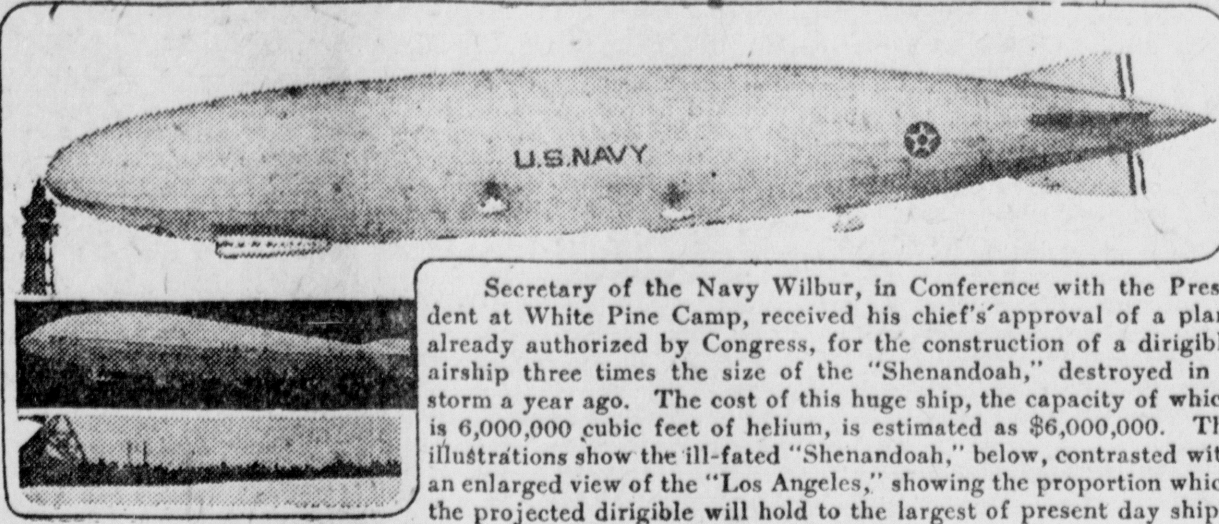

Miss Rose Therese Nagel of New York has interviewed celebrities for her newspaper for ten years. Instead of typewriting them for the printed page she now gives them to the public via radio station WGBS, New York City.

Inquisitive

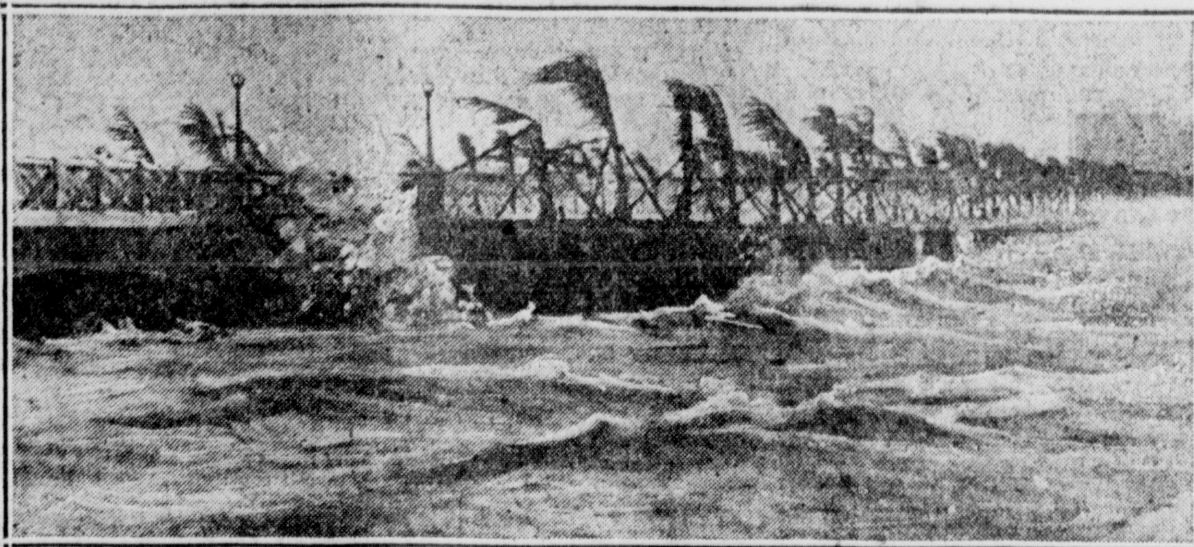

Curious youngsters used this method of obtaining a peep at Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall while she was held in the New Brunswick, N. J., jail for the murder of her husband and a choir singer.

Coolidge Approves Navy's Plan for Giant Dirigible to Be Three Times the Size of the "Shenandoah"

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, in Conference with the President at White Pine Camp, received his chief's approval of a plan, already authorized by Congress, for the construction of a dirigible airship three times the size of the "Shenandoah," destroyed in a storm a year ago. The cost of this huge ship, the capacity of which is 6,000,000 cubic feet of helium, is estimated as $6,000,000. The illustrations show the ill-fated "Shenandoah," below, contrasted with an enlarged view of the "Los Angeles," showing the proportion which the projected dirigible will hold to the largest of present day ships.

In Fury of Florida's Coastal Storm

This picture of the Miami causeway was taken at the height of the storm that swept the coast of Florida. Note the palms bending in the furious gale.

Governors Assemble in Wyoming for Pow-wow

Governors of "these United States" are assembled at Cheyenne, Wyoming, for the regular conference of governors. Above are seen four New England state executives at the convention; left to right:—Governors John G. Winnett, New Hampshire; Ralph C. Brewster, Maine; John H. Trumbull, Conn., and Franklin S. Billings, Vermont.

"Little Gray Home in the West"

Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, was to appear before the Los Angeles Grand Jury to explain evidence unearthed by John Ryan, assistant district attorney. Ryan is shown holding clothes he found in the cottage above, at Carmel, Cal., where a man and woman, identified as Kenneth Ormiston, radio man, and Mrs. McPherson stayed during her disappearance.

"Shame Suicide" Trial On

Former Police Chief Zenaido Llanos (inset), admitted meeting Audrey and Clyde Petet in the Oakland bar (above) at Tia Juana, Mexico, but denied he attacked her. He was on trial on charges growing out of the suicide of the girls and their parents.

Hailed as Modern "Mona Lisa"

Beauty experts agree that in this lovely face resides something of the charm, the undefinable quality of Mona Lisa—wistful, mysterious, and utterly feminine. All that's very well, but the beauty happens to be Ramon Hinds, a Davenport, Ia., high school boy, whose feminine impersonations on the amateur stage have won him much gleeful fame.

Pictorial Capsule Newspaper

FOREIGN: M. Franklin Bouillon, enemy of the French debt settlement, rejected the ambassadorship to Washington. STAGE: Mrs. Lorraine Manville Gould became America's richest actress with the inheritance of her share of the estate of her father, asbestos king. SOCIAL: Lady Astor, American-born member of Parliament, is on her way to the United States, incognito. SPORTS: Harry Hartz held an almost unbeatable lead for the season auto racing championship.

The Gilded Rose

By May Christie

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an over-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother.

FLORENCE RIDGEWAY, an aristocratic old lady, who saw poverty staring her in the face, and chose the easiest way out. Rosilyn loving her husband, knows that he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

STEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway. She is in Paris when the news reaches her of Landis' marriage and she hastens back to the United States. With her goes Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, who has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and when the two reach New York, she suggests that they ask the young Ridgeways to dinner.

She and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby through an apparent misunderstanding Rosilyn and Briscoe will be left alone together, while she will be with her beloved Landis.

Landis, finding himself alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more. Some hours later that evening, Rosilyn who is bewildered to find herself spending the evening in the company of Rupert Briscoe, sees her husband dancing with Lydia—in his eyes a look of rapture. She believes he has seen her but is too rude—or ashamed—to speak. Briscoe asks her to go on to a night-club, and in a mood of recklessness she consents.

In Paris Van Vorst, realizing the reason for Lydia's sudden trip to America and hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta, a dancer and sweet-heart of Briscoe's in connection with a plan. These two arrange to come to New York where Marietta is to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

CHAPTER 37

"Poles Apart"

After her amazing dip into New York night-life, piloted by Rupert Briscoe, young Mrs. Landis Ridgeway—her mind a turmoil of mixed feelings permeated by a strange excitement—went up by the lift to the hotel floor where Landis doubtless would be awaiting her, and the night-porter, with a jangling of keys and a curious sidelong glance at the girl, unlocked the front door leading to their private suite.

"Anything I can get for you madam?" he inquired obsequiously. (Money talked.)

"Nothing." Then, as an afterthought—"Unless my husband wants anything—?"

A tremor had assailed her. How could she face Landis, after the happenings of the night?

"Mr. Ridgeway has not yet returned, madam." The man coughed apologetically.

"Not returned?"

"No, madam. There was a telephone call for him an hour or two ago, and no reply from the rooms. And, since then, I have not seen him."

Rosilyn entered the tiny hallway, groping for the electric switch.

"Let me do that for you madam." The porter went into the sitting room flooding the place with subdued light.

When he had gone, the girl stood hesitant, listening.

Landis not back yet?

The French clock on the mantelpiece pointed to a minute or two beyond half past three!

This the mutual companionship so this—this—was married life? of which she'd fondly dreamed?

A vast silence seemed to enwrap the world. She felt unutterably alone.

Landis—out till all hours with the Harbrook woman!

Landis—to have left her with another man!

He was treating her as no doubt he had always been accustomed to treat girls of her class and breeding.

A wave of anger caught her. Then it passed as suddenly as it had come.

With dragging steps she crossed the apartment to the door leading to her bedroom's bedroom. It stood ajar.

She switched the light on, to reveal the neat mahogany bedstead empty, and the place unoccupied.

Beyond she could see the bathroom, white, with gleaming, nickel gadgets.

She crossed to her own bedroom, undressed hastily, and then—before getting into bed—bolted the door between her and the sitting-room.

Lying in the cool darkness, her mind reverted to the parting words of Rupert Briscoe.

"Little Lady of My Dreams—goodnight!"

No one had ever talked like that to her before. She had never heard that cadence, vibrant with suppressed feeling, in a man's voice.

Ah! if only Landis spoke to her like that!

If only—!

The little wave of anger caught her once again. To have given so much, of love, of longing, and of worldly goods—and to get nothing—nothing—in return!

Tired out, she fell asleep at last, and did not hear her husband's step when he returned from his long session with Lydia Harbrook.

It had terminated in a taxi-ride which Lydia had cleverly engineered. She had pretended to be staying over in New Jersey with a friend, and it was only when the car was well out of New York and the first twitters of the dawn breaking over the lovely countryside that she had confessed her little ruse.

"You do get such attacks of the 'conventions', Landis, that I had to play the timid maiden afraid to go home alone, and so I invented a little story." She had laughed at him, conscious of her potent beauty. "Matter of fact, I'm putting up for a few days at a hotel in town, quite near your own."

In the pale, soft light he looked at her. That little golden head of hers emerged just like a sunflower from the high fur collar of her evening wrap. Her face was like a moonbeam, pallid and elusive, and so beautiful that his breath caught in his throat as he regarded her. Her lips formed a perfect cupid's bow, deliciously reddened. Those lips drew him, lured him on, so that suddenly—his better self defeated by the sheet headiness of the lovely creature at his side—he stooped and kissed her, as often he had kissed her in the days gone by—long—passionately—with a sense of uttermost intoxication.

"You aren't angry with me, Landis darling, for having lured you on this heavenly motor-ride?" Please say you aren't angry?"

"Angry? Oh, Lydia—!" he breathed. Then, to the chauffeur: "Drive on—anywhere—"

The red lips had won.

Tomorrow—Landis Returns.

TAX COLLECTION IN JUNE GREATEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

Tax collection in Greene County for the June installment period amounts to $499,451.74 to date, the largest single collection for June in the history of the county, and when the official total is made up, is expected to exceed the half million mark, County Treasurer Frank A. Jackson announces.

The largest single collection in one day was $93,840, entered on the books July 29, the final day. This amount is about $2,000 under the record set at the last semi-annual collection.

Last December the collection totaled $586,673 but this figure was swelled by various special assessments.

The single day collection record would have been broken this year if the office had been able to handle the accumulation of mail in time, the treasurer says. Delinquents were fewer than expected.

Taxes are still being paid in by taxpayers who neglected or were unable to pay within the restricted period.

The total collection to date this year exceeds the mark set in the corresponding collection in June, 1925 by more than $30,000 as last year's figure was $468,000.

The tax books are to be turned over to the county auditor's office and work will be started soon in making the distributions to the various districts. The actual payment of the tax collections to the districts will be made about August 28.

PROBATING LEGAL COURT HAS UPHELD

Decision of the Probate Court which held that Ralph McAfee, Cincinnati, had received due and legal notice of the probating of the will of his father, Joseph McAfee, late of Cedarville, has been sustained in Common Pleas Court, and probate of the will upheld.

Ralph McAfee sought to have the probate of the will set aside because of a technical omission in the notice received by him.

GIRLS, WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

mon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Quick safe relief CORNS

In one minute your misery from corns is ended. That's what Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads do safely by removing the cause—pressing or rubbing of shoes. You risk no danger of infection. Zino-pads are thin, medicated, antiseptic, protective, healing. At all druggists' and shoe dealer's—35c.

For Free Sample write The Scholl Mfg. Co., Chicago

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads
Put one on—the pain is gone

POLICE GYMKHANA FEATURE OF SESQUI

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—The thrill of a police trooper's life will be exhibited to audiences at the Sesqui Centennial Exposition in the gigantic police Gymkhana which opens its four-day meet at the Municipal Stadium here today.

There will be competitive exhibitions and drills by crack companies of the Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts State Troopers, and in addition, picked squads from the cities of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia were entered.

One of the outstanding features will be a group of the hardy and colorful "Royal Northwest Mounted" here as guests to the Gymkhana from the Canadian border.

CEDARVILLE

The Home Culture Club and husbands held their annual picnic at Antioch Glen, Wednesday afternoon.

The Golden Rule Sunday School Class of the M. E. Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Rosa Smith, Thursday night.

Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Oxley and family are spending a few days with relatives in Licking County.

Mr. Clayton McMillan and family have returned home after a motor trip to Tarkio, Mo., where they have been visiting with Mrs. McMillan's parents for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Watt have for their guests, Rev. W. A. Condon and family of Uhrichsville.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club was entertained this week at the W. J. Tarbox summer camp by Mrs. Tarbox.

Mrs. Mable Randall of Anderson, Ind., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McLean last Sunday.

Rev. LaCade Markle and wife of Gettysburg, O. visited Mrs. Markle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Davis for a few days last week.

Mr. H. H. Brown and family and Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. W. W. Provant left Sunday for Oakwood, O., where they will spend a week visiting friends.

Mrs. Flora Dobbins returned home this week from Oxford, O., where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wiscup.

Mr. and Mrs. Maine Welmer and son Robert of Upper Sandusky, O.

were guests of Mrs. Rosa Smith for a few days last week. Miss Reginald Smith, accompanied them home for a short visit.

Miss Donna Burns had for her guests over the week end, Mr. H. F. Moffett of Mt. Vernon, O., Prof. and Mrs. Paul Sloane of Defiance, O., and Miss Margaret Hill of Montpelier, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swaby and daughter, Doris and Miss Olive Coe are on a motor trip to Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Richie of Pittsburgh came Thursday evening and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huey for a few days.

Mr. G. H. Hartman came into possession of the O. S. Smith property last week and moved into it Wednesday.

The Boy Scouts are at Camp Miami this week under the direction of their scout master, Rev. W. P. Harriman.

The First Presbyterian congregation and Sabbath School held their annual picnic at Snyder Park, at Springfield Wednesday and the United Presbyterian congregation and Sabbath School held their picnic Thursday at Snyder Park. One hundred and fifty were present.

Dr. and Mrs. M. I. Marsh attend the funeral of Mr. W. D. Marsh, a half brother of the doctor at Orversville, Saturday.

Mrs. Hugh Grindle is in Cincinnati for a couple of weeks.

Jean Patton is much improved after being overcome with the heat last week but he is not able yet to leave his room.

Rev. J. S. McMichael and wife of Connorsville, Ind., are here for a visit at the home of Mr. S. M. Murdock. Rev. McMichael is superintendent of the Chautauqua which opens at New Carlisle next week.

Miss Frances McChesney who was one of the successful contestants from the county won a trip to Niagara Falls. She returned home Saturday evening after a delightful trip.

Miss Margaret Galloway, sister of Mr. W. W. Galloway of this place will become the bride of Mr. Wesley Ellsworth Bowman of Chicago. The wedding takes place August 3 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Galloway, Xenia, O.

Mrs. Dora Kerr had for her guest over Monday Miss Bertha Jacks of Dayton.

Mr. E. A. Richards and family have for their guests, Mr. Richards parents from Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas of Indianapolis are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nixon of Dayton, were guests of friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas of Indianapolis, Mrs. Ed Hamilton, Mrs. C. E. Masters and Mrs. Edith Blair spent Monday and Tuesday with friends in Columbus.

Quite a number of ladies from here attended the announcement of Miss Marjorie Wright's approaching marriage to Albert Peterson of Frankfort, O., Friday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. C. Wright in Xenia, O. The marriage will take place August 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Elias are receiving a visit from Mrs. Elias' father, Mr. Sullivan of West Virginia, this week.

take for S.S.S. PIMPLES-BOILS RUN-DOWN CONDITION LOSS OF APPETITE RHEUMATISM

You can take S. S. S. with confidence—millions testify to its merits. An unbroken record of service for over 100 years is a great testimonial to a great medicine.

Remember S. S. S. is made only from fresh roots and herbs.

Peerless

1927 Models

At the Fair

Four Door Sedan	$1750.00
Two Door Sedan	$1700.00
Roadster	$1650.00
Roadster Coupe	$1730.00

Equipped with bumpers, spare tire, snubbers, stop light, moto-meter, rear vision mirror and automatic windshield wiper. Seven main bearings, Lock-Heed Hydraulic four wheel brakes and six inch tires.

THE WICKERSHAM HARDWARE CO

XENIA JAMESTOWN

Phone 973 Phone 8

"Peerless Has Always Been a Good Car"

GAS BUGGIES or HEM AND AMY—Dividends! Dividends!

HEM'S POPULARITY SOARS SKYWARD WHEN HE ANNOUNCES THE FIRST DIVIDEND BY PETRIFIED GAS, AS HE HAD BEEN REQUESTED TO DO BY SMART-AND-COLDGRIP WHEN HE UNKNOWINGLY INTERRUPTED THEIR HASTY PREPARATIONS FOR ABSCONDING WITH THE STOCKHOLDERS' MONEY.

THERE'S NO DENYIN' IT, BATHNOT! HEM IS A FINANCIAL WIZARD. HE THINKS OF IT! A FIFTY PER CENT DIVIDEND.

FIFTY PER CENT! NOTHING! IT'S SEVENTY-FIVE PER CENT! YES, HONEY! A HUNDRED PER CENT!

MR. EBERLE! I WANTCHA TO MEET OUR HEM. THE GUY WITH THE MIDAS MIT. HE'S PAYIN' US A DIVIDEND OF A HUNDRED AND FIFTY PER CENT!

I GUESS THE CLUB AIN'T PROUD OF HEM, OSCAR!

YOU DON'T NEED NO COLLEGE DEGREE TO SPOT HIS BRAINS, EBBY.

NO!

ABSOLUTELY, BLANCHE! NO QUESTION ABOUT IT. HEM SAW THE DOUGH WITH HIS OWN EYES. SACKS OF IT. WE'RE FIXED FOR LIFE. WE'RE INDEPENDENT! AND BELIEVE ME, I LET THE BOSS KNOW IT WHEN HE TRIED TO STOP ME FROM COMING HOME TO TELL YOU.

OH, ED! I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE IT---DEAR OLD HEM---AND JUST YESTERDAY I GAVE HIM SUCH A DIRTY LOOK WHEN HE PASSED. OH DEAR, I MUST RUN RIGHT DOWN TOWN AND GET THAT FUR COAT BEFORE IT'S GONE.

THINKING SHE HADN'T SEEN ME, I NODDED AGAIN, AND SHE KEPT RIGHT ON AS THOUGH I DIDN'T EXIST. I COULD HAVE SLAPPED HER FACE. IMAGINE HER GETTING SO STUCK UP. SHE DIDN'T EARN THE MONEY. IT WAS JUST BY DUMB LUCK THAT THEY HAPPENED TO PICK ON PETRIFIED GAS!

OOOH! OO-OOH!! OO-OO-OOH!! TWO HUNDRED PER CENT!! AND YOU SAID NO WHEN I WAS GOING TO BUY IT---AND I LISTENED TO YOU.

KENNEDY CUTS THE PRICE

On Shoes For The Entire Family

A Clean New Stock To Select From

KENNEDY'S ECONOMY SHOE STORE

To protect food is to protect life!

And Now—Ice Cream Every Day!

Cool, refreshing, healthful, . . . what is so good as a big dish of ice cream on a hot day?

If you buy it from the best dealers it will be made and kept electrically—absolutely pure. Frigidaire ice cream cabinets are a part of the equipment of the up-to-date store—your guarantee that this tempting delicacy will reach you as fresh and wholesome as when it is made.

And in your own home, Frigidaire keeps frozen desserts firm and tasty till you are ready to serve them. If you make them yourself, the freezing compartment does the hard work. This automatic way of making frozen dainties is a far cry indeed from the old ice-and-salt nuisance of the ice cream freezer.

—Another advantage of the constant cold of

Frigidaire

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

Have one this summer. Come in and let us show you the new metal cabinet models or the electric units for your present ice box.

The Dayton Power & Light Co.
Xenia District

Electric Refrigeration means CONSTANT COLD

By BECK